McKeldin Wins Re-Election Demos Near House Control

Fight For Senate In Doubt; Harriman Elected In N. Y.

Usual Off-Year Swing Indicated

[By The Associated Press]

Resurgent Democrats fought their way early today toward control of the U. S. House of Representatives. But they had in sight no better than a Senate tie that would toss the crucial, deciding vote to Vice President Nixon.

In New York state, Democrats toppled the 12-year governorship regime installed by Republican Thomas E. Dewey. For only the second time in 70 years they put their man in the Pennsylvania Statehouse. And they reinstalled their "venerable Veep," Alben W. Barkley, in the Senate from Kentucky.

Millions of Americans, voting in perhaps record off-year numbers, seemed to be saying "no" to President Eisenhower's bid for a completely Republican Congress to back his program in his second two years in the White House.

To some extent, the outcome seemed likely to have a bearing on whether Eisenhower might try for another term in 1956 and on his possibility of winning. That applied also to Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

Democrats went into the election needing a net gain of only two Senate and three House seats to take control of both branches of the 84th Congress.

Demos Win 16 Senate Seats

They apparently were within striking distance of House control but it was a different story with the Senate.

At 1:45 a.m., EST, the Democrats had won 16 seats, 12 of them in the usually Democratic South. With Barkley, they bagged only one Republican seat, from GOP Sen. John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky.

They were victors in Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina 2, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

Republicans had harvested four repeat victories in Kansas, Maine (in a September election) and two in New Hampshire.

Democrats had a net gain of 6 House seats, in Delaware, Indiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and two in Missouri. A Republican was elected in Florida in an upset for the only Republican gain.

Democrats had won 180 seats, Republicans 92.

Democrats were leading in 21 districts now held by Republicans, while the GOP had a lead for five seats now held by Democrats. If those margins hold, Democrats would gain 16 more seats.

In 18 still undecided Senate contests, Democrats led in 7, three now held by Republicans.

Leader Wins In Pa.

The Democrats had elected 14 governors and the Republicans 3 with 17 contests undetermined.

Thus while there seemed to be something of the trend Democrats had predicted in some areas, it failed to show up in other places as strongly as they had predicted.

In large measure, it seemed to be little more than the usual off-year swing to the party out of power.

Besides wresting the Albany, N. Y., governor's mansion from the Republicans, the Democrats edged to a governorship victory in Connecticut so close it could be reversed on later, official tallies.

In the Nutmeg State former Rep. Abraham Ribicoff got 463,000 votes to 460,000 for Republican Gov. John Davis Lodge, brother of Henry Cabot Lodge, the Eisenhower ambassador to the United Nations.

And in Pennsylvania, with the returns mounting past the halfway mark, Democrat George M. Leader, state senator and chicken farmer, defeated Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood for the governor's chair—held by a Democrat only once in 70 years.

As the sobering news for the GOP came in, President Eisenhower, who had laid his prestige on the line in arduous electioneering for a Republican Congress, told a group of his followers at Washington:

"Anyone who went through any struggles in life realizes there must be setbacks. Be it good fortune or bad fortune for the moment, we can in the long run win, and will win."

Politics In Blood

Mrs. William E. Badgett, Knoxville, Tenn., says she has "politics in my blood"—so much that she stopped to mark an absentee ballot at 4 a. m. yesterday before she left for a hospital to give birth to a 7½-pound daughter. Suzette, the Badgett's first girl of three children, was born an hour later.

Stevenson Votes Without Fanfare

HALF DAY, Ill., Nov. 2 (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic candidate for president, voted in today's off-year election without fanfare.

He showed up at a small one-room frame building which served as the polling place for his rural neighborhood, and immediately noticed the name, "Douglas", stamped on the frame of a collapsible voting booth.

"That's a new wrinkle," he said. The booth manufacturer's name is also that of Illinois Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas who is running for reelection.

U. N. Unit Backs "Sharing" Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 2 (AP) — The U.N. Political Committee today approved, 50-5, a plan calling on all countries to help resist aggression by chipping in men, money and supplies to the limit of their abilities.

The Soviet bloc voted against the proposal, which was backed by the Western Big Three. India's V. K. Krishna Menon abstained, saying the U.N. should be turning its attention toward peace instead of studying ways of war. Indonesia also abstained.

The Assembly is expected to approve the plan, which will have only the force of a recommendation. This idea was approved last summer by the U.N. Collective Measures Committee. It was drawn up mainly by the United States to remedy problems which became apparent in the Korean conflict. The United States said some countries had not been able to send troops to Korea because they could not equip and supply them.

Langer Sets Up Group To Probe Youngdahl Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Sen. Langer (R-ND) today set up special Senate Judiciary subcommittee to investigate a government request that Federal Judge Luther W. Youngdahl disqualify himself in the perjury trial of Owen Lattimore, controversial far eastern affairs specialist.

U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover made the move to take Youngdahl off the case, contending the judge had shown bias in favor of Lattimore.

Youngdahl rejected the request with scathing criticism on Oct. 23. He called Rover's affidavit of prejudice "patently and grossly insufficient" and said he could not "escape from the conclusion that the purpose is to discredit in the public mind the final action of our courts or else to intimidate the courts themselves."

Youngdahl had thrown out four counts in a seven-count perjury indictment when Lattimore's case first came before U. S. District Court here. In an appeal to the circuit court of appeals for reinstatement of the four counts, the government won back two but not the cornerstone indictment charging Lattimore was a "sympathizer and promoter of Communist causes."

The government recently obtained a new indictment, in effect replacing the key count of the old one.

Plane, 12 Bodies Found

MALAGA, Spain, Nov. 2 (AP) — Searchers today found the wreckage of a Junker type Spanish air force plane and the charred bodies of its 12 crewmen on a peak in the Ronda Mountains near Malaga.

Disputed Sheppard Juror Due To Be Removed Today

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2 (AP)—A tainted juror is expected to be removed tomorrow from Dr. Samuel Sheppard's murder panel. The elections stalled the trial today.

The juror is James R. Manning, 38, convicted 11 years ago of a sex offense. The state asked his ouster yesterday on grounds he disqualified himself by his failure to reveal his past before he was sworn. The defense demanded proof of Manning's record, and this was being readied.

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin is expected to go along with the juryman's ouster over vigorous defense objections. Ohio law permits a judge to discharge a juror who proves "disqualified" during a trial.

Sheppard, handsome 30-year-old osteopath, is accused of beating his wife, Marilyn, 31, to death last July 4. She was four months pregnant. The maximum penalty for murder in Ohio is death in the electric chair.

Judge Blythin recessed court over election day. He was a candidate for reelection in a nonpartisan judicial race. A candidate for a parallel position on the same bench was Assistant Prosecutor John J. Mahon, handling the Sheppard case for the state.

Mahon yesterday put on record what had been known publicly since last Friday — that Manning got a suspended sentence in 1943 for occupying a car with a 16-year-old boy for purposes of lewdness.

State Voters Back All Nine Amendments

'Home Rule' Proposal Winning By Margin Of 85,760 To 19,769

[By The Associated Press]

Maryland's voters seemed on their way early today to approving all of the nine proposals for amending the constitution of their state on the basis of substantial returns from Baltimore and scattered figures from the counties.

Chief among the proposals for interest was the "home rule" amendment. Approved by the 1954 Legislature after years of effort by local groups, it was supported by the victorious Republican Gov. McKeldin in his campaign. With 553 of the state's 1345 polling places reporting, home rule was winning 85,760 to 19,769.

It would give municipal corporations the right to amend their charters on matters relating to the incorporations the right to amend their charters on matters relating to the incorporation, organization and government of towns and cities. Without the amendment, all municipalities except Baltimore City, which already has home rule, must obtain approval from the Legislature on virtually every basic proposal affecting their general government.

McKeldin Salary May Jump

However, approval of the Legislature would still be necessary before a town could impose any new taxes, change its maximum taxrate limit or alter the State's Sunday liquor laws.

It looked as if Gov. McKeldin's salary would jump to $15,000 a year by the voters' choice. It has been $4,500 — lowest in the nation.

The General Assembly will be able to set the salaries of the Baltimore sheriff and the Secretary of State on the basis of the voting to date. The sheriff's salary has been fixed at $7,500 and the Secretary of State's was pegged at $2,000. The voters were approving the three salary amendments at a better than two to one rate.

With 560 polling places reporting, 56,652 were for the amendment which would assign a circuit judge to every county except on the Eastern Shore. This vote was closer — 46,453 were against the proposal. Under the new arrangement each judge would be elected from his own county.

Other Amendments Approved

The same amendment adds another resident judge to Baltimore and Montgomery Counties, each of which now has two.

Separate amendments for the extra judge for Montgomery and Baltimore counties were also approved by slightly wider margins.

By a 90,735 to 18,195 ratio, in 560 polling places, Marylanders were approving the amendment to extend absentee voting privileges to all, instead of restricting them to members of the armed services.

A proposal to reduce the port development powers of Baltimore City got a 45,520 to 28,848 approval from 468 precincts. Under the old law the city could acquire land and property within its boundaries and in adjoining Howard County near the Patapsco River and tributaries for port development.

France Rushes Troops To Africa

ALGIERS, Algeria, Nov. 2 (AP)—France today sped 5,400 troops as reinforcements for already heavily garrisoned Algeria in an effort to throttle bloody terroristic outbreaks of the last two days.

The clashes, which have been common in the French protectorates of Morocco and Tunisia, overflowed into Algeria, a French department, yesterday. At least 9 persons were killed in 30 concerted predawn attacks by Arab nationalists, while 15 Tunisian guerrillas were reported killed later in the day in a clash at Sidi Youssef near the Algerian border.

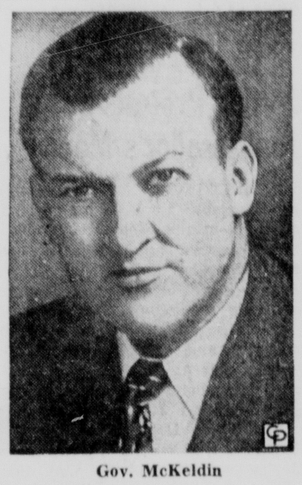

The toll in nationalist attacks and political murders in French North Africa during the last four days was at least 39 killed and more than a score wounded.

Roger Leonard, Algeria's governor general, declared outside forces incited by a pro-nationalist radio station in Cairo, Egypt, had masterminded recent violence in hitherto peaceful areas to support nationalist appeals to the United Nations.

Maryland Victors

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and C. Ferdinand Sybert scored victories in yesterday's Maryland election. McKeldin became the first Republican governor ever re-elected in Maryland as he defeated Democrat H. C. Byrd. Sybert, a Democrat, won over Edward D. E. Rollins, Republican seeking re-election in the attorney general contest.

Ex-Merchant Seaman Admits Halloween Slaying Of Girl, 6

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP)—An unemployed merchant seaman signed a statement tonight admitting the slaying of blonde-haired Karen Mauk, 6, who disappeared while on a Halloween trick-or-treat tour of her neighborhood at nearby Conemaugh.

Cambria County Dist. Atty. Fred Fees said Harry Gossard, 39, signed the statement after a full day of questioning. Gossard, a neighbor of the slain girl, was arrested Sunday.

The little girl's nude body was found shortly after midnight last Friday. It was lying in a cemetery about two miles from her home.

State Police Sgt. James Blair said Gossard, who lived only a few doors from the Mauk home, had been under suspicion almost from the time the body was discovered.

Gossard's arrest was not disclosed until early today. He is being held on "suspicion in connection with the murder," Sgt. Blair said. The sergeant said Gossard refused yesterday to take a lie detector test.

Sgt. Blair replied "no comment" when asked by a newsman about reports Gossard had admitted the slaying.

State police and Cambria county authorities took Gossard today to a cemetery two miles from Conemaugh where the nude body of little Karen, a curly-haired blonde, was found last Friday.

Sgt. Blair declined to comment about the visit to the slaying scene.

An autopsy showed Karen had been suffocated with some bulky object such as clothing, coroner Joseph Govekar said. He added she was not criminally assaulted.

Wearing one of her mother's old dresses, a pair of high heels, an old hat and a false face, the youngster had left her home on a "trick-or-treat" tour of the neighborhood.

Pieces of her tattered Halloween costume were found beside the body. Beside her lay a bag of candy and an apple. Her hands were full of grass, indicating she had struggled violently before she died, state police said.

Neely Re-Elected In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 2 (AP) — Democratic warhorse Matthew M. Neely, who blasted President Eisenhower while many of his party shunned such a frontal assault, won reelection tonight to his fifth term in U. S. Senate.

The 79-year-old orator, a high-voltage figure in West Virginia public life for 31 years, had rolled up a margin of nearly 60,000 votes when Republican Tom Sweeney conceded the election shortly after 11 p.m. More than two-thirds of the state's polling places had reported.

At times in his stormy career, Neely had won elections without any more than token campaigning. But he considered Sweeney, now a three-time loser for the Senate and 30 years his junior, enough of a threat to give this year's campaign the full treatment.

Hotelman Takes Voters To Polls In Wheelbarrow

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP) — Sam Bernstein, owner of a hotel in nearby Saxonburg, said several days ago "I'm going to get the people out to vote if I have to take them in a wheelbarrow."

Today, Bernstein, a Republican, did just that with the help of Democrat Ed Bauman.

They wheeled two hotel residents, Mrs. Agnes Parker and Roy Bernhardt, one block from the hotel to the polls.

The two passengers said they wanted to see if Bernstein would carry out his promise.

Woman Slain, Body Hidden In Woodshed

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—The body of Miss Maggie Lostice, 26, of near Middletown, south of here, was found locked in a woodshed today. Police said she had been beaten to death yesterday.

Ernest Lee Thomas, 33, who employed Miss Lostice as a housekeeper, was being held by police and States Atty. Charles U. Price said a charge of murder would be placed against him tomorrow.

State Police said neighbors became suspicious today when they didn't see Miss Lostice around Thomas's house and called them in to investigate. They said Miss Lostice apparently was beaten to death in the house and then the killer took her body to the woodshed nearby.

Thomas was arrested in Frederick, police said.

Navy's New Convertiplane Makes First Level Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP) — The Convair Convertiplane, built for the Navy, made its first level flight successfully today, its manufacturers announced.

It took off straight up and leveled off to fly forward, then backed down to an easy landing in a 21-minute flight at Brown Naval Auxiliary Air Station near here. The fighter is designated XFY1 by the Navy.

Test pilot J. F. (Skeets) Coleman was at the controls for the manufacturers, Convair division of General Dynamics Corp.

A Convertiplane—the Navy does not recognize the nickname "Pogo Stick"—is an aircraft that can take off and land vertically, like a helicopter, yet can fly forward at good speeds like an airplane.

No announcement was made of the forward speed reached by the XFY1 today.

Today's test was the first transition in air to horizontal flight although vertical takeoffs and landings have been made since Sept.1.

Another Convertiplane being developed for the Navy by Lockheed Aircraft at Burbank, Calif., has been given taxi tests on a special undercarriage in a horizontal position.

The XFY1 nosed over to the level at an altitude of 175 feet today a few seconds after it had taken off from a runway, Convair said. It picked up level flight speed quickly, turned and came back over the field. Coleman pointed the nose skyward and landed.

Md. Democrats Regain Edge In Congress Seats

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin scored a smashing personal victory tonight in becoming the first Republican governor ever re-elected in Maryland.

He defeated Democrat H. C. Byrd, former University of Maryland president, in the face of a trend which saw the Democrats regain from the Republicans at least a 4-3 edge in seats to Congress.

Republicans led in three other races in which returns were slow.

But just as early as McKeldin's triumph came the defeat of his running mate, Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins, at the hands of Democrat C. Ferdinand Sybert, former Speaker of the House of Delegates.

Returns from 1,095 of the State's 1,345 polling places gave McKeldin 331,754 votes to 273,739 for Byrd.

With 1,067 polling places reporting, Sybert led Rollins by 266,950 to 230,719.

McKeldin won with a record-breaking 96,000 majority in 1950, when he defeated Democrat William Preston Lane Jr.'s bid for reelection. In that year Democrats were split by a fierce primary in which Lane won the nomination on the basis of unit votes—similar to electoral college votes—while his opponent edge him out in popular votes.

The Democrats went into this election without such apparent discord as that which preceded the 1950 race, even though Byrd's primary battle with George P. Mahoney—the same man who lost to Lane in the 1950 primary—had been fierce and was contested in the courts.

McKeldin and Byrd had run campaigns unusually bitter for Maryland gubernatorial fights, but neither had emphasized national issues, as had the congressional candidates.

Byrd, who resigned as university president last January to make his first political race, had hurled eleventh-hour charges of bribery in McKeldin's administration.

McKeldin had called the attacks "absurd and unfounded" and said Byrd had switched "from cowardly innuendo to outright lying." He made a statement linking Byrd to pro-segregationists.

National GOP Headquarters Visited By Ike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower paid a surprise visit tonight to Republican national headquarters in downtown Washington a few blocks from the White House.

Asked if he saw any straws in the wind yet, Eisenhower said:

"Oh, no. I don't know anything yet.

"I just came up here to see this headquarters and thank these people who have been working so hard."

Eisenhower was escorted through headquarters, where the Republican National Committee staff was preparing to tabulate the night's returns, by National Chairman Leonard Hall.

Pausing before a big blackboard showing the Senate races in 38 states — counting Maine which elected in September—Eisenhower asked Hall how many governors were being elected, and was told 34—again counting Maine.

22-Minute Visit

Eisnhower stayed only briefly before the board, posing for photographs, and then went on through the office suite. But he turned back and came through a second time with Hall, who took the President into Hall's private office in a small room behind the blackboard.

Eisenhower left the headquarters after a visit of approximately 22 minutes.

On his way to headquarters and his return walk through the office suite, Eisenhower stopped, smiled, shook hands, and chatted with the party workers who crowded around him.

The visit was recorded by seven TV cameras. A crowd of reporters and still cameramen also were present.

Ike Dines With Humphrey

Eisenhower planned to return to the White House, pick up Mrs. Eisenhower, and then drive to the home of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey for dinner.

Along with the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Secretary and Mrs. Humphrey asked Robert J. Cutler, White House aide in charge of national security matters, to dinner.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to questions that no special arrangements had been made for election returns to be received at the Humphrey residence.

That meant the President probably would get the results on television and radio, just as millions of other Americans were getting them.

Republican Rep. Small Unseated By Lankford

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Democrat Richard E. Lankford, 40-year-old Annapolis attorney and legislator, was elected to Congress tonight over Republican Rep. Frank Small Jr., who had beat him by less than a thousand votes in the Eisenhower landslide two years ago.

From the way other races were going, this appeared to swing the margin to Democrats 4-3 in the state's seven-man delegation, the same edge by which Republicans had controlled it.

Three Republican incumbents, Reps. Edward T. Miller, James P. S. Devereux and Dewitt S. Hyde, were still leading in their districts, but Miller and Hyde were still in close races.

The Democratic incumbents, Reps. George H. Fallon, Edward A. Garmatz and Samuel N. Friedel, all of Baltimore, had already won reelection.

Miller held a margin of 1,967 votes over Democratic State Sen. Edward Turner with 71 of the First District's 181 polling places still to be heard from.

Devereux had rolled up a margin of nearly 13,000 votes to virtually assure his election over former Democratic Rep. William P. Bolton in the Second District on the basis of two thirds the returns completed.

In the Sixth District, Democrat Edward J. Ryan, a Frostburg attorney, was still in a fairly close race against Hyde. With 156 out of 296 polling places reported, Hyde had 48,529 to 43,965 for Ryan with a good bit of the western Maryland vote still incomplete.

However, approval of the Legislature would still be necessary before a town could impose any new taxes, change its maximum tax-rate limit or alter the State's Sunday liquor laws.

It looked as if Gov. McKeldin's salary would jump to $15,000 a year by the voters' choice. It has been $4,500 — lowest in the nation.

The General Assembly will be able to set the salaries of the Baltimore sheriff and the Secretary of State on the basis of the voting to date. The sheriff's salary has been fixed at $7,500 and the Secretary of State's was pegged at $2,000. The voters were approving the three salary amendments at a better than two to one rate.

With 560 polling places reporting, 56,652 were for the amendment which would assign a circuit judge to every county except on the Eastern Shore. This vote was closer — 46,453 were against the proposal. Under the new arrangement each judge would be elected from his own county.

Other Amendments Approved

The same amendment adds another resident judge to Baltimore and Montgomery Counties, each of which now has two.

Separate amendments for the extra judge for Montgomery and Baltimore counties were also approved by slightly wider margins.

By a 90,735 to 18,195 ratio, in 560 polling places, Marylanders were approving the amendment to extend absentee voting privileges to all, instead of restricting them to members of the armed services.

A proposal to reduce the port development powers of Baltimore City got a 45,520 to 28,848 approval from 468 precincts. Under the old law the city could acquire land and property within its boundaries and in adjoining Howard County near the Patapsco River and tributaries for port development.

France Rushes Troops To Africa

ALGIERS, Algeria, Nov. 2 (AP)—France today sped 5,400 troops as reinforcements for already heavily garrisoned Algeria in an effort to throttle bloody terroristic outbreaks of the last two days.

The clashes, which have been common in the French protectorates of Morocco and Tunisia, overflowed into Algeria, a French department, yesterday. At least 9 persons were killed in 30 concerted predawn attacks by Arab nationalists, while 15 Tunisian guerrillas were reported killed later in the day in a clash at Sidi Youssef near the Algerian border.

The toll in nationalist attacks and political murders in French North Africa during the last four days was at least 39 killed and more than a score wounded.

Roger Leonard, Algeria's governor general, declared outside forces incited by a pro-nationalist radio station in Cairo, Egypt, had masterminded recent violence in hitherto peaceful areas to support nationalist appeals to the United Nations.

Maryland Victors

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and C. Ferdinand Sybert scored victories in yesterday's Maryland election. McKeldin became the first Republican governor ever re-elected in Maryland as he defeated Democrat H. C. Byrd. Sybert, a Democrat, won over Edward D. E. Rollins, Republican seeking re-election in the attorney general contest.

Ex-Merchant Seaman Admits Halloween Slaying Of Girl, 6

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP)—An unemployed merchant seaman signed a statement tonight admitting the slaying of blonde-haired Karen Mauk, 6, who disappeared while on a Halloween trick-or-treat tour of her neighborhood at nearby Conemaugh.

Cambria County Dist. Atty. Fred Fees said Harry Gossard, 39, signed the statement after a full day of questioning. Gossard, a neighbor of the slain girl, was arrested Sunday.

The little girl's nude body was found shortly after midnight last Friday. It was lying in a cemetery about two miles from her home.

State Police Sgt. James Blair said Gossard, who lived only a few doors from the Mauk home, had been under suspicion almost from the time the body was discovered.

Gossard's arrest was not disclosed until early today. He is being held on "suspicion in connection with the murder," Sgt. Blair said. The sergeant said Gossard refused yesterday to take a lie detector test.

Sgt. Blair replied "no comment" when asked by a newsman about reports Gossard had admitted the slaying.

State police and Cambria county authorities took Gossard today to a cemetery two miles from Conemaugh where the nude body of little Karen, a curly-haired blonde, was found last Friday.

Sgt. Blair declined to comment about the visit to the slaying scene.

An autopsy showed Karen had been suffocated with some bulky object such as clothing, coroner Joseph Govekar said. He added she was not criminally assaulted.

Wearing one of her mother's old dresses, a pair of high heels, an old hat and a false face, the youngster had left her home on a "trick-or-treat" tour of the neighborhood.

Pieces of her tattered Halloween costume were found beside the body. Beside her lay a bag of candy and an apple. Her hands were full of grass, indicating she had struggled violently before she died, state police said.

Neely Re-Elected In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 2 (AP) — Democratic warhorse Matthew M. Neely, who blasted President Eisenhower while many of his party shunned such a frontal assault, won reelection tonight to his fifth term in U. S. Senate.

The 79-year-old orator, a high-voltage figure in West Virginia public life for 31 years, had rolled up a margin of nearly 60,000 votes when Republican Tom Sweeney conceded the election shortly after 11 p.m. More than two-thirds of the state's polling places had reported.

At times in his stormy career, Neely had won elections without any more than token campaigning. But he considered Sweeney, now a three-time loser for the Senate and 30 years his junior, enough of a threat to give this year's campaign the full treatment.

Hotelman Takes Voters To Polls In Wheelbarrow

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP) — Sam Bernstein, owner of a hotel in nearby Saxonburg, said several days ago "I'm going to get the people out to vote if I have to take them in a wheelbarrow."

Today, Bernstein, a Republican, did just that with the help of Democrat Ed Bauman.

They wheeled two hotel residents, Mrs. Agnes Parker and Roy Bernhardt, one block from the hotel to the polls.

The two passengers said they wanted to see if Bernstein would carry out his promise.

Woman Slain, Body Hidden In Woodshed

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—The body of Miss Maggie Lostice, 26, of near Middletown, south of here, was found locked in a woodshed today. Police said she had been beaten to death yesterday.

Ernest Lee Thomas, 33, who employed Miss Lostice as a housekeeper, was being held by police and States Atty. Charles U. Price said a charge of murder would be placed against him tomorrow.

State Police said neighbors became suspicious today when they didn't see Miss Lostice around Thomas's house and called them in to investigate. They said Miss Lostice apparently was beaten to death in the house and then the killer took her body to the woodshed nearby.

Thomas was arrested in Frederick, police said.

Navy's New Convertiplane Makes First Level Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP) — The Convair Convertiplane, built for the Navy, made its first level flight successfully today, its manufacturers announced.

It took off straight up and leveled off to fly forward, then backed down to an easy landing in a 21-minute flight at Brown Naval Auxiliary Air Station near here. The fighter is designated XFY1 by the Navy.

Test pilot J. F. (Skeets) Coleman was at the controls for the manufacturers, Convair division of General Dynamics Corp.

A Convertiplane—the Navy does not recognize the nickname "Pogo Stick"—is an aircraft that can take off and land vertically, like a helicopter, yet can fly forward at good speeds like an airplane.

No announcement was made of the forward speed reached by the XFY1 today.

Today's test was the first transition in air to horizontal flight although vertical takeoffs and landings have been made since Sept.1.

Another Convertiplane being developed for the Navy by Lockheed Aircraft at Burbank, Calif., has been given taxi tests on a special undercarriage in a horizontal position.

The XFY1 nosed over to the level at an altitude of 175 feet today a few seconds after it had taken off from a runway, Convair said. It picked up level flight speed quickly, turned and came back over the field. Coleman pointed the nose skyward and landed.

Md. Democrats Regain Edge In Congress Seats

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin scored a smashing personal victory tonight in becoming the first Republican governor ever re-elected in Maryland.

He defeated Democrat H. C. Byrd, former University of Maryland president, in the face of a trend which saw the Democrats regain from the Republicans at least a 4-3 edge in seats to Congress.

Republicans led in three other races in which returns were slow.

But just as early as McKeldin's triumph came the defeat of his running mate, Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins, at the hands of Democrat C. Ferdinand Sybert, former Speaker of the House of Delegates.

Returns from 1,095 of the State's 1,345 polling places gave McKeldin 331,754 votes to 273,739 for Byrd.

With 1,067 polling places reporting, Sybert led Rollins by 266,950 to 230,719.

McKeldin won with a record-breaking 96,000 majority in 1950, when he defeated Democrat William Preston Lane Jr.'s bid for re-election. In that year Democrats were split by a fierce primary in which Lane won the nomination on the basis of unit votes—similar to electoral college votes—while his opponent edge him out in popular votes.

The Democrats went into this election without such apparent discord as that which preceded the 1950 race, even though Byrd's primary battle with George P. Mahoney—the same man who lost to Lane in the 1950 primary—had been fierce and was contested in the courts.

McKeldin and Byrd had run campaigns unusually bitter for Maryland gubernatorial fights, but neither had emphasized national issues, as had the congressional candidates.

Byrd, who resigned as university president last January to make his first political race, had hurled eleventh-hour charges of bribery in McKeldin's administration.

McKeldin had called the attacks "absurd and unfounded" and said Byrd had switched "from cowardly innuendo to outright lying." He made a statement linking Byrd to pro-segregationists.

National GOP Headquarters Visited By Ike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower paid a surprise visit tonight to Republican national headquarters in downtown Washington a few blocks from the White House.

Asked if he saw any straws in the wind yet, Eisenhower said:

"Oh, no. I don't know anything yet.

"I just came up here to see this headquarters and thank these people who have been working so hard."

Eisenhower was escorted through headquarters, where the Republican National Committee staff was preparing to tabulate the night's returns, by National Chairman Leonard Hall.

Pausing before a big blackboard showing the Senate races in 38 states — counting Maine which elected in September—Eisenhower asked Hall how many governors were being elected, and was told 34—again counting Maine.

22-Minute Visit

Eisnhower stayed only briefly before the board, posing for photographs, and then went on through the office suite. But he turned back and came through a second time with Hall, who took the President into Hall's private office in a small room behind the blackboard.

Eisenhower left the headquarters after a visit of approximately 22 minutes.

On his way to headquarters and his return walk through the office suite, Eisenhower stopped, smiled, shook hands, and chatted with the party workers who crowded around him.

The visit was recorded by seven TV cameras. A crowd of reporters and still cameramen also were present.

Ike Dines With Humphrey

Eisenhower planned to return to the White House, pick up Mrs. Eisenhower, and then drive to the home of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey for dinner.

Along with the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Secretary and Mrs. Humphrey asked Robert J. Cutler, White House aide in charge of national security matters, to dinner.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to questions that no special arrangements had been made for election returns to be received at the Humphrey residence.

That meant the President probably would get the results on television and radio, just as millions of other Americans were getting them.

Republican Rep. Small Unseated By Lankford

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Democrat Richard E. Lankford, 40-year-old Annapolis attorney and legislator, was elected to Congress tonight over Republican Rep. Frank Small Jr., who had beat him by less than a thousand votes in the Eisenhower landslide two years ago.

From the way other races were going, this appeared to swing the margin to Democrats 4-3 in the state's seven-man delegation, the same edge by which Republicans had controlled it.

Three Republican incumbents, Reps. Edward T. Miller, James P. S. Devereux and Dewitt S. Hyde, were still leading in their districts, but Miller and Hyde were still in close races.

The Democratic incumbents, Reps. George H. Fallon, Edward A. Garmatz and Samuel N. Friedel, all of Baltimore, had already won reelection.

Miller held a margin of 1,967 votes over Democratic State Sen. Edward Turner with 71 of the First District's 181 polling places still to be heard from.

Devereux had rolled up a margin of nearly 13,000 votes to virtually assure his election over former Democratic Rep. William P. Bolton in the Second District on the basis of two thirds the returns completed.

In the Sixth District, Democrat Edward J. Ryan, a Frostburg attorney, was still in a fairly close race against Hyde. With 156 out of 296 polling places reported, Hyde had 48,529 to 43,965 for Ryan with a good bit of the western Maryland vote still incomplete.

Pro-Segregation Proposals Head Big List Of Referenda

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two proposals to continue school segregation in the deep South highlighted a record list of special issues decided today by voters of 37 states.

In all, they balloted on 232 constitutional amendments and special proposals, while also electing state and national officeholders.

The issues ranged from Michigan's fight over legalizing bingo for charitable organizations to a California plan for raising maximum old age pensions from $80 to $100 monthly.

Louisiana and Michigan citizens voted on special Korean War bonuses. In several states there was the question of whether to borrow millions of dollars for public projects. Fourteen states considered raising wages or changing working conditions for state officials.

Louisiana and Georgia voted on proposals frankly designed to bypass any Supreme Court order to carry out its May decision that segregation of white and Negro children in public schools is unconstitutional. The court is expected to decide how to implement this decision after hearing plans from interested parties in December.

Louisiana voters had before them a proposed amendment to the constitution to provide for continued segregation in elementary and secondary schools, under the police power given the states by the 10th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The high court's ruling was based upon the 14th Amendment.

The Louisiana proposal also called for a special election to consider the next step, if one is deemed necessary.

In Georgia, the issue was a proposal to permit granting of state funds to individuals for educational purposes, thus paving the way for eliminating the public school system in favor of state-supported schools.

ENSIGN Cornelius P. Collins, Jr., 22, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was among the 33 men, four women and five children aboard the Navy Constellation transport "presumed lost" in the Atlantic. The giant plane was en route from Maryland to the Azores, 2,600-miles away, when it disappeared. Final destination was Africa. (International)

Children Aid U.N. Fund

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 2 (AP) More than 200 school children, wearing orange arm bands and clutching banks made of milk containers, trooped to the U.N. today to deposit pennies they collected over Halloween for the United Nations Children's Fund.

Officials estimated more than $100,000 was collected during the weekend "trick or treats" by about a million youngsters in 4,500 American communities.

Massive Air-Sea Hunt For Missing Plane Continues

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Search craft criss-crossed choppy waters of the Atlantic Ocean today in a desperate search for a big Navy plane missing since Saturday.

Forty two persons, including wives and children of servicemen, were aboard.

The search continued amid several apparently false reports of flare and debris sighting and SOS signals. A spokesman for the Eastern Sea Frontier Commond, which coordinates the search, said all checks failed to locate any sign of the missing plane.

The aircraft carrier Leyte reported it was receiving possible distress signals approximately 350 miles east southeast of Cape Cod. The carrier sent airplanes to investigate.

The lost Navy superconstellation left Patuxent, Md., Saturday night bound for North Africa. First stop was to be the Azores, where some of the passengers were to change planes.

The missing plane was last heard from 90 minutes after its takeoff, when it was some 480 miles east of Baltimore.

The craft had enough fuel to last until 10 a.m. Sunday.

Adenauer Loses Ally In Coalition

BONN, Germany, Nov. 2 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, facing the toughest political crisis of his career, tonight lost another of his coalition allies in the parliamentary rebellion against his French-German agreement on the Saar.

The Refugee party, third largest in Adenauer's four-party government, announced it rejects the Saar agreement "in its present form." The agreement would "Europeanize" the Saar—German before World War II—while leaving it economically tied to France.

This decision will deprive Adenauer of 27 critical votes in the showdown battle in Parliament unless the Chancellor persuades the Refugee party to reverse its position.

The Free Democrats, second largest party in the Adenauer coalition, and some members of the Chancellor's own Christian Democratic party (CDU), already have rebelled against the Saar agreement.

The German party, fourth member of the coalition with 15 seats in Parliament, said tonight it would not decide on the Saar pact until Adenauer clarifies several points.

Jordan Protests U. S. Ambassador's Move

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Jordan's ambassador protested strongly to the State Department today against any move by the new American ambassador to Israel to travel to Jerusalem to present his credentials.

The United States and many other countries maintain embassies at Tel Aviv, even though Israel moved its Foreign Office to Jerusalem on July 12, 1953.

The State Department has refused to transfer its diplomats to Jerusalem on grounds that this would be "inconsistent" with a United Nations resolution specifying that Jerusalem is an international city.

Jordan's ambassador, Abdul Monem Rifai, said even a trip to Jerusalem by American Ambassador Edward B. Lawson to present his credentials "will have serious implications and repercussions throughout the Middle East."

The State Department has not indicated whether such a trip was under discussion. No precedent exists, since the Foreign Office was moved only last year.

Pioneer Aviatrix Dies At Austin, Tex.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 2 (AP)—Aviatrix Mrs. Dory's-Mary Stokes, 46, the first woman to fly from Capetown, South Africa, to London, England, died in an Austin hospital last night.

Mrs. Stokes, who in her adventure-filled life survived an air crash, months on the front line during World War II, and being buried alive in a London bombing, succumbed to the after effects of a cerebral hemorrhage.

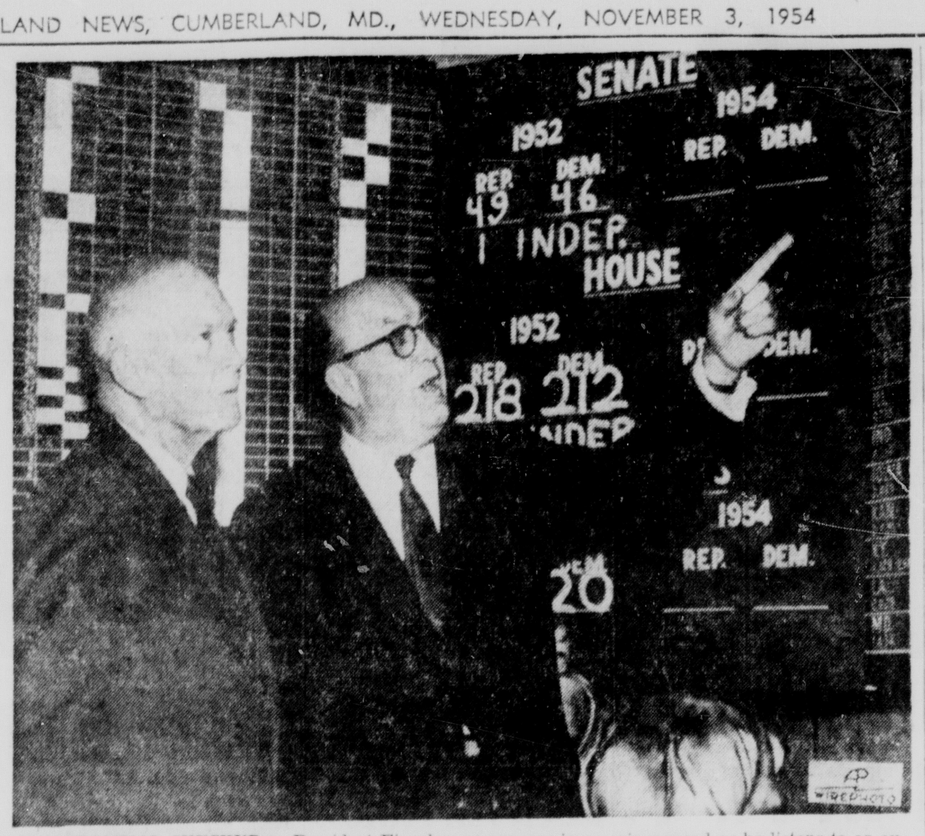

She was employed as a research assistant in the cancer research laboratory at the University of Texas.

Three Missing Deer Hunters Are Located

AUGUSTA, Maine, Nov. 2 (AP)—Three deer hunters missing overnight in widely separated sections of Maine were found today by game wardens using airplanes and radios.

The hunters are Carroll Kinsey, 43, of Thurmont, Md.; George Lentoni, 25, of Natick, Mass.; and Joseph Bedard, 27, of Saco.

Kinsey, who became lost during a sudden snowstorm, was found on the shore of little Chesuncook Pond in the Rainbow Lake region, a few miles west of Mt. Katahdin in northern Piscataquis County. Wardens in a plane saw his tracks in the fresh snow.

Greeks Believed To Have Used Secret Ballot First

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Nobody knows when the first election was held.

Apparently as soon as men got together, they started voting.

Even the early kings ran into situations in which they figured it might be smart to see what the boys in the back ranks would have. They sometimes voted in a way that would be frowned upon in most well-run precincts today, by banging on their shields with their swords.

The Greeks are believed to be the first to have had a secret ballot. Even they voted with a show of hands on matters of general interest. But when it came to an individual—Should he be ostracized? Should he win his lawsuit?—the Athenians voted by dropping shells or pebbles into an urn.

The word "vote," by the way, was slow making its way into English. It is from the Latin "votum," meaning a vow or a desire.

The early colonists usually voted aloud. But Massachusetts gave a hint of what was to come by using paper ballots as early as 1634. Frugal fellows, those pilgrim fathers. Each voter had to bring along his own piece of paper.

City folks who went to the polls today may not have realized why they were voting at this particular time of year. Simple, though, really. It's because it's early enough that the roads are still passable, and late enough that the crops are in.

The date was selected 100 years ago for that reason by Alexander Duncan, an Ohio medical doctor turned congressman. He figured early in November was just right. "Public sentiment has appointed this time," he said.

And except for Maine, which still holds its congressional and state elections early, public sentiment has agreed with what the doctor ordered.

Most countries bar aliens, convicts and lunatics from their elections. For a time England wouldn't let anyone on relief vote either.

Europeans like to hold their elections on Sundays or holidays. Not so in England. A fellow writing in the Encyclopaedia Britannica says of Sunday voting:

"In Great Britain a characteristic muddle-headedness has so far prevented its adoption."

Why more people don't vote always has puzzled political scientists. In 1923 a study was made to find out exactly why 5,000 persons had stayed away from a mayoralty race in Chicago. It showed the usual reasons — indifference, illness, disgust with politics — plus an unusual one.

Fourteen said they had not voted because they were afraid they would have to tell how old they were.

Washington Star Prints Editorial Bordered In Black

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Evening Star in voteless District of Columbia today published a four-column editorial bordered in black and captioned:

"The day, Nov. 2, 1954.

"To the un-Americanized Americans of the district, a day of humiliation and mourning.

"To other Americans, a day of national enthusiasm and patriotic pride."

The editorial, written by the late Theodore W. Noyes, editor of the Star, has been printed regularly on national election days many years.

Batista Receives 87 Per Cent Vote

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 2 (AP)—Latest semiofficial returns today gave Fulgencio Batista, the winner in Cuba's presidential election, nearly 87 per cent of the vote.

The count, from 7,729 of the republic's 8,321 polling places, was 1,220,389 for President Batista to 177,423 for ex-President Ramon Grau San Martin.

The official count by the Superior Electoral Tribunal was trailing far behind the semiofficial tally. The tribunal's latest figures for 2,468 polling places gave Batista 393,328 to 62,828 for Grau.

Grau, 72-year-old opposition leader, pulled out of the race only 12 hours before Monday's voting began, claiming government "persecution" made it impossible for his Cuban Revolutionary party to have a fair chance. He told his supporters to boycott the election, but names of all Revolutionary party candidates including his own remained on the ballots in the presidential, congressional, state, and municipal elections.

Batista, Cuba's 53-year-old strong man, seized the government in a bloodless coup more than two years ago. He decided to run for election as a constitutional president. Batista previously held power after leading a successful revolution in 1933 when he was an army staff sergeant.

Britain 'Undermining' U. S., Ellender Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) says Britain is "undermining us" abroad.

"The United Kingdom is undermining us by saying we're immature, not capable to lead," Ellender told a news conference here Monday after returning from a 2½ months tour of 33 countries in Europe, the Middle East, Asia and North Africa.

Ellender said he favors a reduction of the U.S. foreign aid program.

The senator said he learned Britain is using her influence, with much success, against a U.S. program of selling farm products to other nations on a basis which would not involve their scarce dollar supply. The United States idea is to accept their currency, and buy back other items from them with the money.

Wilbur Shaw Buried Near His Home Town

VERNON, Ind., Nov. 2 (AP)—Wilbur Shaw, the self-made force behind the 500-mile Indianapolis auto race, was buried today on a frozen hilltop above his home town.

The great of auto racing and the auto industry gathered in final tribute to a friendly, energetic little man whose steel nerve carried him to three 500-mile victories before he became track manager.

Just before the plane crash that brought death to Shaw at 51 last Saturday, he had finished an automobile test drive at Detroit with a quip, "This is safer than flying an airplane."

Three Belgian Generals Held

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 2 (AP)—Police said today three Belgian generals in the army reserve were being held in solitary confinement on charges involving alleged misappropriation of public funds. A magistrate ordered solitary confinement because the case may involve defense secrets, police added.

Police named the three as Gen. Camille Grimart, who was in charge of establishment of the pipeline built for NATO linking Antwerp with Trier; Gen. Jules Maroye, manager of a Belgian pipeline company which participated in the construction; and Gen. Chevalier Paul Jacquet de Haves-Kercke.

Newspaper accounts quoted police as saying that organizations supplying the Defense Ministry had approached certain officials seeking contract advantages. An investigation followed.

The three generals will appear before a closed session of court next Wednesday to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to hold them.

Las Vegas Hotel Sold

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 2 (AP)—Sale of the Flamingo Hotel for approximately nine million dollars was announced today.

The 400-room hotel with its gambling casinos was bought by a group of businessmen from Gus Greenbaum and his partners.

Barkleys Await Their Turn To Vote

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 2 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alben W. Barkley found a long line waiting when they went to their polling place to vote today.

They spent about five minutes waiting in the cold and then moved inside to await their turn.

For the benefit of newsreel cameramen, Barkley asked his wife how she was voting. Then he wouldn't let her answer because "this is a secret ballot."

Barkley, a former senator and vice president, was the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Jordan's ambassador protested strongly to the State Department today against any move by the new American ambassador to Israel to travel to Jerusalem to present his credentials.

The United States and many other countries maintain embassies at Tel Aviv, even though Israel moved its Foreign Office to Jerusalem on July 12, 1953.

The State Department has refused to transfer its diplomats to Jerusalem on grounds that this would be "inconsistent" with a United Nations resolution specifying that Jerusalem is an international city.

Jordan's ambassador, Abdul Monem Rifai, said even a trip to Jerusalem by American Ambassador Edward B. Lawson to present his credentials "will have serious implications and repercussions throughout the Middle East."

The State Department has not indicated whether such a trip was under discussion. No precedent exists, since the Foreign Office was moved only last year.

Pioneer Aviatrix Dies At Austin, Tex.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 2 (AP)—Aviatrix Mrs. Dory's-Mary Stokes, 46, the first woman to fly from Capetown, South Africa, to London, England, died in an Austin hospital last night.

Mrs. Stokes, who in her adventure-filled life survived an air crash, months on the front line during World War II, and being buried alive in a London bombing, succumbed to the after effects of a cerebral hemorrhage.

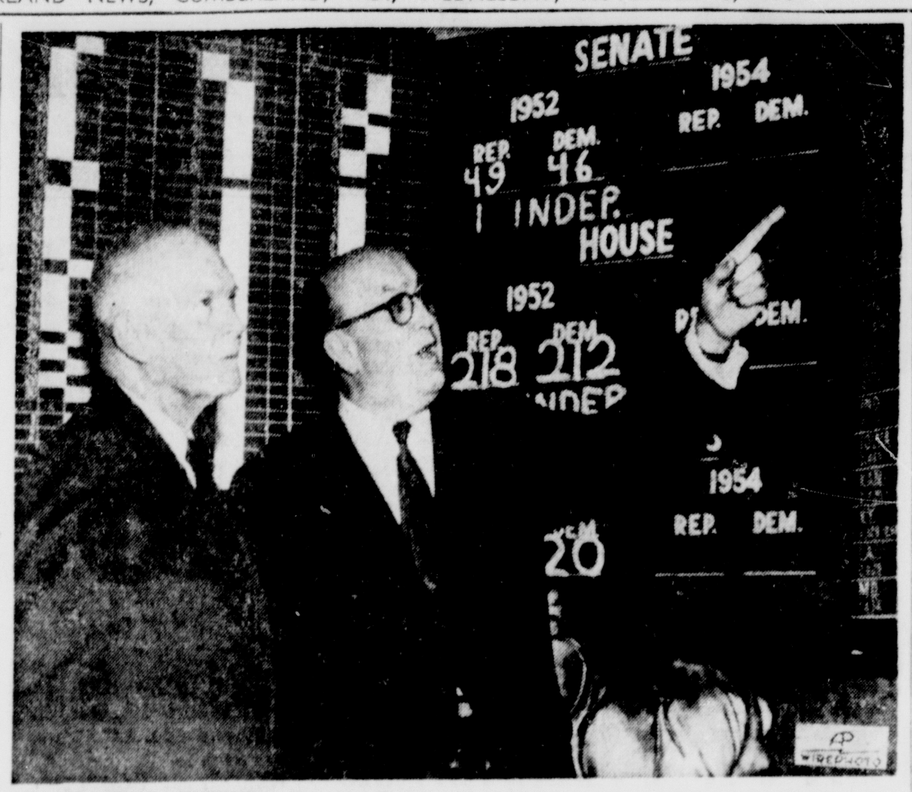

She was employed as a research assistant in the cancer research laboratory at the University of Texas.

Three Missing Deer Hunters Are Located

AUGUSTA, Maine, Nov. 2 (AP)—Three deer hunters missing overnight in widely separated sections of Maine were found today by game wardens using airplanes and radios.

The hunters are Carroll Kinsey, 43, of Thurmont, Md.; George Lentoni, 25, of Natick, Mass.; and Joseph Bedard, 27, of Saco.

Kinsey, who became lost during a sudden snowstorm, was found on the shore of little Chesuncook Pond in the Rainbow Lake region, a few miles west of Mt. Katahdin in northern Piscataquis County. Wardens in a plane saw his tracks in the fresh snow.

Greeks Believed To Have Used Secret Ballot First

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Nobody knows when the first election was held.

Apparently as soon as men got together, they started voting.

Even the early kings ran into situations in which they figured it might be smart to see what the boys in the back ranks would have. They sometimes voted in a way that would be frowned upon in most well-run precincts today, by banging on their shields with their swords.

The Greeks are believed to be the first to have had a secret ballot. Even they voted with a show of hands on matters of general interest. But when it came to an individual—Should he be ostracized? Should he win his lawsuit?—the Athenians voted by dropping shells or pebbles into an urn.

The word "vote," by the way, was slow making its way into English. It is from the Latin "votum," meaning a vow or a desire.

The early colonists usually voted aloud. But Massachusetts gave a hint of what was to come by using paper ballots as early as 1634. Frugal fellows, those pilgrim fathers. Each voter had to bring along his own piece of paper.

City folks who went to the polls today may not have realized why they were voting at this particular time of year. Simple, though, really. It's because it's early enough that the roads are still passable, and late enough that the crops are in.

The date was selected 100 years ago for that reason by Alexander Duncan, an Ohio medical doctor turned congressman. He figured early in November was just right. "Public sentiment has appointed this time," he said.

And except for Maine, which still holds its congressional and state elections early, public sentiment has agreed with what the doctor ordered.

Most countries bar aliens, convicts and lunatics from their elections. For a time England wouldn't let anyone on relief vote either.

Europeans like to hold their elections on Sundays or holidays. Not so in England. A fellow writing in the Encyclopaedia Britannica says of Sunday voting:

"In Great Britain a characteristic muddle-headedness has so far prevented its adoption."

Why more people don't vote always has puzzled political scientists. In 1923 a study was made to find out exactly why 5,000 persons had stayed away from a mayoralty race in Chicago. It showed the usual reasons — indifference, illness, disgust with politics — plus an unusual one.

Fourteen said they had not voted because they were afraid they would have to tell how old they were.

Washington Star Prints Editorial Bordered In Black

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Evening Star in voteless District of Columbia today published a four-column editorial bordered in black and captioned:

"The day, Nov. 2, 1954.

"To the un-Americanized Americans of the district, a day of humiliation and mourning.

"To other Americans, a day of national enthusiasm and patriotic pride."

The editorial, written by the late Theodore W. Noyes, editor of the Star, has been printed regularly on national election days many years.

Batista Receives 87 Per Cent Vote

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 2 (AP)—Latest semiofficial returns today gave Fulgencio Batista, the winner in Cuba's presidential election, nearly 87 per cent of the vote.

The count, from 7,729 of the republic's 8,521 polling places, was 1,220,389 for President Batista to 177,423 for ex-President Ramon Grau San Martin.

The official count by the Superior Electoral Tribunal was trailing far behind the semiofficial tally. The tribunal's latest figures for 2,468 polling places gave Batista 393,328 to 62,828 for Grau.

Grau, 72-year-old opposition leader, pulled out of the race only 12 hours before Monday's voting began, claiming government "persecution" made it impossible for his Cuban Revolutionary party to have a fair chance. He told his supporters to boycott the election, but names of all Revolutionary party candidates including his own remained on the ballots in the presidential, congressional, state and municipal elections.

Batista, Cuba's 53-year-old strong man, seized the government in a bloodless coup more than two years ago. He decided to run for election as a constitutional president. Batista previously held power after leading a successful revolution in 1933 when he was an army staff sergeant.

Britain 'Undermining' U. S., Ellender Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) says Britain is "undermining us" abroad.

"The United Kingdom is undermining us by saying we're immature, not capable to lead," Ellender told a news conference here Monday after returning from a 2½ months tour of 33 countries in Europe, the Middle East, Asia and North Africa.

Ellender said he favors a reduction of the U.S. foreign aid program.

The senator said he learned Britain is using her influence, with much success, against a U.S. program of selling farm products to other nations on a basis which would not involve their scarce dollar supply. The United States idea is to accept their currency, and buy back other items from them with the money.

Wilbur Shaw Buried Near His Home Town

VERNON, Ind., Nov. 2 (AP)—Wilbur Shaw, the self-made force behind the 500-mile Indianapolis auto race, was buried today on a frozen hilltop above his home town.

The great of auto racing and the auto industry gathered in final tribute to a friendly, energetic little man whose steel nerve carried him to three 500-mile victories before he became track manager.

Just before the plane crash that brought death to Shaw at 51 last Saturday, he had finished an automobile test drive at Detroit with a quip, "This is safer than flying an airplane."

Three Belgian Generals Held

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 2 (AP)—Police said today three Belgian generals in the army reserve were being held in solitary confinement on charges involving alleged misappropriation of public funds. A magistrate ordered solitary confinement because the case may involve defense secrets, police added.

Police named the three as Gen. Camille Grimart, who was in charge of establishment of the pipeline built for NATO linking Antwerp with Trier; Gen. Jules Maroye, manager of a Belgian pipeline company which participated in the construction; and Gen. Chevalier Paul Jacquet de Haves-Kercke.

Newspaper accounts quoted police as saying that organizations supplying the Defense Ministry had approached certain officials seeking contract advantages. An investigation followed.

The three generals will appear before a closed session of court next Wednesday to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to hold them.

Las Vegas Hotel Sold

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 2 (AP)—Sale of the Flamingo Hotel for approximately nine million dollars was announced today.

The 400-room hotel with its gambling casinos was bought by a group of businessmen from Gus Greenbaum and his partners.

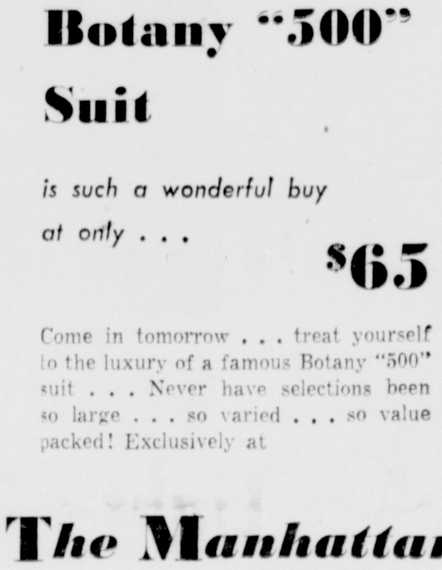

Barkleys Await Their Turn To Vote

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 2 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alben W. Barkley found a long line waiting when they went to their polling place to vote today.

They spent about five minutes waiting in the cold and then moved inside to await their turn.

For the benefit of newsreel cameramen, Barkley asked his wife how she was voting. Then he wouldn't let her answer because "this is a secret ballot."

Barkley, a former senator and vice president, was the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Hopkins Opens Graduate Center In Italy

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Opening of a center at Bologna, Italy, on March 1 for graduate study of contemporary economics and politics of four European countries was announced today by Johns Hopkins University.

Prof. C. Grove Haines, who will be director of the school, said it is the first such center to be established in Europe.

He said not only will it be the first United States university center offering credit toward master's and doctor's degrees in Europe, but the study of contemporary subjects is new in Europe.

"Generally speaking," he said, "the European approach is the classical approach. They view the events of 1870 with some trepidation and when they get to the year 1900, they know they have gone far enough."

The center will function as part of the School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins. The subjects of study will be Italy, Austria, Germany and France.

Voting Heavy Despite Inclement Weather

[By The Associated Press]

Voting was brisk and in most cases heavy Tuesday, despite inclement election weather in much of the country.

A mass of cold, Canadian air moved into the nation as far south as Alabama, Louisiana and Texas, and rain, snow and cold winds pelted the East and Midwest.

But heated races in some instances brought voterers to the polls in near-record numbers for an off-year election.

In the Eastern states from Maryland north through Maine bad weather failed to keep the vote down. It rained heavily in New York, New Jersey and Maryland, snowed in parts of Pennsylvania.

Candidate Hits Electioneering

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP)—State Police were called to the Howard County polling booth in nearby Ellicott City today after a Republican candidate charged county police refused to stop what he termed illegal electioneering.

Charles E. Miller, GOP candidate for county commissioner, said opposition supporters were distributing sample ballots within 100 feet of the town firehouse, the polling place, in violation of the law.

He said Jerome Loughran, counsel to Norman E. Moxley, Democratic commissioner running for reelection, was one of the offenders. Miller charged that County Police Chief Russell Moxley, brother of the incumbent, refused to act when he complained of Loughran's actions.

Miller complained to H. J. Baker, supervisor of elections and Baker called the governor's office and requested State Police aid. Troopers were sent from the Waterloo barracks to supervise.

Rescue Squads Lift Their Ban

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—Prince Georges County rescue squads today called off their ban on providing service to persons in Anne Arundel County.

Lifting of the ban was announced by Richard F. Hughes, chief of the Prince Georges County Rescue Squad Assn., who had announced it Saturday after complaining an Anne Arundel County policeman had made threats against Bowie rescue squad members and told them to stay out of the county.

The Anne Arundel police examiners board will meet tomorrow to consider the complaint against the policeman, who reportedly accused some Bowie members of being drunk.

Hughes said the ban was being lifted because "it is not the compulsory thing to penalize the public for one erring policeman."

Fire Sweeps Building At Fireworks Plant

ELKTON, Md., Nov. 2 (AP) — A small building at the New Jersey Fireworks Co. plant on Route 7 near Elkton was destroyed today by fire, but nobody was hurt, plant officials said.

It was the second fire at a fireworks plant in the area in less than a week.

Former Newspaperman Dies At Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — Joseph Henry Brennan, 48, former newspaperman and lawyer, died today at his home.

Brennan became a newspaperman after a dying fellow passenger on a wrecked train asked him to send a story of the wreck to a New York newspaper.

He worked for the New York American, Philadelphia Public Ledger, Associated Press in New York, Miami Tribune, Washington Evening Star and The Washington Times-Herald.

FRUITLAND, Md., Nov. 2 (AP) — Nearly 400 employes of the John H. Dulany & Son Co. cannery have approved an offer of 5 to 12½ cents more an hour to end their three-month strike.

The contract was negotiated by the AFL Teamsters union.

Virginia Medical Society To Admit Negro Physicians

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Medical Society of Virginia, by a vote of 166 to 101, today let down the barriers to admission of Negro physicians to membership — provided they are admitted to "component" local and county medical societies.

The vote, taken after two doctors tried unsuccessfully to defer action, ratified a resolution adopted Sunday night by the society's House of Delegates.

The motion to ratify was made by Dr. Walter Martin of Norfolk, Va., who also is president of the American Medical Assn. Martin said his feelings as a member of the Virginia society had no bearing on how the AMA as an organization "might or might not feel."

A spokesman told a reporter the Virginia society has 46 "component" local groups and only three have notified the state society that they admit Negro physicians. The spokesman added it was possible that others may be doing likewise, but they haven't notified the state society to that effect.

The three are: Alexandria, Fredericksburg and Danville.

LAVALE SANITARY COMMISSION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 1954

(1) During the current year the Commission entered into agreements with four property owners for extension of water lines to serve the property owners. Under the terms of the agreements, the property owners are to construct the lines and upon completion, pass title to the Commission. The Commission is to reimburse the property owners for costs of construction, limited to the maximum amounts stipulated in the agreements. The total estimated cost of approximately $47,000.00 is to be paid in annual installments over a period of years.

(2) The inventory of materials and supplies was furnished us by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Commission and accepted by us without independent verification.

(3) Notes payable consist of a series of three, one thousand dollar notes, all dated September 1, 1952. One note, without interest, becomes due on September 1 in each of the years 1954 to 1956 both inclusive.

(4) Accrued interest on bonds, as reflected in the balance sheet, represents interest accrued between the last coupon maturity dates and the balance sheet date.

(5) Four bonds of the original issue, maturing February 1, 1954 were not available for our inspection. An examination of the bank statements revealed a charge against the bond principal and interest account on February 2, 1954 in the amount of $4,000.00 indicating the bonds had been paid by the fiscal agent and charged to the Commission's account.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 380C of Chapter 13 of the Laws of Maryland, Extraordinary Session of 1947, I hereby certify that the above is a true, full and itemized account of the receipts and disbursements of the LaVale Sanitary Commission for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954, as prepared by James P. LAVALE SANITARY COMMISSION
JUNE 30, 1954

(1) During the current year the Commission entered into agreements with four property owners for extension of water lines to serve the property owners. Under the terms of the agreements, the property owners are to construct the lines and upon completion, pass title to the Commission. The Commission is to reimburse the property owners for costs of construction, limited to the maximum amounts stipulated in the agreements. The total estimated cost of approximately $47,000.00 is to be paid in annual installments over a period of years.

(2) The inventory of materials and supplies was furnished us by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Commission and accepted by us without independent verification.

(3) Notes payable consist of a series of three, one thousand dollar notes, all dated September 1, 1952. One note, without interest, becomes due on September 1 in each of the years 1954 to 1956 both inclusive.

(4) Accrued interest on bonds, as reflected in the balance sheet, represents interest accrued between the last coupon maturity dates and the balance sheet date.

(5) Four bonds of the original issue, maturing February 1, 1954 were not available for our inspection. An examination of the bank statements revealed a charge against the bond principal and interest account on February 2, 1954 in the amount of $4,000.00 indicating the bonds had been paid by the fiscal agent and charged to the Commission's account.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 380C of Chapter 13 of the Laws of Maryland, Extraordinary Session of 1947, I hereby certify that the above is a true, full and itemized account of the receipts and disbursements of the LaVale Sanitary Commission for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954, as prepared by James P. Rogers, certified public accountant.

Scientist Suggests H-Bomb Tests In U.S. Where Casualties Would Be Americans

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—A nuclear scientist said today the United States should conduct hydrogen bomb tests in this country—where the casualties would be American citizens—instead of in the Pacific where Japanese and other nationalities are endangered.

James R. Arnold, asst. professor at the University of Chicago Institute for Nuclear Studies, made the suggestion in an article in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists telling of radiation effects on Japanese fishermen and Marshall Islanders from an H-bomb explosion last March 1.

Arnold said the number of casualties from H-bomb tests in the United States would be higher but "they would be American citizens."

"A nation which feels itself in danger has some right to ask certain of its citizens to run special risks on behalf of all," Arnold said. "This is the principle behind compulsory military service."

He said the taxpayer would "Benefit greatly since the lowering of costs of the test operation would pay for any probable casualty list many times over."

He did not suggest any specific American site.

Amplifying his suggestion in an interview, Arnold said he did not actually expect the government to explode hydrogen bombs in the United States but that he made the recommendation "in an effort to arouse the American conscience" about the dangers of Pacific tests to citizens of other countries.

Arnold's article criticised the U. S. government for what he called lack of honesty for not admitting the seriousness of injuries from the March 1 blast in the Pacific to Japanese fishermen and Marshall Islanders.

The blast at Eniwetok atoll dusted the crew of a Japanese fishing boat and about 200 Marshall Islanders.

"The many denials of fact, the repeated willful minimizing of serious situations, the many efforts to shift blame to others—by U.S. officials . . . make shameful reading to an American," Arnold's article said. "It does not do to point out that some Japanese writers have exaggerated bomb effects, sometimes with evident malice. We are the ones who made these tests, and responsible behavior is required of us."

In the interview, Arnold said his conclusion was that it is not fair to expect Japanese and others to take the risks caused by American tests. He said the suggestion that the tests be held in the United States was a "moral conclusion."

He said the Japanese fishermen actually were seriously injured "despite American denials," and that "the Japanese who died probably did die of radiation poison."

Blood-Clotting Test For Home Use Developed

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, No. 2 (AP) — Development of a simple, inexpensive, home-style blood-clotting test which will allow many more people to benefit from valuable drug aids to the control of heart and blood vessel diseases was announced today by a George Washington University doctor.

Capable of being applied in a patient's own home, it's a 1½-minute test for measuring the effectiveness of — and assuring the proper use of—certain powerful "anticoagulant" drugs used to prevent or combat harmful blood clotting.

These drugs include such substances as "dicumarol," and they have often proved "life-saving" in complications of coronary thrombosis (heart attack). They also are useful in treating such conditions as thrombophlebitis of the legs and blood clots of the brain which can result in "strokes."

But, up to now, the university said, they could be administered only in hospitals. This was because a necessary part of such treatment was the need for daily tests "which required highly skilled personnel and laboratory facilities."

As a result, patients unable to be hospitalized or living in communities lacking necessary laboratory facilities have not been able to receive the anticoagulant treatments.

The new test must also be done daily — to make sure that just the right amount of a given anticoagulant drug is being used—but it "can be performed at the patient's bedside by any physician or trained technician after 20 minutes of instruction."

Thus, said the university, the new test will make it possible for many thousands of victims of heart disease to receive anticoagulant drug treatment at home.

The new 1½-minute type requires only a drop of blood, taken from a finger prick. The drop is then added to a small amount of a substance derived from the brain of a rabbit. According to the length of time required for clotting (14 to 18 seconds is normal), the amount of anticoagulant drug to be administered is determined.

The test was devised by Dr. Benjamin Manchester, assistant clinical professor of medicine at the university. He reported it to the scientific world today in an article in the "Journal of Circulation."

Three Die In Plane Crash

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 2 (AP)—A new Vickers Viscount turboprop airliner, crewed entirely by seven senior staff members of Trans-Australia Airlines who were learning to fly the ship, crashed and burned 70 miles north of here Sunday. Three pilot captains perished. Five other persons aboard, including the 8-year-old son of one of the crew escaped.

Paint And Varnish Makers Give Advice On Baby's Diet

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — At first glance, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn. looks like the last organization in the world to be giving advice on baby's diet.

Yet here it is today with this announcement: If your youngster persists in gnawing on wood, or in eating inedible items, take him to a doctor promptly.

Naturally the first question is: Why do the paint and varnish people care?

Their president, Gen. Joseph F. Battley, said the answer is simple. Almost every time a child becomes ill or dies after chewing on a painted object, paint gets the blame.

Because of this, his association has been doing research on the problem for years. Its conclusion: "Paint is overly condemned."

During its studies the association has come up with some information on a weird disease known as the pica.

Every parent has been horrified at what a tot will stick into his mouth. But Battley said some youngsters go far beyond this, and show a constant craving for furniture, dirt, coal plaster or fibre.

He said this child may be suffering from the pica. This pica has nothing to do with the size of type; it gets its name from the birds. The magpie belongs to the pica family, birds that will pick up almost anything and eat it.

Battley said the young human magpies may have a diet deficiency or they may have some emotional upset.

At any rate, whenever the paint experts hear of an illness in which paint is blamed, they investigate—and they have run into some strange situations.

The general—he was a chemical expert for the Army before he retired— has a picture of a desk that looks as if a herd of wood eating animals have been after it. Every edge, every drawer has been gnawed away, as much as a quarter of an inch.

Yet one youngster, who died at the age of four, did all the gnawing.

Battley said chemical analysis of the desk's varnish showed it was harmless.

"Anyway," he said, "any youngster who would eat that much wood would eat so many things it's impossible to tell what killed him."

Yet paint can be dangerous, and Battley wishes everyone understood that, now that the do-it-yourself craze is on.

Generally speaking, interior paints are harmless, and Battley said toy manufacturers have for years made sure their paints would hurt no one.

But outside paint contains lead, a poison, and the fellow who happily slaps—or slops—outside paint on baby's things could be asking for trouble.

"There's an easy way to tell what to use," Battley said. "Paints have been labeled since 1936. If it has one per cent or more lead in it, don't use it where the youngster can get to it."

Postal Money Order System 90 Years Old

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Yesterday was the 90th anniversary of the establishment of the U. S. postal money order system.

In an anniversary statement, Postmaster General Summerfield recalled that Congress authorized the system on May 17, 1864 and it went into operation on Nov. 1 of that year.

AMAZING TESTIMONIALS — Many Trained & Started In Spare Time At Home!

BILLS! BILLS! BILLS! All over America men are slaving away on dead-end jobs with nothing to look forward to but debts, unemployment — a blank wall! Year after endless year, the same old routine . . . up at daylight, gulp a cup of coffee, rush off to punch the clock on some meaningless job . . . come home at night worn out, hopeless . . . and for what? No matter how hard they work, it's still the same old rut. No one at work appreciates their efforts. No one rewards them with increased earnings. They can't enjoy even the necessities, let alone some of the luxuries! And what can these men possibly hope for in their old age?

MANY INDUSTRIES ARE AT A STANDSTILL! The pitiful part of this story is these same men — and their families — live in the hope that somehow "things are going to be different when the company expands." The sad truth is that the "company" and the industry of which the company is a part, may never expand! Hundreds and hundreds of industries today are at the absolute limit of their growth due to scientific developments that have outmoded them! For example—the steam locomotive and the propeller-driven airplane—which are on the way out! Opportunities in stagnant industries are bound to be limited! Wages must be cut to the bone! Men who stay in such industries are literally throwing away the best years of their lives — committing vocational suicide!

GREATEST OPPORTUNITY NOW HERE . . .

EVERY GENERATION HAS HAD INDUSTRIAL GIANTS . . . but today's giant industry is so much greater — so much more awe-inspiring — so far beyond the average person's imagination that there cannot be any fair comparison whatever! This is IT — man's greatest dream brought into the living room to educate — to entertain — to inform millions. The amazing thing is that this greatest opportunity of the age — this one big chance for the average man to become independent and prosperous — awaits any man willing to make a sincere effort toward self-betterment!

MODERN GOLD RUSH IS ON

T-E-L-E-V-I-S-I-O-N — yes, television — the magic word of the century — television is the answer for thousands of bread winners who have had to barely "get by" on the skimpiest salaries — the poorest working conditions — the uncertainties, fears, worries of the future!

FACTS! FACTS! HISTORY MAKING! UNBELIEVABLE!

It's hard to believe that less than ten years ago television existed only as an experiment . . . a wild dream . . . a hope! Today 30,000,000 homes are equipped with television sets and receive daily programs from over 400 television stations! By 1959 it is expected over 1,000 TV stations will be on the air — over 2,000 by 1965!

COLOR TELEVISION has barely reached the commercial stage, but is leaping ahead and may replace the "old fashioned" black and white telecasts within a few years. Yet, television is barely out of its infancy and the best years are still ahead!

OPPORTUNITIES IN EVERY PHASE OF TV UNLIMITED FOR AMBITIOUS MEN

Hundreds of jobs are waiting throughout the nation for trained and qualified television personnel. These jobs include television-radio service, TV receiver manufacturing and design, TV shop service managers, TV studio technicians, and police, fire, harbor and forestry radio technicians. Every day more and more firms are seeking men with "know-how" for immediate placement at above-average salaries. In addition, many thousands of trained and qualified men are leaving salaried jobs for television service and repair businesses of their own — and more independence than they have ever known — more security than they ever dreamed possible.

WHAT KIND OF JOB DO YOU HOLD? ARE YOU IN A RUT?

In view of these tremendous developments — occurring almost daily — it's time for you to STOP AND THINK! What kind of future is in store for you? Are you assured of advancement in a live and growing field? Can the field in which you are now working compare with television in newness, freshness, vitality? What about money? Can you keep up with your ordinary month to month bills — or are you falling behind — getting in deeper each year? IF YOU CANNOT SATISFY YOURSELF WITH THE ANSWERS TO THESE QUESTIONS THEN NOW IS THE TIME FOR YOU TO ACT! NOW IS THE TIME FOR YOU TO GET INTO TV!

NEW HOME TRAINING PLAN MAY BRING $400 A MONTH —FOR LIFE!

Through a startling and utterly different new method, more and more ambitious men are getting into the new industrial giant — television — in just a fraction of the time it used to take! (And remember, trained, qualified TV men are now earning $100 or more weekly.) What's more, so streamlined is this new method YOU DO NOT HAVE TO GIVE UP YOUR PRESENT JOB in order to get into this field! You train at home in spare time! Not only that — the majority of "trainees" earn extra cash through spare-time work right in their own homes surprisingly soon after they start training!

RAY YOUNG, Newport, Kentucky, says: "Yes, I am doing service work now in my spare time and I have a lot of work and my plans are to open a repair shop to do any kind of a repair job that might come up and to give the best work and prices in town. I have made a profit in my work in spare time for the month of May—$185.75 —and June—$205.55."

V. M. THOMPSON, of Salina, Utah, says: "The town in which I live does not, at this time, have a single competent service shop for radios or TV sets. Even in a town of 2500 population, I would think there exists an opportunity to build up a good paying business . . . I have serviced two television sets and repaired nine radios so far in my career without too much trouble. I find that this experience is worth a great deal to me."

CLAUDE WENDEL, of Flint, Michigan, says: "This is a letter of praise. Never have I gained so much knowledge in so short a time as with you. I wish I had started 20 years ago. I don't think I would be working the 3rd shift for someone else now."

ONLY PLAN OF ITS KIND — SPONSORS AMBITIOUS MEN IN THEIR OWN BUSINESS!

If you are really ambitious and want to be your own boss, instead of calling some other man "boss," this is your BIG chance — perhaps the only chance of this kind you'll ever get — to actually own and operate your own TV and Radio repair shop, because this new plan helps put you in business — EVEN IF YOU DO NOT HAVE SUFFICIENT CAPITAL OF YOUR OWN!

Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, No. 2 (AP) — Development of a simple, inexpensive, home-style blood-clotting test which will allow many more people to benefit from valuable drug aids to the control of heart and blood vessel diseases was announced today by a George Washington University doctor.

Capable of being applied in a patient's own home, it's a 1½-minute test for measuring the effectiveness of — and assuring the proper use of—certain powerful "anticoagulant" drugs used to prevent or combat harmful blood clotting.

These drugs include such substances as "dicumarol," and they have often proved "life-saving" in complications of coronary thrombosis (heart attack). They also are useful in treating such conditions as thrombophlebitis of the legs and blood clots of the brain which can result in "strokes."

But, up to now, the university said, they could be administered only in hospitals. This was because a necessary part of such treatment was the need for daily tests "which required highly skilled personnel and laboratory facilities."

As a result, patients unable to be hospitalized or living in communities lacking necessary laboratory facilities have not been able to receive the anticoagulant treatments.

The new test must also be done daily — to make sure that just the right amount of a given anticoagulant drug is being used—but it "can be performed at the patient's bedside by any physician or trained technician after 20 minutes of instruction."

Thus, said the university, the new test will make it possible for many thousands of victims of heart disease to receive anticoagulant drug treatment at home.

The new 1½-minute type requires only a drop of blood, taken from a finger prick. The drop is then added to a small amount of a substance derived from the brain of a rabbit. According to the length of time required for clotting (14 to 18 seconds is normal), the amount of anticoagulant drug to be administered is determined.

The test was devised by Dr. Benjamin Manchester, assistant clinical professor of medicine at the university. He reported it to the scientific world today in an article in the "Journal of Circulation."

Paint And Varnish Makers Give Advice On Baby's Diet

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — At first glance, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn. looks like the last organization in the world to be giving advice on baby's diet.

Yet here it is today with this announcement: If your youngster persists in gnawing on wood, or in eating inedible items, take him to a doctor promptly.

Naturally the first question is: Why do the paint and varnish people care?

Their president, Gen. Joseph F. Battley, said the answer is simple. Almost every time a child becomes ill or dies after chewing on a painted object, paint gets the blame.

Because of this, his association has been doing research on the problem for years. Its conclusion: "Paint is overly condemned."

During its studies the association has come up with some information on a weird disease known as the pica.

Every parent has been horrified at what a tot will stick into his mouth. But Battley said some youngsters go far beyond this, and show a constant craving for furniture, dirt, coal plaster or fibre.

He said this child may be suffering from the pica. This pica has nothing to do with the size of type; it gets its name from the birds. The magpie belongs to the pica family, birds that will pick up almost anything and eat it.

Battley said the young human magpies may have a diet deficiency or they may have some emotional upset.

At any rate, whenever the paint experts hear of an illness in which paint is blamed, they investigate—and they have run into some strange situations.

The general—he was a chemical expert for the Army before he retired— has a picture of a desk that looks as if a herd of wood eating animals have been after it. Every edge, every drawer has been gnawed away, as much as a quarter of an inch.

Yet one youngster, who died at the age of four, did all the gnawing.

Battley said chemical analysis of the desk's varnish showed it was harmless.

"Anyway," he said, "any youngster who would eat that much wood would eat so many things it's impossible to tell what killed him."

Yet paint can be dangerous, and Battley wishes everyone understood that, now that the do-it-yourself craze is on.

Generally speaking, interior paints are harmless, and Battley said toy manufacturers have for years made sure their paints would hurt no one.

But outside paint contains lead, a poison, and the fellow who happily slaps—or slops—outside paint on baby's things could be asking for trouble.

"There's an easy way to tell what to use," Battley said. "Paints have been labeled since 1936. If it has one per cent or more lead in it, don't use it where the youngster can get to it."

Postal Money Order System 90 Years Old

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Yesterday was the 90th anniversary of the establishment of the U. S. postal money order system.

In an anniversary statement, Postmaster General Summerfield recalled that Congress authorized the system on May 17, 1864 and it went into operation on Nov. 1 of that year.

TRAINED MEN FIND THEY CAN EARN
$400 OR MORE A MONTH
. . . . FOR LIFE!
Unlimited future – independence – possible for those qualified.
AMAZING TESTIMONIALS — Many Trained & Started In Spare Time At Home!

BILLS! BILLS! BILLS! All over America men are slaving away on dead-end jobs with nothing to look forward to but debts, unemployment — a blank wall! Year after endless year, the same old routine . . . up at daylight, gulp a cup of coffee, rush off to punch the clock on some meaningless job . . . come home at night worn out, hopeless . . . and for what? No matter how hard they work, it's still the same old rut. No one at work appreciates their efforts. No one rewards them with increased earnings. They can't enjoy even the necessities, let alone some of the luxuries! And what can these men possibly hope for in their old age?

MANY INDUSTRIES ARE AT A STANDSTILL! The pitiful part of this story is these same men — and their families — live in the hope that somehow "things are going to be different when the company expands." The sad truth is that the "company" and the industry of which the company is a part, may never expand! Hundreds and hundreds of industries today are at the absolute limit of their growth due to scientific developments that have outmoded them! For example—the steam locomotive and the propeller-driven airplane—which are on the way out! Opportunities in stagnant industries are bound to be limited! Wages must be cut to the bone! Men who stay in such industries are literally throwing away the best years of their lives — committing vocational suicide!

GREATEST OPPORTUNITY NOW HERE . . .

EVERY GENERATION HAS HAD INDUSTRIAL GIANTS . . . but today's giant industry is so much greater — so much more awe-inspiring — so far beyond the average person's imagination that there cannot be any fair comparison whatever! This is IT — man's greatest dream brought into the living room to educate — to entertain — to inform millions. The amazing thing is that this greatest opportunity of the age — this one big chance for the average man to become independent and prosperous — awaits any man willing to make a sincere effort toward self-betterment!

MODERN GOLD RUSH IS ON

T-E-L-E-V-I-S-I-O-N — yes, television — the magic word of the century — television is the answer for thousands of bread winners who have had to barely "get by" on the skimpiest salaries — the poorest working conditions — the uncertainties, fears, worries of the future!

FACTS! FACTS! HISTORY MAKING! UNBELIEVABLE!

It's hard to believe that less than ten years ago television existed only as an experiment . . . a wild dream . . . a hope! Today 30,000,000 homes are equipped with television sets and receive daily programs from over 400 television stations! By 1959 it is expected over 1,000 TV stations will be on the air — over 2,000 by 1965!

COLOR TELEVISION has barely reached the commercial stage, but is leaping ahead and may replace the "old fashioned" black and white telecasts within a few years. Yet, television is barely out of its infancy and the best years are still ahead!

OPPORTUNITIES IN EVERY PHASE OF TV UNLIMITED FOR AMBITIOUS MEN

Hundreds of jobs are waiting throughout the nation for trained and qualified television personnel. These jobs include television-radio service, TV receiver manufacturing and design, TV shop service managers, TV studio technicians, and police, fire, harbor and forestry radio technicians. Every day more and more firms are seeking men with "know-how" for immediate placement at above-average salaries. In addition, many thousands of trained and qualified men are leaving salaried jobs for television service and repair businesses of their own — and more independence than they have ever known — more security than they ever dreamed possible.

WHAT KIND OF JOB DO YOU HOLD? ARE YOU IN A RUT?

In view of these tremendous developments — occurring almost daily — it's time for you to STOP AND THINK! What kind of future is in store for you? Are you assured of advancement in a live and growing field? Can the field in which you are now working compare with television in newness, freshness, vitality? What about money? Can you keep up with your ordinary month to month bills — or are you falling behind — getting in deeper each year? IF YOU CANNOT SATISFY YOURSELF WITH THE ANSWERS TO THESE QUESTIONS THEN NOW IS THE TIME FOR YOU TO ACT! NOW IS THE TIME FOR YOU TO GET INTO TV!

NEW HOME TRAINING PLAN MAY BRING $400 A MONTH —FOR LIFE!

Through a startling and utterly different new method, more and more ambitious men are getting into the new industrial giant — television — in just a fraction of the time it used to take! (And remember, trained, qualified TV men are now earning $100 or more weekly.) What's more, so streamlined is this new method YOU DO NOT HAVE TO GIVE UP YOUR PRESENT JOB in order to get into this field! You train at home in spare time! Not only that — the majority of "trainees" earn extra cash through spare-time work right in their own homes surprisingly soon after they start training!

RAY YOUNG, Newport, Kentucky, says: "Yes, I am doing service work now in my spare time and I have a lot of work and my plans are to open a repair shop to do any kind of a repair job that might come up and to give the best work and prices in town. I have made a profit in my work in spare time for the month of May—$185.75 —and June—$205.55."

V. M. THOMPSON, of Salina, Utah, says: "The town in which I live does not, at this time, have a single competent service shop for radios or TV sets. Even in a town of 2500 population, I would think there exists an opportunity to build up a good paying business . . . I have serviced two television sets and repaired nine radios so far in my career without too much trouble. I find that this experience is worth a great deal to me."

CLAUDE WENDEL, of Flint, Michigan, says: "This is a letter of praise. Never have I gained so much knowledge in so short a time as with you. I wish I had started 20 years ago. I don't think I would be working the 3rd shift for someone else now."

ONLY PLAN OF ITS KIND — SPONSORS AMBITIOUS MEN IN THEIR OWN BUSINESS!

If you are really ambitious and want to be your own boss, instead of calling some other man "boss," this is your BIG chance — perhaps the only chance of this kind you'll ever get — to actually own and operate your own TV and Radio repair shop, because this new plan helps put you in business — EVEN IF YOU DO NOT HAVE SUFFICIENT CAPITAL OF YOUR OWN!

Pink Shirts For Men Just Beginning, Experts Predict

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Nov 2 (AP)—Pink shirts for men are just the beginning, a panel of men's fashion experts said today. Sombertoned suits are here to stay—and the search for bright-colored shirts to complement them is under way, they said.

Two thousand buyers and retailers of men's and boys' wear heard a panel of experts predict a coming trend to men's shirts in helio tones and limes, high-fashion names for shades of purple and bright green.

These colors are needed to go with the charcoal nad dark-brown suits growing in popularity, speakers said at the national conference on fashion merchandising of the Men's Apparel Guild in California.

"The double breated suit is dead," Ben Battelstein, a Houston, Tex., men's wear retailer, told the conference. "Not everyone is out of them yet, but in a year or two they'll be dead as a dodo."

Another trend predicted by the 12 panelists: men in shorts. The walking shorts — or Bermuda shorts—that a few men pioneered this year will be back next spring and summer at more and more occasions, panelists forecast. In hot weather, fashion-conscious men will even be wearing them to work, the speakers said.

I. (Bud) Whiser, Los Angeles, was chairman of the conference, a feature of the two-day fashion presentation. A fashion show of the new styles—including the so-called "shorter look"—was also on the program.

Both coats and trousers were somewhat shorter on many models, including sport suits with coats which ended, vest-style, just below the waist, and trousers narrowed above the shoe tops. Jacket sleeves were also shortened, to allow more shirt cuff to show.

Virginia Farmer Held In Death Of Laborer

FRONT ROYAL, Va., Nov. 2 (AP)—Front Royal police have charged a 25-year-old Boyce farmer with murder in the death here of Milton McDonald, who was found fatally injured Saturday night.

Police Chief Charles A. Menefee said Burchell Allen Wiley was arrested Sunday and is being held in Warren County jail. Evidence in the murder charge will be presented to a Warren County grand jury Friday, Menefee said.

McDonald, 44-year-old laborer, was found lying in a street Saturday night by a taxi driver. He died shortly after arrival at a hospital.

Police charge Wiley struck McDonald with his fist after the two became involved in an argument. They said evidence showed McDonald's head hit the street after the blow. An autopsy showed he died of a skull fracture.

Wiley has denied the charge.

Net Income Of Class 1 Railroads Decreases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Association of American Railroads today estimated the net income of Class I carriers for September at 58 million dollars, compared with 80 millions in September, 1953.

The AAR said the net income of these carriers for the first nine months of 1954 is estimated at 394 million dollars, compared with earnings of 650 million dollars in the corresponding period last year.

During the first nine months of this year, operating revenues declined 13.7 per cent and operating expenses dropped off 8.9 per cent.

Hagerstown High Students Build House As Part Of Vocational Student Curricula

This is how the Hagerstown high school student-built house looks at an early stage.

By A. VERNON DAVIS

HAGERSTOWN, Md.—In a project unique in this part of the country, vocational students of a high school here are this year building a full scale house to get on-the-job experience before graduating into the building trades.

Framework for the $25,000 ranch style house is about up now, and the boys hope to have the place ready for occupancy in a year.

When completed, the house will be sold at public auction. Profits will go back into the school fund so that future students may build more houses to enhance their abilities.

All sorts of vocational classes are having a hand in building the house. Drafting and mechanical drawing students prepare necessary sketches and blueprints. Carpenters and trowel trade apprentices are doing the framework and brick veneering. Sheet metal boys will install plumbing and the oil heating unit. Wiring will be done by electrical students.

EVEN THE GIRLS will have a j'b to do. Home economics classes will help decide on details of finishing the interior, including the color scheme. Business students are keeping records on all costs.

The house, situated in one of the city's better residential developments, will have three bedrooms, dining room, living room, bath and kitchen. A breezeway will connect the house to a garage. The house is wood framed with outer brick covering.

Clyde E. Bailey, woodworking instructor of Hagerstown high who developed the house building project, says it gives his students a better groundwork in the building trades. In previous years he says he took his boys on tours of local factories, but this was not enough to prepare the boys for jobs in industry.

Nothing beats actual experience when it comes to carpentry and allied lines, says Bailey.

THE STUDENT house builders aren't going too fast with their project. That is not the idea, either. Bailey wants to make sure the job is done right and not at the expense of normal classroom studies.

The carpentry students, for example, work on the house two hours each morning during the week and then spend the rest of the school day at classroom subjects.

Everything about the house is being done by the boys except the initial foundation excavation and the plastering. Heavy equipment was hired to do the main digging. Plastering is not taught at the high school, so the contract will be let with a local commercial firm.

The house is 67 feet long, 34 feet wide and stands on a big residential lot 80 by 155 feet.

Only the older high school students are working on the house project which has attracted widespread publicity this year. Seniors and juniors belong to the vocational classes. Vocational subjects are only lightly treated in classes for the younger students.

THE IDEA is to find out in the first two years of high school just what students are interested and adaptable in building trade skills. The last two years are dedicated to helping to develop skills in the right boys.

All together it is estimated that 75 students will have had a hand in actual construction of the house before it is ready for occupancy.

Foundation work on the place was completed during the last school year. This year most all the framework, roof and interior will be completed. Finishing touches will be put on when school reopens next September.

"I feel," says instructor Bailey, "that this project is going a long way toward keeping some of our students in school longer. There is a lot of satisfaction for a student to work on something as practical as a full scale house. It also gives all our students a better appreciation of their own homes and of t rwheok Rometaoinetaonietaoin of the work that has gone into them.

Utility Pole Hit By Tractor-Trailer

Two carloads of motorists were trapped on Route 220 south of here Monday night when they ran into hot electric wires down when a tractor-trailer hit a utility pole.

Trooper Joseph J. Stakem of La-Vale Barracks, State Police, said the two cars were forced to stop amidst the wire until Potomac Edison Company workmen arrived to turn off the current.

The whole incident was precipitated by the tractor-trailer driven by Elby Sours of RD 1, Winchester, Va.

Sours told Trooper Stakem he was traveling south on Route 220 at 9:30 p. m. in the rain when he fell asleep. The tractor-trailer loaded with steel left the highway traveled a distance of 200 feet of the road, clipped off the pole, and then went another 200 feet before coming to a stop.

No charges were preferred against Sours, Trooper Stakem said.

Makeup gains more importance when you wear glasses. To make lashes look fuller and prettier, dip a cotton ball into powder and press onto your closed lids before applying mascara. Curl lashes upward to keep them from brushing the lens.

Brows and Frames

Select glasses that follow the natural brow line. Pencil the brows, if necessary, just as anyone else accents the eyes. Apply rouge with a feathery touch, blending it up and under the rim of the glasses, just avoiding the eye socket so as not to create a shadow. The lower rim of the frame should not touch the cheek.

Be sure the frames are as wide as the widest part of your face. Make certain, too, that they don't repeat a line you'd prefer not to emphasize. For example, when the jaw is heavy and round, you'll only point up that fact if the lower rim is also heavy and round. Here's a case, perhaps, for the miniature harlequin. Timid about what you may consider extreme? Don't deny its possibilities until you've tried on a pair with dark inky frames, or wires around the lenses similar to Benjamin Franklin's. (Think of the mind that lurked behind those tiny frames!)

Hagerstown High Students Build House As Part Of Vocational Student Curricula

This is how the Hagerstown high school student-built house looks at an early stage.

By A. VERNON DAVIS

HAGERSTOWN, Md.—In a project unique in this part of the country, vocational students of a high school here are this year building a full scale house to get on-the-job experience before graduating into the building trades.

Framework for the $25,000 ranch style house is about up now, and the boys hope to have the place ready for occupancy in a year.

When completed, the house will be sold at public auction. Profits will go back into the school fund so that future students may build more houses to enhance their abilities.

All sorts of vocational classes are having a hand in building the house. Drafting and mechanical drawing students prepare necessary sketches and blueprints. Carpenters and trowel trade apprentices are doing the framework and brick veneering. Sheet metal boys will install plumbing and the oil heating unit. Wiring will be done by electrical students.

EVEN THE GIRLS will have a j'b to do. Home economics classes will help decide on details of finishing the interior, including the color scheme. Business students are keeping records on all costs.

The house, situated in one of the city's better residential developments, will have three bedrooms, dining room, living room, bath and kitchen. A breezeway will connect the house to a garage. The house is wood framed with outer brick covering.

Surprise Civil Defense Alert Slated This Month

Allegany county will hold a surprise air raid alert sometime during the first two weeks of this month, William G. Barger, county director of Civil Defense, announced.

The alert will affect Allegany county only, Barger said, adding that warning devices will be tested and public participation urged.

Pedestrians will be asked to get off streets and take shelter away from doors and windows whether near home or downtown, and auto traffic will be stopped, he said.

Emphasis is being placed on keeping people out of doorways or near windows of stores and dwellings during the alert. That is the idea of Civil Defense, Barger said adding that the warning to "take cover" means just that.

Vehicles will be directed to the curbs and motors should be turned off, the director added.

No advance notice of the alert will be given.

Meanwhile, plans for the statewide alert November 8, 9 or 10 have been cancelled by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, because the District of Columbia announced it will not have sound warnings or have public participation exercices. The District blamed its move on a shortage of warning devices caused by a delay in shipment of sirens.

Allegany county was to have taken part in this regional alert. Barger said, however, that the local alert may come before or after the dates selected for the cancelled statewide test.

Allegany county's Civil Defense staff is meeting tonight at the Naval Armory for a discussion of each CD service's activities and coordination of it into a master plan. This will eventually grow into a monthly staff meeting series designed to give Allegany County citizens the finest organization possible, Barger said.

Capt. Biggs To Aid In Corps Opening

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, will take part in ceremonies tonight marikng the opening of a Salvation Army corps in Charles Town, W. Va.

He said the new Salvation Army unit will be operated as an outpost of the Martinsburg corps.

Juvenile Court Magistrate Alban C. Thompson and Ralph C. Doak, clerk, attended the dedication ceremonies of the new gymnasium-auditorium Friday at the Maryland Training School for Boys. The new structure, Magistrate Thompson said, has been named in honor of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Following the dedication ceremony, Magistrate Thompson and Doak visited the Allegany county cottage on the grounds. There are 25 boys housed in the cottage.

Former Resident Gets Slogan Contest Award

Mrs. Paul Spearman, Washington, a former resident, has been declared the winner of a "Baby Banter" slogan contest sponsored by a newspaper there. Her caption, under a grinning infant, was: "Then I let him have the mashed potatoes on his head."

Mrs. Spearman is the former Miss Charlotte Nisewarner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nisewarner, 124 Virginia Avenue. She and her husband, who is railroad postal clerk at Washington's National Airport, resided on Grand Avenue before moving to Washington.

Divorce Granted

Court Appeal Is Lost By Bus Company

The West Virginia Supreme Court has affirmed a decision of Judge D. H. Rodgers of Martinsburg in refusing $750,000 damages to Emery Motor Coach Lines of Martinsburg for illegal sale of the firm's assets.

The Emery Motor Coach Lines until four years ago served Cumberland, Paw Paw, Martinsburg and Washington, D. C., by way of Charles Town, W. Va., and Leesburg, Va.

The court also refused a petition by the bus company and its president, R. L. Emery Jr., asking extension of time in which to file additional transcripts with the Supreme Court.

Emery had sued Mellon National Bank after it held a forced sale of the bus company's assets, four years ago. The State Supreme Court last year held that the sale was illegal because only one trustee was present at the sale and because notice of the sale was insufficient.

The court ordered another trial to establish whether Emery had suffered any damages as a result of the illegal sale. It was at this second trial that Judge Rodgers made the appealed decision.

The decision, which was affirmed, held that while the sale itself was illegal Emery had suffered no damages because his company's assets were worth only $55,000 and the bank had brought in $79,000 on the assets. Mellon had a lien of more than $85,000 against the transit line.

Judge Rodgers had also disallowed a claim against the bank for loss of business because, he said, the firm was insolvent at the time of the sale and was losing money by operating.

When Judge Roberts ruled on the case last January Emery announced he would appeal the case but he did not file what he considered sufficient transcripts within the eight-month period allowed by law.

The most recent decision refused to permit additional time in which to file the supplementary record.

The alert will affect Allegany county only, Barger said, adding that warning devices will be tested and public participation urged.

Pedestrians will be asked to get off streets and take shelter away from doors and windows whether near home or downtown, and auto traffic will be stopped, he said.

Emphasis is being placed on keeping people out of doorways or near windows of stores and dwellings during the alert. That is the idea of Civil Defense, Barger said, adding that the warning to "take cover" means just that.

Vehicles will be directed to the curbs and motors should be turned off, the director added.

No advance notice of the alert will be given.

Meanwhile, plans for the statewide alert November 8, 9 or 10 have been cancelled by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, because the District of Columbia announced it will not have sound warnings or have public participation exercices. The District blamed its move on a shortage of warning devices caused by a delay in shipment of sirens.

Allegany county was to have taken part in this regional alert. Barger said, however, that the local alert may come before or after the dates selected for the cancelled statewide test.

Allegany county's Civil Defense staff is meeting tonight at the Naval Armory for a discussion of each CD service's activities and coordination of it into a master plan. This will eventually grow into a monthly staff meeting series designed to give Allegany County citizens the finest organization possible, Barger said.

Local Men Attend Dedication Ceremony

Juvenile Court Magistrate Alban C. Thompson and Ralph C. Doak, clerk, attended the dedication ceremonies of the new gymnasium-auditorium Friday at the Maryland Training School for Boys. The new structure, Magistrate Thompson said, has been named in honor of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Following the dedication ceremony, Magistrate Thompson and Doak visited the Allegany county cottage on the grounds. There are 25 boys housed in the cottage.

Dentists Will Meet

The Allegany-Garrett County Dental Society will meet today at 6:30 p. m. at the Shrine Country Club, with John W. Rollins Jr., as the principal speaker.

Former Resident Gets Slogan Contest Award

Mrs. Paul Spearman, Washington, a former resident, has been declared the winner of a "Baby Banter" slogan contest sponsored by a newspaper there. Her caption, under a grinning infant, was: "Then I let him have the mashed potatoes on his head."

Mrs. Spearman is the former Miss Charlotte Nisewarner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nisewarner, 124 Virginia Avenue. She and her husband, who is railroad postal clerk at Washington's National Airport, resided on Grand Avenue before moving to Washington.

Divorce Granted

Court Appeal Is Lost By Bus Company

The West Virginia Supreme Court has affirmed a decision of Judge D. H. Rodgers of Martinsburg in refusing $750,000 damages to Emery Motor Coach Lines of Martinsburg for illegal sale of the firm's assets.

The Emery Motor Coach Lines until four years ago served Cumberland, Paw Paw, Martinsburg and Washington, D. C., by way of Charles Town, W. Va., and Leesburg, Va.

The court also refused a petition by the bus company and its president, R. L. Emery Jr., asking extension of time in which to file additional transcripts with the Supreme Court.

Emery had sued Mellon National Bank after it held a forced sale of the bus company's assets, four years ago. The State Supreme Court last year held that the sale was illegal because only one trustee was present at the sale and because notice of the sale was insufficient.

The court ordered another trial to establish whether Emery had suffered any damages as a result of the illegal sale. It was at this second trial that Judge Rodgers made the appealed decision.

The decision, which was affirmed, held that while the sale itself was illegal Emery had suffered no damages because his company's assets were worth only $55,000 and the bank had brought in $79,000 on the assets. Mellon had a lien of more than $85,000 against the transit line.

Judge Rodgers had also disallowed a claim against the bank for loss of business because, he said, the firm was insolvent at the time of the sale and was losing money by operating.

When Judge Roberts ruled on the case last January Emery announced he would appeal the case but he did not file what he considered sufficient transcripts within the eight-month period allowed by law.

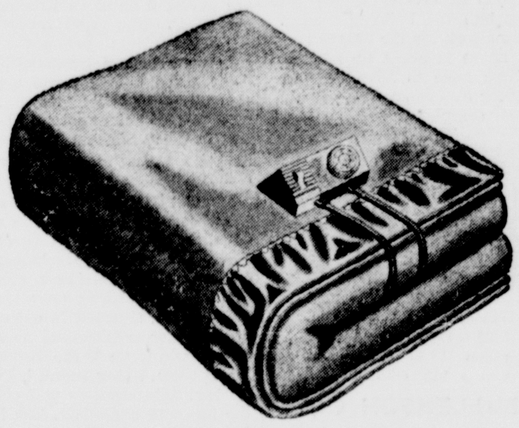

The most recent decision refused to permit additional time in which to file the supplementary record.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(While Louella Parsons takes a few days rest her column will be written by Dorothy Manners)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov 2 (INS) — Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis get Frank Tashlin to write and direct "Artists and Models," formerly "Rock-A-By Baby" before Hal Wallis bought the Broadway show for the boys.

The Michael Davidson-Norman Lessing play delves into the world of cartoonists and writers of comic books. Parents will be pleased to know that some serious sideswipes will be taken against the current big selling horror and crime books in cartoons.

A word more about Tashlin: This brilliant young man is hot, hot, hot since "Susan and God" and "Son of Paleface." His original and fresh approach to ideas will take him far in this business.

David Selznick's success as producer of the Diamond Jubilee of Light TV show had a strange reaction on him. It's made him want to do another big and important film!

"Of course, I want to do other TV shows," David explained, "but I really want to make a picture. I thought I was finished with movies until I went to work on this TV production. Then I realized how much I really wanted to get back to the embrace of my first love, the movies, again."

He's very tired, so before he makes any definite announcement, he'll rest with Jennifer and the baby in New York.

Funny that Carlos Thompson and Yvonne De Carlo, so much in love a while back, are both in "Magic Fire" in Germany — and haven't a single scene together. Hardly conducive to rekindling the flame.

Bill Dieterle who is filming scenes in Beyreuth in the villa where Richard Wagner lived, writes:

"We shot in the old opera house the other day — very nostalgic to me. It was here just 40 years ago that I began my career as an actor."

He also reports that the film biography of the great composer is ahead of schedule, very unusual for European movie making.

Hollywood in shorts:

Burt Lancaster finished "The Kentuckian" in Kentucky — but it's a long time before Hollywood sees him. He'll pose for an exploitation portrait painted by Thomas Hart Benton in Kansas City, then two days in New York, then on to Key West to start "Rose Tattoo."

Little Stephen Bogart has his tonsils removed Thursday.

Who says Kay Marx, Groucho's ex, has patched up her quarrel with Lennie Sherman. She dated Alan Bernheim over the weekend.

Donald O'Connor's new woo is Gloria Nobel. He was dining with the dancer at the Luau.

I understand Debbie Reynolds is receiving regular instruction in the faith of Eddie Fisher, not that she intends to embrace it, but the better to understand it.

If Mike Wilding's kidney infection becomes no worse, Liz Taylor promises MGM she will go on to New York alone for the premiere of "The Last Time I Saw Paris" and stay on a week for publicity plugs. This makes Liz the darling of the press agents, who hadn't planned to ask her what with the stork on the way and Mike's illness.

Robert Bassler has registered the title, "Gentlemen Love Redheads." Has Anita Loos heard?

Friends of the late Clive Brook will see his son, Lyndon, with Gregory Peck in "The Purple Plain."

Peggy Lee is the first star set for the hour-long TV show honoring the press men who lost their lives in World War II. It's to raise money for a memorial building in their honor in New York.

Whatta you know about Janie Wyman, supposedly a TV holdout, quietly filming a drama called "Amelia" which she's already sold to GE Theater for release Jan. 27

If Eileen Barton has her way, Kirk Douglas will show up with his banjo for her Mocambo opening tonight. "I invited him to back me up on 'Bye Bye Blues,'" she says.

Grace Kelly, yet to be a bride, has been an attendant in three weddings of former school friends during her vacation back home.

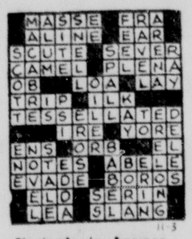

That's all today.

Check To Be Made Of Flood Damage

District 17 (Cumberland) flood damage is being evaluated for the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau in a series of reports from area towns and industries.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum reported yesterday he had received a questionnaire from the federal agency concerning the district, had the form mimeographed and distributed to responsible parties.

Area 17, Nuzum said, is bounded by the North Branch of the Potomac River on Oldtown Road, Cresaptown, Mt. Savage, Glencoe, Pa., Hyndman, Pa., and Evitts Creek watershed from the dam at Lake Gordon to Cumberland.

When all reports are received, the effect of the high water of two weeks ago will be evaluated into damage and losses and sent on to the federal department. At the same time, it will make a valuable record here and probably serve in any such future emergency.

In addition to Cumberland, the forms have been sent to Allegany County Commissioners, State Roads Commission, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, C&A Gas Company, C&P Telephone Company, Cessna Lumber Company (Howard Street), B&O and Western Maryland railroads, Potomac Edison Company, Celanese Corporation of America, Allegany County farm agent, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Corriganville, Ellerslie, Glencoe, Hyndman, Locust Grove, Mt. Savage, Patterson Creek, W. Va., and Ridgeley.

The forms, Nuzum said will include accurate information and not guesses on loss in cities, county and industry in addition to wage losses by individuals, loss of life, injuries and other such data.

So far two of the forms have been returned. They came from Locust Grove and County Farm Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Consultation Office Opened By Beall At Silver Spring

Edward T. Beall, former personnel manager at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation and a former Montgomery County manager, has opened a consultation service office in the Washington Building, Silver Spring.

Beall and his associates will specialize in publicity and public relations, business and industrial management, government affairs, personnel and labor relations, merchandising and sales and hospital administration.

Beall was with the C&P Telephone Company from 1929-43; Celanese 1943-48; assistant city manager of Norfolk, 1948-50; city manager and hospital director at Portsmouth, Ohio, for three years and manager of Montgomery County for a year.

While with Celanese Beall conducted training courses for supervisory personnel in advanced management techniques, and was the firm's representative in grievance and arbitration cases and in hearings before the National Labor Relations Board.

While here he was retained by the University of Maryland to develop and conduct courses in management for supervisory personnel of various business and industries in the area.

Three Men Get Amcelle Awards

Carl J. Bechie, Cresaptown, Merlin L. McDonald, Corriganville, and Paul F. Kienifer, Potomac Park, completed 25 years service at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation Friday and were presented watches by R. Finley Thompson, plant manager.

Bechie is a spinner. He is married and the father of three sons. His favorite outdoor sport is hunting.

McDonald, a bobbin stores employe, is married and the father of a son. His favorite sports are hunting and watching major league baseball. For nearly three years of World War II, he served on a destroyer escort as ship's cook, third class.

Kienifer is a twisting machine fixer in the textile engineering section. At various times, he has worked in every major engineering section at Amcelle. He is married and has two children and two grandchildren. His favorite sports are hunting and fishing.

John Bestwick, superintendent of spinning and auxiliaries, awarded Celanese emblems and certificates to Bechie and McDonald. W. D. Claus, plant engineer, made similar awards to Kienifer.

Approximately 40 per cent of the women listed in Who's Who have never been married.

Switch To Nickel Meter Hikes Parking Receipts

Conversion of penny parking meters to a nickel fee resulted in an increase in receipts during the period October 17-24.

Receipts jumped from $512.21 to $600.78 during that week, an increase of $88.57, the report of Meter Inspector Harry Whisner to the Mayor and Council showed.

Reason for the increase was noted by both Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Two Mishap Victims Admitted To Hospital

Ellis Northcraft, 66, of 1021 Harding Avenue, suffered a right ankle injury yesterday morning when he was pinned against a garage wall by a car at his home. He was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

A Cresaptown woman, Mrs. Naomi Gates, 61, was taken to the same hospital Monday after she was found unconscious at home by her husband, Frederick Gates. Attaches reported she apparently fell from a chair.

Disarmament Race Goes On And On

The arms race in nuclear weapons continues unabated, and projected secret five-power disarmament talks are unlikely to change the picture. The United States has scheduled a new series of nuclear weapons tests for next February, and the Atomic Energy Commission has announced that recent explosions in Russia were spread over many weeks.

But it seems clear that the United States is keeping well ahead in the atomic race. Before the latest Soviet tests, on which details are lacking, approximately 49 United States tests had been reported, eight Soviet tests and three by Britain in cooperation with the Commonwealth. New American tests are expected to feature smaller weapons, intended to be particularly useful against troops in the field.

How many atomic and hydrogen bombs does each side have? Hanson W. Baldwin, a military analyst, guesses that the number of American bombs is "a very sizable four figures," the number of Soviet bombs "a sizable three figures," and the number of British bombs is in "two figures."

One writer, attempting to reduce these guesses to exact figures, says the U. S. could have 8,000 bombs, Russia 650 and Britain 50. A vast majority would of course be atomic rather than hydrogen bombs.

The U. S. has a big lead, regardless of how accurate such guesses are. But if the Reds were to get most of their perhaps 50 bombs in first, on critical strategic targets, U. S. preponderance would be of little avail. If there is atomic war, each side will have a terrifying number of bombs, and skill in delivering them is what will count.

Meanwhile there seems to be little hope of disarmament in this field or any other. Russian proposals for disarmament are merely cleverly designed traps into which Moscow hopes the free world will stumble.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Citizen And Bureaucrat

As government grows in size and function, it requires an increasingly large staff. The managerial problems of a government employing between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 public servants is very different from the simplicities of Thomas Jefferson's concepts of federal administration. A bureaucracy tends to jell into a self-protecting and self-serving class which sooner or later comes to regard itself as an elite.

Any human institution will include incompetent and wilful men and women whose errors can cause disasters. A government elite has the facilities to cover up errors and to make it difficult for the citizen and his representatives in Congress to know what is being done with his money on his behalf. A continuing bureaucracy can be more perilous than the worst spoils system from the standpoint of the citizen's interest.

The British recently dealt with a case of this sort which has come down by the name of the Crichel Down affair. This involved some farm land taken over for war services, transferred from one government agency to another, and then neither sold nor rented to the original owners, who wanted their own land back, but was rented to strangers who could have no particular claim to it.

The British Parliament went into the matter by appointing a Prime Minister's Committee which investigated thoroughly and found that the civil servants in the Ministry of Agriculture had acted badly. They had served not the citizen but a doctrinaire position. The report contained this passage which might be printed and placed before every American bureaucrat who has forgotten that he is a servant and not a master:

"In present times the interests of the private citizen are affected to a great extent by the actions of civil servants. It is the more necessary that the civil servant should bear constantly in mind that the citizen has a right to expect not only that his affairs will be dealt with effectively and expeditiously but also that his personal feelings no less than his rights as an individual will be sympathetically considered. We think that the admitted shortcomings in this respect are the main cause of such loss of public confidence as has resulted from this case."

Anyone who has had his affairs inspected by the income tax bureaucrats knows that it is cheaper not to fuss than to stand up for his judgment. Similarly, those who have to wait hours on a dock or at an airfield for a customs man to admit that the inspected person is honest, must realize that these men most often are really defending their jobs. If the inspectors find no smugglers, they are suspected by their boss of being in collusion with them to deprive the government of its lawful but not always just due.

A foreigner, coming into this country, must assure our government that she is neither insane nor a prostitute. The questionnaire is embarrassing and seems somewhat unnecessary. In the first place, no prostitute would admit it and decent women are offended by being asked. As to insanity, who knows about me and thee, and I rather suspect thee.

The public servant who is required to go through with these questionnaires looks ridiculous and seems to be a tyrant, when actually he is just a guy earning a living by doing stupid things because he is required to by the management of his department and often by act of Congress. If mistakes are made, they are covered up by the entire force of the bureaucracy.

For instance, who promoted Major Peress? Obviously, this was bureaucratic carelessness in the servicing of Peress's documents. These documents were passed from hand to hand, duly initialled and rubber-stamped but not read. When it was finally discovered that Peress had twice answered improperly but quite truthfully, the bureaucracy determined to hush-up the entire matter by giving Peress an honorable discharge and throwing him out of the Army. But the Peress matter refused to die down and became a hot political issue, producing a split in the Republican Party of the widest dimensions. Still, the bureaucracy is strong enough to forbid anyone to answer the question, "Who promoted Major Peress?"

In Great Britain, they do it better. When the Crichel Down affair reached public magnitude, Sir Thomas Dugdale, minister of agriculture, a promising official, resigned. He is a gentleman who does not pass the buck.

The Show's Over

No Explanation Yet Why Many People Failed To Vote

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Nobody has explained satisfactorily why so many people didn't vote in the congressional election.

The latest estimate that about 40,000,000 went to the polls out of a total eligible vote of 100,000,000 is one of the lowest percentages in any of the democracies of the world.

The only plausible explanation is that which has been made in other years—that the people were not particularly excited over the issues or did not see clearly that anything critical for them was involved.

It is always contended by the politicians that, if there's economic discontent or some other emotional issue, a protest vote will be recorded. But evidently there wasn't enough discontent this time to persuade any unusual number of voters to go to the polls.

Reflected General Satisfaction

Compared to other countries, the United States is prosperous. The American people have a high standard of living, with creature comforts of all kinds. Certainly there is no evidence of any starvation or suffering. Even the hardship of unemployment is cushioned by the payment of unemployment compensation.

As for personal income, it is about the highest in history. This leads to the conclusion that contentment does not bring out the voters and that the small minority, relatively speaking, which registered and went to the polls reflects the general satisfaction with things as they are.

Certainly so far as the war-or-peace situation is concerned, the world outlook lately has been better than it has been in months. The business situation, which seemed for a while to be slipping downward, has been getting better and the figures this week show steel production, for instance, higher than it has been at any time this year.

Local issues dominate when national issues are not particularly stimulating. Coincident with the elections for members of Congress there were many election contests for county or state offices. These conceivably could bring out the voters who, while at the ballot box, would vote for the congressional tickets. But this year, with the exception of New York State, there were few contests for governor that attracted any attention beyond the borders of a given state.

The rule that the party in power wears out its welcome and that the people demand a change has affected many a local election but, on the other hand, there are instances where the states have remained in the same column for decades at a time. In such states there is a tendency for the opposition party to be weak in organizational power, and everybody takes the outcome for granted and little reason is seen for going to the polls. Such an approach is mistaken but the low percentage of voting occurs just the same, especially in the southern states.

By and large the American people have not been persuaded that voting is as important as it really is. Control of Congress by one party or the other doesn't seem to the average man to mean much by way of change. Yet, in the long run, the political complexion of Congress tends to fix the pattern for the election of a president and sometimes for a rather radical change in national policy.

Registration Should Be Easier

Valiant efforts were made this time to impress the citizenry with the importance of voting. The television and radio as well as the press presented some nonpartisan appeals designed to persuade people to vote. One major difficulty is the need for registration weeks in advance of an election and before either party gets going and brings out the importance of the issues. Another restraint is related to the matter of standing in long lines waiting for a chance to register. Some more expeditious scheme, such as registration by mail with a penalty for fraud, and some method of verifying the signatures after election to detect any possible fraud might be a solution.

Some states, of course, have permanent registration so that there is no need to go but once to register. But even in such states the number who do vote is sometimes very low.

So the answer hasn't yet been found—and maybe in a sense those who stay at home do vote. There are some analysts who argue that those who don't vote would divide in about the same proportion as those who do. But this has been proved fallacious in some after-election studies. For evidently the discontented voters go to the polls and many of those who are content with the existing administration in the national, state or city government don't vote. It's a matter that probably will never be settled till there's compulsory voting, if indeed that is ever adopted, and American sentiment does not favor it.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Now we find the Pennsylvania candidate who promised to keep his slate clean was a coal dealer.

Elsewhere it was as fair and square an election as you will find outside an investigation.

It was torrid enough to start the sprinkler system working in the devil's parlor. All the accusations, recriminations, charges, libels, slanders, counter-charges and self-funding double-dealing were just a part of the American system of fair play.

Today we act as if nothing had friends for their mistrust in me." dates.

In our state the winner said, "I shall not betray your confidence." He admits it's that kind of a game.

The loser took it neatly. In a post-mortified statement he remarked, "I want to thank my freinds for their mistrust in me."

If approaching events dread the hot stove then the Republicans had better mend their fences. There's a leak in the cookie jar.

The Democrats have been busier than two octopuses shaking hands. Back of the ironic curtain is that spieler Adlai Stevenson. Prouder than a bronze hoss that never knows when it's whipped.

We figure it thissaway. The Democrats made more promises than the Republicans could keep.

Inside of two years there has been a spin of sentiments that validates the political formula of centrifugal farce.

In our nook-in-the-weeds the rainy day vote managed to steal an umbrella or two. As usual the polls were further off than a city dude on a rodeo bronco.

Overall, it was pretty much like the first archeologist who found the Sanskrit tablets. He said "This will be a lesson to somebody."

Gov. Dewey Called Shots For Ives As New York Election Neared End

Probe Of Business Mergers

Here's the inside story behind the Federal Trade Commission's sudden move to investigate business mergers and combines.

Actually, Chairman "Wild Bill" Langer of the Senate Judiciary Committee is responsible. He wrote a sharp letter to Attorney General Brownell threatening to investigate mergers. Alarmed over the way mergers always seemed to come just before a depression, Langer pointed out that in 1920 the number of mergers jumped from 411 to 749 — just before the depression following World War I. Again, in 1928 and 1929, the number of mergers shot up to the highest in history — more than a thousand each year. The big depression followed.

In recent years, mergers jumped from 200 in 1950 to 822 in 1952. Last year was another high year with 790 mergers.

So, when Langer asked Brownell the reason why so many mergers were being permitted, the attorney general got worried. He decided that if Langer was going to probe mergers he had better cut the ground out from under Langer by getting the trade commission to start an investigation first.

Prayers For Sheppard

By Bob Considine

CLEVELAND (INS) — Prayers for Dr. Sam Sheppard are offered nightly in the modest suburban home of Fireman James Willard. The prayers are joined in by Willard, his wife and their three sons. The prosecution in the macabre murder mystery would understand.

One morning in the summer of 1953 the Willards' 5-year-old Tommy woke up screaming and clutching at his throat. The child jumped from bed and ran out of the house, his mother close behind him. In the middle of the street he collapsed, gasping for breath, and began to turn blue.

The terrified mother phoned the local fire department for an inhalator. Her husband answered the emergency call and began the taut task of pumping air into the lungs of his suffocating son.

A few minutes later a doctor appeared. He was Dr. Stephen Sheppard whose "beat" is that area near the Cleveland airport—when inhalator equipment is sent out. Dr. Sheppard gave the lad a shot intended to expand the respiratory passages and then said, "I think we'd better take him in an take some pictures of him."

At the Bay Village Hospital the boy was placed in an oxygen tent. Neither that nor the shot relieved his tortured breathing. A second doctor, a younger and better-looking version of Dr. Stephen Sheppard, examined the boy and reached a quick decision. He stepped out of the room, found the anxious parents and said, quietly:

"I'm Doctor Sam Sheppard. We're going to have to operate immediately. Your boy has an acute tracheal bronchitis." The stricken mother and father asked for a simpler explanation.

"It means the child will suffocate unless we insert a tube in his trachea right away." And with that he turned and went to work.

Tommy Willard died on the operating table just before Dr. Sam's scalpel touched him. As the body turned blacker the intense young doctor worked with skill and speed. After a minute or two the stilled heart was exposed. Dr. Sam massaged it.

Five minutes after Tommy died his heart began beating again.

The doctor who performed the miracle did not tell the parents the particulars of the case. He simply said, with a smile, "He'll be all right now." But he said and did more later.

The December, 1953, issue of the Forum of Osteopathy commented in the case briefly, under a heading "Ohio surgean saves child by heart massage."

The article concluded with:

"Deeply impressed with the profound phenomenon, the doctor stated: "Some superior power must have wished this youngster to live; perhaps it was to allow him to help others as a doctor.' "

After the operation Dr. Sam asked the Willards to let him put Tommy through medical school when he grows up. They gratefully consented.

"How's Tommy now?" I asked Mrs. Willard over the phone.

"Just fine," she answered animatedly. "He's sitting here watching TV—dirty face, dirty hands and all."

Her voice saddened when she spoke of the case.

"My heart just aches," she said, "It's impossible for us to believe it. For a time we tried to keep it from Tommy. Didn't want to upset him, for he worships Dr. Sam. But then he heard other children talking about it and came to me for an explanation. I had to tell him as best I could.

"That night he ran a 101 fever, and every day since then he has asked, 'What's going to happen to Dr. Sam?' "

The Willards will never get over marveling at Sheppard's attitude toward their stricken son.

"Tommy was a strange boy to him," she said. "He wasn't the son of a friend. And the doctor surely knew we were not rich people. But he gave Tommy everything.

"We pray for him every night, the devout housewife concluded. "We always will."

Fundamental Cause Of Leg Ulcers Should Be Found

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are many remedies for leg ulcers but the lesions may reopen unless the basic cause is eliminated or kept under control. The varicose ulcer that develops on the lower part of the leg is a typical example. In this condition the enlarged vein fails to function properly when the person is standing. Circulation is reversed, i. e., the blood flows toward the feet rather than upward into the heart.

Stagnation ensues and in time the ankles are swollen and waterlogged. A small opening in the skin becomes inflamed and within a week, breaks down into a typical ulcer.

When the victim lies in bed with the foot elevated on a pillow, the effect of gravity on circulation is reversed and the blood flows from the foot toward the heart. Swelling subsides and the tissues return to normal. This is why most ulcers heal when the sufferer remains in bed.

But will the lesion stay healed after the patient resumes activity? It may for a short time, but recurrence is common as soon as the tissues become waterlogged or the skin is injured. However, if the varicose vein is tied off or obliterated in other ways, the cause is eliminated and the ulcer disappears permanently.

The remedy is not always so simple. In some, the cause cannot be found; others are unable to take time off from work to stay in bed. Now and then it is possible to collapse the veins by wearing an elastic stocking or bandage. In other instances the ulcer and surrounding area are cleansed thoroughly and covered with a simple dressing over which a large rubber sponge is fastened securely.

The sponge rubber massages the area and pressure forces away the stagnant fluids from the tissue. When the lesion is healed the individual continues to wear the elastic bandage and is always on guard to protect the leg from injury.

The longer the ulcer remains open the more difficult it becomes to cure. Various substances have been recommended and an absorbable gelatin sponge powder (gelfoam) is one of the latest. This was used successfully on 106 patients in the Skin and Cancer Unit of New York University Hospital. These patients had stubborn ulcers that had failed to respond to the usual methods. They had been bothered along this line for periods ranging from four weeks to 31 years. The powder was sprinkled on the lesion and covered with dry gauze. Then the leg, including the dressing, was wrapped in an elastic bandage.

MASS TESTING

W. T. writes: What are multiple screening tests?

REPLY

Testing of large segments of the population to determine the status of the lungs, heart, kidneys, blood, and other aspects of health. The screening procedures include X-rays, blood counts, electrocardiograms, and tests for syphilis and diabetes.

VARICOSE VEINS

Mrs. F. writes: Must varicose veins be operated on?

REPLY

Eliminating the veins is the only cure but many victims keep the condition under control with the use of elastic bandages or stockings. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on varicose veins.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

N. W. writes: Does essential hypertension mean that high blood pressure is essential to that person?

REPLY

No. The word essential was used formerly to denote a type of high blood pressure for which the cause is unknown. Today, many physicians prefer the term vascular hypertension, to emphasize the blood vessel aspect.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

A secretary is plenty annoyed with her boss this week. He came back unexpectedly from a business trip, and found she had sneaked off for a bit of shopping. So this is the note she found pinned to her memo book the following morning: "I came into the office at 4 o'clock yesterday—and where were you? Furthermore, I felt your chair. Dammit, it wasn't even warm!"

A famed Westchester beauty named Mrs. Guggenheim was combing her golden tresses when the neighborhood plumber put in an appearance. "I understand," he chirped, "there's something in the house that won't work." "You understand correctly," agreed Mrs. Guggenheim. "He's upstairs reading in bed."

A plaintiff was awarded a divorce recently, her major grievance being the uncontested fact that her husband never blew in to the house before 4 a.m. This is said to be one of the first cases on record of the worm who wasn't early getting the bird.

Disarmament Race Goes On And On

The arms race in nuclear weapons continues unabated, and projected secret five-power disarmament talks are unlikely to change the picture. The United States has scheduled a new series of nuclear weapons tests for next February, and the Atomic Energy Commission has announced that recent explosions in Russia were spread over many weeks.

But it seems clear that the United States is keeping well ahead in the atomic race. Before the latest Soviet tests, on which details are lacking, approximately 49 United States tests had been reported, eight Soviet tests and three by Britain in cooperation with the Commonwealth. New American tests are expected to feature smaller weapons, intended to be particularly useful against troops in the field.

How many atomic and hydrogen bombs does each side have? Hanson W. Baldwin, a military analyst, guesses that the number of American bombs is "a very sizable four figures," the number of Soviet bombs "a sizable three figures," and the number of British bombs is in "two figures."

One writer, attempting to reduce these guesses to exact figures, says the U. S. could have 8,000 bombs, Russia 650 and Britain 50. A vast majority would of course be atomic rather than hydrogen bombs.

The U. S. has a big lead, regardless of how accurate such guesses are. But if the Reds were to get most of their perhaps 50 bombs in first, on critical strategic targets, U. S. preponderance would be of little avail. If there is atomic war, each side will have a terrifying number of bombs, and skill in delivering them is what will count.

Meanwhile there seems to be little hope of disarmament in this field or any other. Russian proposals for disarmament are merely cleverly designed traps into which Moscow hopes the free world will stumble.

These Days

Citizen And Bureaucrat

As government grows in size and function, it requires an increasingly large staff. The managerial problems of a government employing between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 public servants is very different from the simplicities of Thomas Jefferson's concepts of federal administration. A bureaucracy tends to jell into a self-protecting and self-serving class which sooner or later comes to regard itself as an elite.

Any human institution will include incompetent and wilful men and women whose errors can cause disasters. A government elite has the facilities to cover up errors and to make it difficult for the citizen and his representatives in Congress to know what is being done with his money on his behalf. A continuing bureaucracy can be more perilous than the worst spoils system from the standpoint of the citizen's interest.

The British recently dealt with a case of this sort which has come down by the name of the Crichel Down affair. This involved some farm land taken over for war services, transferred from one government agency to another, and then neither sold nor rented to the original owners, who wanted their own land back, but was rented to strangers who could have no particular claim to it.

The British Parliament went into the matter by appointing a Prime Minister's Committee which investigated thoroughly and found that the civil servants in the Ministry of Agriculture had acted badly. They had served not the citizen but a doctrinaire position. The report contained this passage which might be printed and placed before every American bureaucrat who has forgotten that he is a servant and not a master:

"In present times the interests of the private citizen are affected to a great extent by the actions of civil servants. It is the more necessary that the civil servant should bear constantly in mind that the citizen has a right to expect not only that his affairs will be dealt with effectively and expeditiously but also that his personal feelings no less than his rights as an individual will be sympathetically considered. We think that the admitted shortcomings in this respect are the main cause of such loss of public confidence as has resulted from this case."

Anyone who has had his affairs inspected by the income tax bureaucrats knows that it is cheaper not to fuss than to stand up for his judgment. Similarly, those who have to wait hours on a dock or at an airfield for a customs man to admit that the inspected person is honest, must realize that these men most often are really defending their jobs. If the inspectors find no smugglers, they are suspected by their boss of being in collusion with them to deprive the government of its lawful but not always just due.

A foreigner, coming into this country, must assure our government that she is neither insane nor a prostitute. The questionnaire is embarrassing and seems somewhat unnecessary. In the first place, no prostitute would admit it and decent women are offended by being asked. As to insanity, who knows about me and thee, and I rather suspect thee.

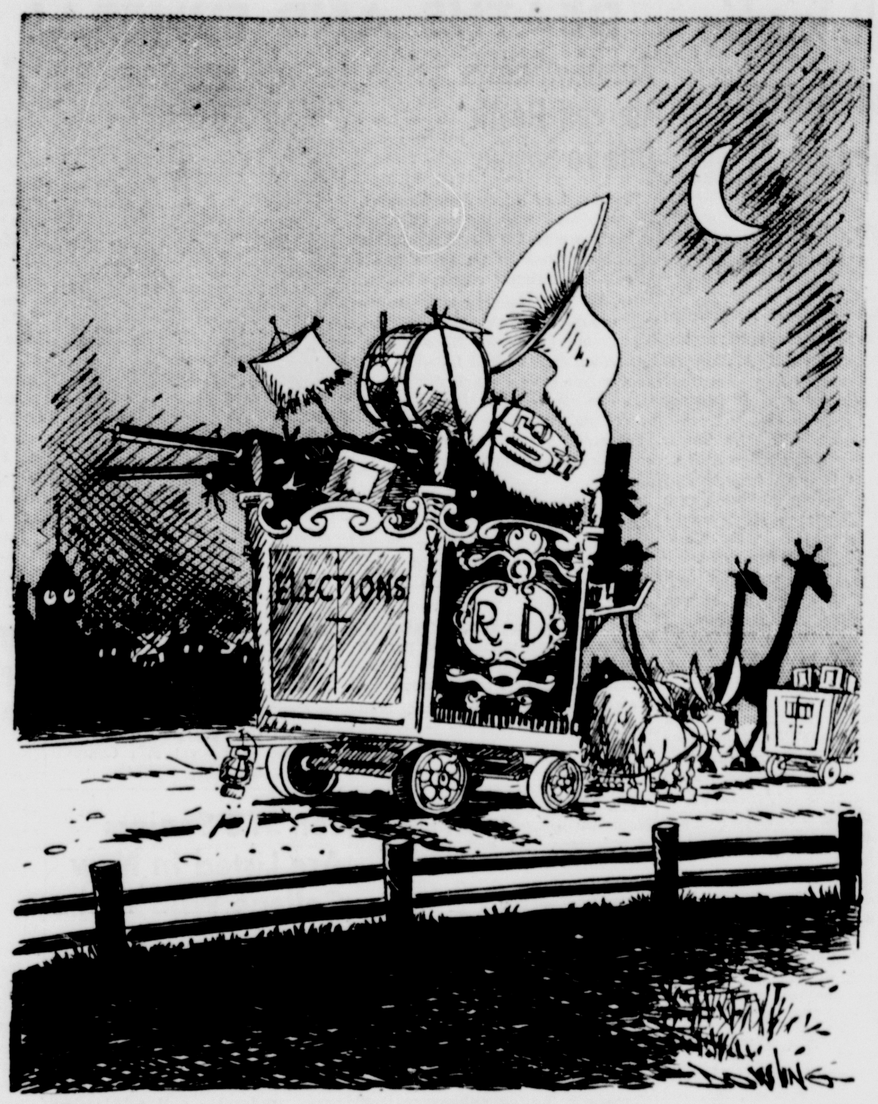

The public servant who is required to go through with these questionnaires looks ridiculous and seems to be a tyrant, when actually he is just a guy earning a living by doing stupid things because he is required to by the management of his department and often by act of Congress. If mistakes are made, they are covered up by the entire force of the bureaucracy.

For instance, who promoted Major Peress? Obviously, this was bureaucratic carelessness in the servicing of Peress's documents. These documents were passed from hand to hand, duly initialled and rubber-stamped but not read. When it was finally discovered that Peress had twice answered improperly but quite truthfully, the bureaucracy determined to hush-up the entire matter by giving Peress an honorable discharge and throwing him out of the Army. But the Peress matter refused to die down and beczme a hot political issue, producing a split in the Republican Party of the widest dimensions. Still, the bureaucracy is strong enough to forbid anyone to answer the question, "Who promoted Major Peress?"

In Great Britain, they do it better. When the Crichel Down affair reached public magnitude, Sir Thomas Dugdale, minister of agriculture, a promising official, resigned. He is a gentleman who does not pass the buck.

No Explanation Yet Why Many People Failed To Vote

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Nobody has explained satisfactorily why so many people didn't vote in the congressional election.

The latest estimate that about 40,000,000 went to the polls out of a total eligible vote of 100,000,000 is one of the lowest percentages in any of the democracies of the world.

The only plausible explanation is that which has been made in other years—that the people were not particularly excited over the issues or did not see clearly that anything critical for them was involved.

It is always contended by the politicians that, if there's economic discontent or some other emotional issue, a protest vote will be recorded. But evidently there wasn't enough discontent this time to persuade any unusual number of voters to go to the polls.

Reflected General Satisfaction

Compared to other countries, the United States is prosperous. The American people have a high standard of living, with creature comforts of all kinds. Certainly there is no evidence of any starvation or suffering. Even the hardship of unemployment is cushioned by the payment of unemployment compensation.

As for personal income, it is about the highest in history. This leads to the conclusion that contentment does not bring out the voters and that the small minority, relatively speaking, which registered and went to the polls reflects the general satisfaction with things as they are.

Certainly so far as the war-or-peace situation is concerned, the world outlook lately has been better than it has been in months. The business situation, which seemed for a while to be slipping downward, has been getting better and the figures this week show steel production, for instance, higher than it has been at any time this year.

Local issues dominate when national issues are not particularly stimulating. Coincident with the elections for members of Congress there were many election contests for county or state offices. These conceivably could bring out the voters who, while at the ballot box, would vote for the congressional tickets. But this year, with the exception of New York State, there were few contests for governor that attracted any attention beyond the borders of a given state.

The rule that the party in power wears out its welcome and that the people demand a change has affected many a local election but, on the other hand, there are instances where the states have remained in the same column for decades at a time. In such states there is a tendency for the opposition party to be weak in organizational power, and everybody takes the outcome for granted and little reason is seen for going to the polls. Such an approach is mistaken but the low percentage of voting occurs just the same, especially in the southern states.

By and large the American people have not been persuaded that voting is as important as it really is. Control of Congress by one party or the other doesn't seem to the average man to mean much by way of change. Yet, in the long run, the political complexion of Congress tends to fix the pattern for the election of a president and sometimes for a rather radical change in national policy.

Registration Should Be Easier

Valiant efforts were made this time to impress the citizenry with the importance of voting. The television and radio as well as the press presented some nonpartisan appeals designed to persuade people to vote. One major difficulty is the need for registration weeks in advance of an election and before either party gets going and brings out the importance of the issues. Another restraint is related to the matter of standing in long lines waiting for a chance to register. Some more expeditious scheme, such as registration by mail with a penalty for fraud, and some method of verifying the signatures after election to detect any possible fraud might be a solution.

Some states, of course, have permanent registration so that there is no need to go but once to register. But even in such states the number who do vote is sometimes very low.

So the answer hasn't yet been found—and maybe in a sense those who stay at home do vote. There are some analysts who argue that those who don't vote would divide in about the same proportion as those who do. But this has been proved fallacious in some after-election studies. For evidently the discontented voters go to the polls and many of those who are content with the existing administration in the national, state or city government don't vote. It's a matter that probably will never be settled till there's compulsory voting, if indeed that is ever adopted, and American sentiment does not favor it.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Now we find the Pennsylvania candidate who promised to keep his slate clean was a coal dealer.

Elsewhere it was as fair and square an election as you will find outside an investigation.

It was torrid enough to start the sprinkler system working in the devil's parlor. All the accusations, recriminations, charges, libels, slanders, counter-charges and self-funding double-dealing were just a part of the American system of fair play.

Today we act as if nothing had friends for their mistrust in me." dates.

In our state the winner said, "I shall not betray your confidence." He admits it's that kind of a game.

The loser took it neatly. In a post-mortified statement he remarked, "I want to thank my freinds for their mistrust in me."

If approaching events dread the hot stove then the Republicans had better mend their fences. There's a leak in the cookie jar.

The Democrats have been busier than two octopuses shaking hands. Back of the ironic curtain is that spieler Adlai Stevenson. Prouder than a bronze hoss that never knows when it's whipped.

We figure it thissaway. The Democrats made more promises than the Republicans could keep.

Inside of two years there has been a spin of sentiments that validates the political formula of centrifugal farce.

In our nook-in-the-weeds the rainy day vote managed to steal an umbrella or two. As usual the polls were further off than a city dude on a rodeo bronco.

Overall, it was pretty much like the first archeologist who found the Sanskrit tablets. He said "This will be a lesson to somebody."

Prayers For Sheppard

By Bob Considine

CLEVELAND (INS) — Prayers for Dr. Sam Sheppard are offered nightly in the modest suburban home of Fireman James Willard. The prayers are joined in by Willard, his wife and their three sons. The prosecution in the macabre murder mystery would understand.

One morning in the summer of 1953 the Willards' 5-year-old Tommy woke up screaming and clutching at his throat. The child jumped from bed and ran out of the house, his mother close behind him. In the middle of the street he collapsed, gasping for breath, and began to turn blue.

The terrified mother phoned the local fire department for an inhalator. Her husband answered the emergency call and began the taut task of pumping air into the lungs of his suffocating son.

A few minutes later a doctor appeared. He was Dr. Stephen Sheppard whose "beat" is that area near the Cleveland airport—when inhalator equipment is sent out. Dr. Sheppard gave the lad a shot intended to expand the respiratory passages and then said, "I think we'd better take him in an take some pictures of him."

At the Bay Village Hospital the boy was placed in an oxygen tent. Neither that nor the shot relieved his tortured breathing. A second doctor, a younger and better-looking version of Dr. Stephen Sheppard, examined the boy and reached a quick decision. He stepped out of the room, found the anxious parents and said, quietly:

"I'm Doctor Sam Sheppard. We're going to have to operate immediately. Your boy has an acute tracheal bronchitis." The stricken mother and father asked for a simpler explanation.

"It means the child will suffocate unless we insert a tube in his trachea right away." And with that he turned and went to work.

Tommy Willard died on the operating table just before Dr. Sam's scalpel touched him. As the body turned blacker the intense young doctor worked with skill and speed. After a minute or two the stilled heart was exposed. Dr. Sam massaged it.

Five minutes after Tommy died his heart began beating again.

The doctor who performed the miracle did not tell the parents the particulars of the case. He simply said, with a smile, "He'll be all right now." But he said and did more later.

The December, 1953, issue of the Forum of Osteopathy commented in the case briefly, under a heading "Ohio surgean saves child by heart massage."

The article concluded with:

"Deeply impressed with the profound phenomenon, the doctor stated: "Some superior power must have wished this youngster to live; perhaps it was to allow him to help others as a doctor.' "

After the operation Dr. Sam asked the Willards to let him put Tommy through medical school when he grows up. They gratefully consented.

"How's Tommy now?" I asked Mrs. Willard over the phone.

"Just fine," she answered animatedly. "He's sitting here watching TV—dirty face, dirty hands and all."

Her voice saddened when she spoke of the case.

"My heart just aches," she said. "It's impossible for us to believe it. For a time we tried to keep it from Tommy. Didn't want to upset him, for he worships Dr. Sam. But then he heard other children talking about it and came to me for an explanation. I had to tell him as best I could.

"That night he ran a 101 fever, and every day since then he has asked, 'What's going to happen to Dr. Sam?' "

The Willards will never get over marveling at Sheppard's attitude toward their stricken son.

"Tommy was a strange boy to him," she said. "He wasn't the son of a friend. And the doctor surely knew we were not rich people. But he gave Tommy everything.

"We pray for him every night, the devout housewife concluded. "We always will."

Fundamental Cause Of Leg Ulcers Should Be Found

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are many remedies for leg ulcers but the lesions may reopen unless the basic cause is eliminated or kept under control. The varicose ulcer that develops on the lower part of the leg is a typical example. In this condition the enlarged vein fails to function properly when the person is standing. Circulation is reversed, i. e., the blood flows toward the feet rather than upward into the heart.

Stagnation ensues and in time the ankles are swollen and waterlogged. A small opening in the skin becomes inflamed and within a week, breaks down into a typical ulcer.

When the victim lies in bed with the foot elevated on a pillow, the effect of gravity on circulation is reversed and the blood flows from the foot toward the heart. Swelling subsides and the tissues return to normal. This is why most ulcers heal when the sufferer remains in bed.

But will the lesion stay healed after the patient resumes activity? It may for a short time, but recurrence is common as soon as the tissues become waterlogged or the skin is injured. However, if the varicose vein is tied off or obliterated in other ways, the cause is eliminated and the ulcer disappears permanently.

The remedy is not always so simple. In some, the cause cannot be found; others are unable to take time off from work to stay in bed. Now and then it is possible to collapse the veins by wearing an elastic stocking or bandage. In other instances the ulcer and surrounding area are cleansed thoroughly and covered with a simple dressing over which a large rubber sponge is fastened securely.

The sponge rubber massages the area and pressure forces away the stagnant fluids from the tissue. When the lesion is healed the individual continues to wear the elastic bandage and is always on guard to protect the leg from injury.

The longer the ulcer remains open the more difficult it becomes to cure. Various substances have been recommended and an absorbable gelatin sponge powder (gelfoam) is one of the latest. This was used successfully on 106 patients in the Skin and Cancer Unit of New York University Hospital. These patients had stubborn ulcers that had failed to respond to the usual methods. They had been bothered along this line for periods ranging from four weeks to 31 years. The powder was sprinkled on the lesion and covered with dry gauze. Then the leg, including the dressing, was wrapped in an elastic bandage.

MASS TESTING

W. T. writes: What are multiple screening tests?

REPLY

Testing of large segments of the population to determine the status of the lungs, heart, kidneys, blood, and other aspects of health. The screening procedures include X-rays, blood counts, electrocardiograms, and tests for syphilis and diabetes.

VARICOSE VEINS

Mrs. F. writes: Must varicose veins be operated on?

REPLY

Eliminating the veins is the only cure but many victims keep the condition under control with the use of elastic bandages or stockings. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on varicose veins.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

N. W. writes: Does essential hypertension mean that high blood pressure is essential to that person?

REPLY

No. The word essential was used formerly to denote a type of high blood pressure for which the cause is unknown. Today, many physicians prefer the term vascular hypertension, to emphasize the blood vessel aspect.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A secretary is plenty annoyed with her boss this week. He came back unexpectedly from a business trip, and found she had sneaked off for a bit of shopping. So this is the note she found pinned to her memo book the following morning: "I came into the office at 4 o'clock yesterday—and where were you? Furthermore, I felt your chair. Dammit, it wasn't even warm!"

A famed Westchester beauty named Mrs. Guggenheim was combing her golden tresses when the neighborhood plumber put in an appearance. "I understand," he chirped, "there's something in the house that won't work." "You understand correctly," agreed Mrs. Guggenheim. "He's upstairs reading in bed."

A plaintiff was awarded a divorce recently, her major grievance being the uncontested fact that her husband never blew in to the house before 4 a.m. This is said to be one of the first cases on record of the worm who wasn't early getting the bird.

Population of the U. S. has zoomed to 162,414,000 according to latest report of the Census Bureau. Cartoonists continue to depict Uncle Sam as a skinny old fellow, however—though he sure is putting on weight fast.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

Autopsy Shows Morgan Death Due To Stroke

The death of Harry John Morgan, 63, who was found dead Monday in his room at 137 North Mechanic Street was due to an acute heart attack, an autopsy report showed.

Dr. H. V. Deming, county medical examiner, said Mr. Morgan was found in a gas filled room, but added that he had fallen to the floor when stricken and lived only long enough to get a slight amount of carbon monoxide in his blood. That amount was not sufficient to be the cause of death, Dr. Deming added.

The body of the former local special police officer and private detective agency worker was taken to Memorial Hospital Monday for an examination as to the cause of death.

Mr. Morgan was found lying on his back by an unidentified person who used a ladder to climb to the roof and look into the window.

Officers Ernest M. Powell and J. Carl Stouffer said the room was extremely hot.

The body is at Stein Funeral Home.

Brophytown Rejects Idea Of Annexation

Citizens Refuse To Sign Petition

WESTERNPORT — The citizens of Brophytown at a public meeting Monday evening at the Franklin Mission failed to approve the signing of a petition asking the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport that Brophytown be annexed.

At the suggestion of Dewey Pellegrene of Fredrickstown, Pa., who has sold a number of the residents to the town, Mrs. Claude Westfall called the meeting.

The petition was signed by Pellegrene and handed to her did not contain any names on it but his. Mrs. Westfall said she had talked to a number of the citizens, some opposed and some in favor.

More people at the meeting spoke in opposition than in favor of it. They wanted to know what benefits they would receive from the town for paying taxes and they were fearful if they became a part of the Town of Westernport that free bus service for the children to the Westernport School would be discontinued.

It was also pointed out by those not in favor of the annexation that many of its citizens are buying homes and have payments of $50 a month to meet. Some are out of work and annexation would be an extra burden that some people would find it hard to meet.

Mayor Okey E. Michael attended the meeting at the request of Mrs. Westfall to answer questions the citizens of Brophytown might ask.

Mayor Michael at the start told them as mayor of the Town of Westernport he could not tell them any specific things that the town would receive. He would be in favor of putting six-inch water line across the river to Brophytown and later put in some fire plugs.

He cited some of the benefits that Brophytown receives without cost which the citizens of Westernport have to pay for. Westernport is contributing $1,500 a year to the Potomac Fire Company, he noted.

Several of the citizens present seemed to be in favor of it but none would sign during the meeting.

Mayor Michael stated that some of the citizens of Westernport would not be in favor of annexing Brophytown, as an offer had been made to both Brophytown and Franklin and they both rejected it.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

Autopsy Shows Morgan Death Due To Stroke

The death of Harry John Morgan, 63, who was found dead Monday in his room at 137 North Mechanic Street was due to an acute heart attack, an autopsy report showed.

Dr. H. V. Deming, county medical examiner, said Mr. Morgan was found in a gas filled room, but added that he had fallen to the floor when stricken and lived only long enough to get a slight amount of carbon monoxide in his blood. That amount was not sufficient to be the cause of death, Dr. Deming added.

The body of the former local special police officer and private detective agency worker was taken to Memorial Hospital Monday for an examination as to the cause of death.

Mr. Morgan was found lying on his back by an unidentified person who used a ladder to climb to the roof and look into the window.

Officers Ernest M. Powell and J. Carl Stouffer said the room was extremely hot.

The body is at Stein Funeral Home.

Mr. Morgan was born on South Mountain near Boonsboro, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Noah Morgan. He is survived by a brother and two sisters, all of the Baltimore section.

Brophytown Rejects Idea Of Annexation

Citizens Refuse To Sign Petition

WESTERNPORT — The citizens of Brophytown at a public meeting Monday evening at the Franklin Mission failed to approve the signing of a petition asking the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport that Brophytown be annexed.

At the suggestion of Dewey Pellegrene of Fredrickstown, Pa., who has sold a number of the residents to the town, Mrs. Claude Westfall called the meeting.

The petition was signed by Pellegrene and handed to her did not contain any names on it but his. Mrs. Westfall said she had talked to a number of the citizens, some opposed and some in favor.

More people at the meeting spoke in opposition than in favor of it. They wanted to know what benefits they would receive from the town for paying taxes and they were fearful if they became a part of the Town of Westernport that free bus service for the children to the Westernport School would be discontinued.

It was also pointed out by those not in favor of the annexation that many of its citizens are buying homes and have payments of $50 a month to meet. Some are out of work and annexation would be an extra burden that some people would find it hard to meet.

Mayor Okey E. Michael attended the meeting at the request of Mrs. Westfall to answer questions the citizens of Brophytown might ask.

Mayor Michael at the start told them as mayor of the Town of Westernport he could not tell them any specific things that the town would receive. He would be in favor of putting six-inch water line across the river to Brophytown and later put in some fire plugs.

He cited some of the benefits that Brophytown receives without cost which the citizens of Westernport have to pay for. Westernport is contributing $1.500 a year to the Potomac Fire Company, he noted.

Several of the citizens present seemed to be in favor of it but none would sign during the meeting.

Mayor Michael stated that some of the citizens of Westernport would not be in favor of annexing Brophytown, as an offer had been made to both Brophytown and Franklin and they both rejected it.

Allegany County Featured In State Banking Magazine

The important position which Allegany County holds in the economy of the State of Maryland is featured in an article in the November issue of Banking News, official publication of the Maryland Bankers Association.

The historical and economic tribute to this county begins with an artistic view of the Potomac River on the cover of the magazine.

The photograph, taken by A. Aubrey Bodine, shows the beautiful stream at Doe Gully, near Little Orleans, as the widening stream sweeps toward the Chesapeake Bay.

Even in the early history, the article points out, Allegany County was important as the vital link between the East and the almost unknown West.

Fort Cumberland, located at the junction of Wills Creek with the Potomac River, provided protection against hostile incursions and served as the resting place for those who journeyed toward the great West.

Holds Third Place

With the building of the Cumberland Road, which later became the National Road, now U. S. 40, Allegany County began its progress to its present eminence as the third largest industrial site in Maryland.

The county's 10 banks, which boast resources of nearly $70,000,000, are a vital part of the business and economic life of the state, and have contributed to the county's industrial development.

Cited by the author were important business communities located in Frostburg, Lonaconing, Mt. Savage and Westernport in the heart of Georges Creek, major source of the state's coal supply.

Stresses New Products

Major industries which contribute to Cumberland's economic growth and progress include the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the Celanese Corporation's big Amcelle plant, the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the Western Maryland Railway.

The author pointed out that the new Celanese fiber, "Arnel" represents an advanced development in the textile field and that Kelly's newest tire, "Celebrity," has proved so popular the plant has had to work six days a week to meet consumer demand.

The biggest industrial news, it was stressed, is the new $34,000,000 plant which will be built here by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

Banks Modernize

Cumberland banks were cited for modernization and enlargement, including a completely new building for the Cumberland Savings Bank, redesigning and modernization of facilities of the Liberty Trust Company, current enlargement and remodeling of the Second National Bank and plans of the First National Bank to modernize its present quarters. Both Frostburg banks have completed extensive modernization within the past few years.

The author points out that the pen used by President Eisenhower to sign Senate Bill 3481, which corrected certain statutory contradiction in banking laws, and passed through the cooperation of Senator J. Glenn Beall, is in the possession of Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank, and will occupy a prominent place in his new office when the bank quarters are completed next year.

The series of murals depicting industrial and scenic points, featured in the new quarters of the Liberty Trust Company, are also cited.

Banking News also pointed out the importance of the Savage River Dam in nearby Garrett County both to the Cumberland area and to the entire State of Maryland.

The adjoining recreation area offers facilities for fishing, hunting, picknicking and camping, and "scenes of panoramic beauty unexcelled anywhere in the state."

Allegany County bankers, it was pointed out, have held important posts in the Maryland Banking Association.

The most recent Allegany County banker to hold the top office (1952-53) is Charles A. Piper, president of the Liberty Trust Company.

William B. Yates, president of the Fidelity Savings Bank of Frostburg, is chairman of the association's bank management committee and is completing the program for a program of bank management and bank operations seminar in Baltimore on November 9.

The Allegany County tribute is illustrated by an architect's drawing of the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant, a view of the ground breaking ceremonies for the new plant and the Savage River Dam.

170 Give Blood Despite Voting And Snowfall

15 Donors Added To Gallon Club

Cumberlanders braved the snowstorm and went out to vote in heavy numbers yesterday, also pausing at the Red Cross Blood Bank to donate blood.

Red Cross workers who operate the blood bank here each month had feared the election might interfere with the scheduled monthly collection, but the regular quota of 150 was exceeded by 20 pints.

A total of 292 persons had been scheduled for appointments at the bloodmobile. Of this number 135 appeared. In addition, there were 46 walk-in volunteers. From this total of 181 visitors, only 11 were rejected and a total of 170 pints of blood resulted.

Dr. Richard Williams was the physician on duty throughout the afternoon.

Fifteen persons gave their eighth pint of blood each yesterday, making them new members of the Gallon Club.

The list includes Joseph A. Becker, 24 North Smallwood Street; Howard F. Brehm, RFD 4; Norman Chirdon, 202 Columbia Street; James Coyle, 112 North Smallwood Street; Vincent Delagrange, 815 Yale Street.

Two Ohio Teen Agers Face Federal Count In Theft Of Car

Two Ohio teenagers, who were arrested last Thursday and lodged in Allegany County jail, will be returned to that state for prosecution in Federal Court, on a charge of violation of the Dyer Act, which is transportating a stolen car across the state line.

Authorities last night said they are awaiting the arrival of a U.S. marshal, who is to take them back to Ohio. The two boys were arrested here after allegedly driving away from a Frostburg service station without paying for their gasoline and oil.

The boys, Ralph Laird, 16, of Akron and Jerry Gregg, 18, of Hartville, were nabbed on Baltimore Street by local police following an alert from the State Police barracks at LaVale.

She said the fruits were donated by area orchardists and were picked by men who are being aided by the Associated Charities.

Allegany County Featured In State Banking Magazine

The important position which Allegany County holds in the economy of the State of Maryland is featured in an article in the November issue of Banking News, official publication of the Maryland Bankers Association.

The historical and economic tribute to this county begins with an artistic view of the Potomac River on the cover of the magazine.

The photograph, taken by A. Aubrey Bodine, shows the beautiful stream at Doe Gully, near Little Orleans, as the widening stream sweeps toward the Chesapeake Bay.

Even in the early history, the article points out, Allegany County was important as the vital link between the East and the almost unknown West.

Fort Cumberland, located at the junction of Wills Creek with the Potomac River, provided protection against hostile incursions and served as the resting place for those who journeyed toward the great West.

Holds Third Place

With the building of the Cumberland Road, which later became the National Road, now U. S. 40, Allegany County began its progress to its present eminence as the third largest industrial site in Maryland.

The county's 10 banks, which boast resources of nearly $70,000,000, are a vital part of the business and economic life of the state, and have contributed to the county's industrial development.

Cited by the author were important business communities located in Frostburg, Lonaconing, Mt. Savage and Westernport in the heart of Georges Creek, major source of the state's coal supply.

Stresses New Products

Major industries which contribute to Cumberland's economic growth and progress include the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the Celanese Corporation's big Amcelle plant, the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the Western Maryland Railway.

The author pointed out that the new Celanese fiber, "Arnel" represents an advanced development in the textile field and that Kelly's newest tire, "Celebrity," has proved so popular the plant has had to work six days a week to meet consumer demand.

The biggest industrial news, it was stressed, is the new $34,000,000 plant which will be built here by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

Banks Modernize

Cumberland banks were cited for modernization and enlargement, including a completely new building for the Cumberland Savings Bank, redesigning and modernization of facilities of the Liberty Trust Company, current enlargement and remodeling of the Second National Bank and plans of the First National Bank to modernize its present quarters. Both Frostburg banks have completed extensive modernization within the past few years.

The author points out that the pen used by President Eisenhower to sign Senate Bill 3481, which corrected certain statutory contradiction in banking laws, and passed through the cooperation of Senator J. Glenn Beall, is in the possession of Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National Bank, and will occupy a prominent place in his new office when the bank quarters are completed next year.

The series of murals depicting industrial and scenic points, featured in the new quarters of the Liberty Trust Company, are also cited.

Banking News also pointed out the importance of the Savage River Dam in nearby Garrett County both to the Cumberland area and to the entire State of Maryland.

The adjoining recreation area offers facilities for fishing, hunting, picknicking and camping, and "scenes of panoramic beauty unexcelled anywhere in the state."

Allegany County bankers, it was pointed out, have held important posts in the Maryland Banking Association.

The most recent Allegany County banker to hold the top office (1952-53) is Charles A. Piper, president of the Liberty Trust Company.

William B. Yates, president of the Fidelity Savings Bank of Frostburg, is chairman of the association's bank management committee and is completing the program for a program of bank management and bank operations seminar in Baltimore on November 9.

The Allegany County tribute is illustrated by an architect's drawing of the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant, a view of the ground breaking ceremonies for the new plant and the Savage River Dam.

170 Give Blood Despite Voting And Snowfall

15 Donors Added To Gallon Club

Cumberlanders braved the snowstorm and went out to vote in heavy numbers yesterday, also pausing at the Red Cross Blood Bank to donate blood.

Red Cross workers who operate the blood bank here each month had feared the election might interfere with the scheduled monthly collection, but the regular quota of 150 was exceeded by 20 pints.

A total of 292 persons had been scheduled for appointments at the bloodmobile. Of this number 135 appeared. In addition, there were 46 walk-in volunteers. From this total of 181 visitors, only 11 were rejected and a total of 170 pints of blood resulted.

Dr. Richard Williams was the physician on duty throughout the afternoon.

Fifteen persons gave their eighth pint of blood each yesterday, making them new members of the Gallon Club.

Two Ohio Teen Agers Face Federal Count In Theft Of Car

Two Ohio teenagers, who were arrested last Thursday and lodged in Allegany County jail, will be returned to that state for prosecution in Federal Court, on a charge of violation of the Dyer Act, which is transportating a stolen car across the state line.

Authorities last night said they are awaiting the arrival of a U.S. marshal, who is to take them back to Ohio. The two boys were arrested here after allegedly driving away from a Frostburg service station without paying for their gasoline and oil.

The boys, Ralph Laird, 16, of Akron and Jerry Gregg, 18, of Hartville, were nabbed on Baltimore Street by local police following an alert from the State Police barracks at LaVale.

She said the fruits were donated by area orchardists and were picked by men who are being aided by the Associated Charities.

Miss Bonig said the fruit will make a welcome addition to the diet of families who are being helped by the Chest agency.

Rain, Snow Make Laurel Turf Soft For International Race

Johnson Will Make Second Effort To Buy A's For K.C.

Chicago Financier To Return To Philly

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP) — Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, said today he will return to Philadelphia tomorrow to get "right back in swing" on his effort to purchase the Athletics for Kansas City.

Johnson returned from Philadelphia yesterday to vote here and also "talk to my associates" in the proposed purchase of the A's.

Identities of the associates yesterday were disclosed for the first time by Johnson. They include Nathaniel Leverone, J. Patrick Lannan and Joseph H. Briggs, all wealthy Chicago businessmen.

Johnson's offer to buy the A's for $3,375,000 and his request to transfer the club to Kansas City was approved by the American League at a meeting here Oct. 12. Subsequently, the Macks decided to sell to a Philadelphia syndicate whose bid was rejected by the league at a New York meeting last Thursday.

Commenting on today's report the Athletics have dropped their Ottawa farm club in the International League, Johnson said he still was interested in the A's without that minor league franchise and it did not affect his bid.

Seven Horses Enter $65,000 Event Today

Fisherman Draws No. 4 Position; Brush Burn Is Other American Entry

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—Rain and raw winds swept Laurel race course today to promise a soft grass course for the seven American and foreign horses competing in the third running of the $65,000 Washington D. C. International.

The International has never been won by an American bred horse, and the horsemen from overseas are generally agreed that the 4-year-old French filly Banassa will carry the tri-color to a second straight victory in this mile and one half classic tomorrow. The French horse Worden II won it last fall, and England's Wilwyn copped the $56,000 prize in 1952.

Who Will Be Favorite?

Who will be the favorite is in dispute. Some believe C. V. Whitney's spunky little 3-year-old Fisherman will be the betting choice when the field lines up for the walk-up start tomorrow at 4:15 p. m., EST.

This is based on the fact that Fisherman finished second to the King Ranch's High Gun in two of this country's major races, the Belmont Stakes and the Jockey Club Gold Cup. The presence of Eddie Arcaro on Fisherman also won't hurt. Fisherman was a last minute substitute for High Gun who pulled a hip muscle yesterday.

Writer Picks Banassa

It all depends upon which side of the Atlantic you come from. A leading British turf writer makes Banassa the 3-1 favorite, with King of the Tudors 4-1 and Fisherman 5-1, Landau and Norman both 7-1, Brush Burn 8-1 and Northern Gleam 15-1.

The main question being asked is how the various horses might like a track softened by the rain, which the weatherman said would stop tonight.

"Soft going?" replied William Head, who trains Banassa for Frenchman Julien Decrion. "She'll run on any kind of a course."

Last year 24 hours before the race Maryland was swept by a blizzard and the deep snow caused a postponement of the International from Saturday to the following Wednesday, when a record Laurel crowd of 31,200 braved the course, with 5,000 being turned away.

Final Races At Laurel

A cancellation tomorrow would create a real problem. It is the last scheduled day of Laurel's meeting and Pimlico in Baltimore is to open Thursday.

There will be no television or radio broadcast of the International.

The trainer of Queen Elizabeth's 3-year-old black Landau merely shook his head when asked about the soft course.

"He won't like it a bit" said Noel Murless.

Happiest of all with the rain were the Irish, represented by the 4-year-old filly Northern Gleam.

"I'm praying that it keeps on pouring, and I think I'll go out and buy some hip boots," quipped exercise boy Frank McKenna as he gave the filly a brisk rubdown.

Brush Burn Mudder

Others in the race are the second American representative, Stanley S. Mikell's 5-year-old Brush Burn, Frank W. Dennis' English 4-year-old, King of the Tudors, and another well regarded French invader, Ernest Masurel's 6-year-old Norman. Brush Burn is a superior mudder, and a soft track would cause no worries for King of the Tudors or Norman.

In the draw for post positions, King of the Tudors was No. 1, followed by Landau, Northern Gleam, Fisherman, Brush Burn, Banassa and Norman.

Lonnie Jackson, sophomore halfback, featured with runs of 80 and 32 yards, scored two touchdowns and gained 125 yards on ground plays to spark Coach Jim Hosack's Allegany High School Jaycees to a 20-0 triumph over the Romney High junior varsity gridders yesterday at Romney.

The win was the second against three losses for the Little Campers. Tom Matlick recovered a Romney fumble on the Little Pioneers' 32 to set up the initial score in the first period. Then Jackson sprinted 32 yards for the touchdown.

In the second quarter Gary Holler recovered a fumble and raced 50 yards for the second six-pointer. Jackson smashed over for the extra point.

After Romney punted to the Allegany 10 in the final stanza, Jackson toted the pigskin 80 yards before being downed. In two plays he reeled off 10 yards for the final td and ran over the extra point.

The game was played in a snowstorm on a muddy field.

Allegany won the first game of the series from Romney by the score of 26-0.

Drill In Hail Storm

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 2 (AP)—North Carolina State's Wolfpack didn't let a driving hail storm prevent it from getting in its practice licks today as work continued for Saturday's football game with Maryland at College Park, Md.

The regulars checked over their defenses against the freshmen in a 45-minute workout.

Deer Shut Out Archers Second Straight Day

Bow hunters yesterday were skunked by Allegany County deer for the second time in as many days since the special 12-day season got under way on Monday.

The checking stations at Shipway's Inn and LaVale barracks of the Maryland State Police reported "all quiet on the deer front."

One archer in the Green Ridge section remarked:

"I haven't seen a deer today. It's election day, maybe they were at the polls."

Dale Hillegas, Fort Hill Guard, Named Lineman-Of-The-Week

Becomes 13th Player Nominated For Award; Hudson Is Repeater

DALE HILLEGAS

Dale Hillegas, Fort Hill High School guard, yesterday was named Lineman-of-the-Week by the Knights of Columbus Selection Committee in recognition of his fine performance in the Saturday night game at the Stadium where Coach William P. Hahn's Sentinels defeated the Westminster High School Owls by the score of 27-7.

Hillegas several times made solo tackles to stop Westminster runs and was in and about all plays through the line. He also contributed key blocks for Sentinel runs. Dale always has been high in the consideration of the selection committee since the season started and he finally got the nod for the first time.

Others who figured in the balloting were Jim Rowe, Fort Hill guard; Barry Sterner, tackle, and Carl Brown, guard, both of Allegany, and Mike Dougherty, LaSalle end. In the LaSalle-Allegany game which the Explorers won, 7-6, Friday night, Brown threw several key blocks for AHS runners while Sterner, star on defense, recovered a fumble in the third period. Dougherty blocked two Allegany kicks for extra points. The first time a penalty by LaSalle gave the Campers a chance to kick over and Dougherty broke through for the block.

Hudson Picked 2nd Time

The K. of C. Back-of-the Week is Harold Hudson, classy fullback of LaSalle's Explorers who excelled in the Allegany game. He is the first two-time winner this season.

Hudson accounted for all of LaSalle's points in Friday's intra-city contest. In addition to scoring the touchdown and kicking the point that decided the game, Harold gained 57 net yards in 18 carries and starred defensively to stop two Allegany drives in the second half. He scored LaSalle's touchdown on an 18-yard run.

Other players cited for good performances in weekend contests were Bill Buzzard, who started at quarterback for LaSalle for the first time, and Jim Crawford and Bob Andrews, Fort Hill's backfield stars.

13 Players Nominated

The thirteen players who have qualified to date as candidates for the Player-of-the-Year gold wrist watch are as follows:

BACKS—Harold Hudson (2) and Joe Conroy, LaSalle; Don Perdew and Don Rice, Allegany; Bob Andrews and Jerry Landis, Fort Hill.

LINEMEN—Dale Hillegas, Kenny Poling and Jack Andrews, Fort Hill; Barry Sterner, Rodney Breedlove, Dick Johnson and Carl Brown, Allegany.

K-C Shufflers Win Over Redmen, 3-0

The Cumberland Knights of Columbus moved into a tie with Stadium Inn of Frostburg for fourth place in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League by sweeping three games from the Cumberland Redmen last night.

The Knights now own a 14-7 record, five games back of the front-running Fisher and Robinette team.

Paul A. Stitcher was high scorer for the K. of C. with 26 points while Burrall paced the Redmen with 10 tallies.

Hubs-Bulldogs Game Postponed To Nov. 17

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 2 — Rain and snow resulted in postponement of the football game between Hagerstown High School and Martinsburg High School tonight until Wednesday, November 17.

Coaches Mel Henry, Hagerstown, and John Coburn, Martinsburg, conferred at noon today and decided that the field would be unfit for play tonight.

It was the second time the game was postponed.

Battered Fordham Opposes WVU Next

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Fordham's battered football team, still nursing its bruises after last Friday's terrific 75-7 beating at the hands of the University of Miami, was forced indoors by heavy rains today.

The major portion of the Ram's workout centered on defense against West Virginia plays. Fordham meets the Mountaineers at Morgantown, W. Va., Saturday.

All are expected to be ready for action this weekend.

Johnson Will Make Second Effort To Buy A's For K.C.

Chicago Financier To Return To Philly

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP) — Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, said today he will return to Philadelphia tomorrow to get "right back in swing" on his effort to purchase the Athletics for Kansas City.

Johnson returned from Philadelphia yesterday to vote here and also "talk to my associates" in the proposed purchase of the A's.

Identities of the associates yesterday were disclosed for the first time by Johnson. They include Nathaniel Leverone, J. Patrick Lannan and Joseph H. Briggs, all wealthy Chicago businessmen.

Johnson's offer to buy the A's for $3,375,000 and his request to transfer the club to Kansas City was approved by the American League at a meeting here Oct. 12. Subsequently, the Macks decided to sell to a Philadelphia syndicate whose bid was rejected by the league at a New York meeting last Thursday.

Commenting on today's report the Athletics have dropped their Ottawa farm club in the International League, Johnson said he still was interested in the A's without that minor league franchise and it did not affect his bid.

Seven Horses Enter $65,000 Event Today

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—Rain and raw winds swept Laurel race course today to promise a soft grass course for the seven American and foreign horses competing in the third running of the $65,000 Washington D. C. International.

The International has never been won by an American bred horse, and the horsemen from overseas are generally agreed that the 4-year-old French filly Banassa will carry the tri-color to a second straight victory in this mile and one half classic tomorrow. The French horse Worden II won it last fall, and England's Wilwyn copped the $56,000 prize in 1952.

Who Will Be Favorite?

Who will be the favorite is in dispute. Some believe C. V. Whitney's spunky little 3-year-old Fisherman will be the betting choice when the field lines up for the walk-up start tomorrow at 4:15 p. m., EST.

This is based on the fact that Fisherman finished second to the King Ranch's High Gun in two of this country's major races, the Belmont Stakes and the Jockey Club Gold Cup. The presence of Eddie Arcaro on Fisherman also won't hurt. Fisherman was a last minute substitute for High Gun who pulled a hip muscle yesterday.

Writer Picks Banassa

It all depends upon which side of the Atlantic you come from. A leading British turf writer makes Banassa the 3-1 favorite, with King of the Tudors 4-1 and Fisherman 5-1, Landau and Norman both 7-1, Brush Burn 8-1 and Northern Gleam 15-1.

The main question being asked is how the various horses might like a track softened by the rain, which the weatherman said would stop tonight.

"Soft going?" replied William Head, who trains Banassa for Frenchman Julien Decrion. "She'll run on any kind of a course."

Last year 24 hours before the race Maryland was swept by a blizzard and the deep snow caused a postponement of the International from Saturday to the following Wednesday, when a record Laurel crowd of 31,200 braved the course, with 5,000 being turned away.

Final Races At Laurel

A cancellation tomorrow would create a real problem. It is the last scheduled day of Laurel's meeting and Pimlico in Baltimore is to open Thursday.

There will be no television or radio broadcast of the International.

The trainer of Queen Elizabeth's 3-year-old black Landau merely shook his head when asked about the soft course.

"He won't like it a bit" said Noel Murless.

Happiest of all with the rain were the Irish, represented by the 4-year-old filly Northern Gleam.

"I'm praying that it keeps on pouring, and I think I'll go out and buy some hip boots," quipped exercise boy Frank McKenna as he gave the filly a brisk rubdown.

Brush Burn Mudder

Others in the race are the second American representative, Stanley S. Mikell's 5-year-old Brush Burn, Frank W. Dennis' English 4-year-old, King of the Tudors, and another well regarded French invader, Ernest Masurel's 6-year-old Norman. Brush Burn is a superior mudder, and a soft track would cause no worries for King of the Tudors or Norman.

In the draw for post positions, King of the Tudors was No. 1, followed by Landau, Northern Gleam, Fisherman, Brush Burn, Banassa and Norman.

Lonnie Jackson, sophomore halfback, featured with runs of 80 and 32 yards, scored two touchdowns and gained 125 yards on ground plays to spark Coach Jim Hosack's Allegany High School Jaycees to a 20-0 triumph over the Romney High junior varsity gridders yesterday at Romney.

The win was the second against three losses for the Little Campers. Tom Matlick recovered a Romney fumble on the Little Pioneers' 32 to set up the initial score in the first period. Then Jackson sprinted 32 yards for the touchdown.

In the second quarter Gary Holler recovered a fumble and raced 50 yards for the second six-pointer. Jackson smashed over for the extra point.

After Romney punted to the Allegany 10 in the final stanza, Jackson toted the pigskin 80 yards before being downed. In two plays he reeled off 10 yards for the final td and ran over the extra point.

The game was played in a snowstorm on a muddy field.

Allegany won the first game of the series from Romney by the score of 26-0.

Drill In Hail Storm

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 2 (AP)—North Carolina State's Wolfpack didn't let a driving hail storm prevent it from getting in its practice licks today as work continued for Saturday's football game with Maryland at College Park, Md.

The regulars checked over their defenses against the freshmen in a 45-minute workout.

Dale Hillegas, Fort Hill Guard, Named Lineman-Of-The-Week

DALE HILLEGAS

Dale Hillegas, Fort Hill High School guard, yesterday was named Lineman-of-the-Week by the Knights of Columbus Selection Committee in recognition of his fine performance in the Saturday night game at the Stadium where Coach William P. Hahn's Sentinels defeated the Westminster High School Owls by the score of 27-7.

Hillegas several times made solo tackles to stop Westminster runs and was in and about all plays through the line. He also contributed key blocks for Sentinel runs. Dale always has been high in the consideration of the selection committee since the season started and he finally got the nod for the first time.

Others who figured in the balloting were Jim Rowe, Fort Hill guard; Barry Sterner, tackle, and Carl Brown, guard, both of Allegany, and Mike Dougherty, LaSalle end. In the LaSalle-Allegany game which the Explorers won, 7-6, Friday night, Brown threw several key blocks for AHS runners while Sterner, star on defense, recovered a fumble in the third period. Dougherty blocked two Allegany kicks for extra points. The first time a penalty by LaSalle gave the Campers a chance to kick over and Dougherty broke through for the block.

Hudson Picked 2nd Time

The K. of C. Back-of-the Week is Harold Hudson, classy fullback of LaSalle's Explorers who excelled in the Allegany game. He is the first two-time winner this season.

Hudson accounted for all of LaSalle's points in Friday's intra-city contest. In addition to scoring the touchdown and kicking the point that decided the game, Harold gained 57 net yards in 18 carries and starred defensively to stop two Allegany drives in the second half. He scored LaSalle's touchdown on an 18-yard run.

Other players cited for good performances in weekend contests were Bill Buzzard, who started at quarterback for LaSalle for the first time, and Jim Crawford and Bob Andrews, Fort Hill's backfield stars.

13 Players Nominated

The thirteen players who have qualified to date as candidates for the Player-of-the-Year gold wrist watch are as follows:

BACKS—Harold Hudson (2) and Joe Conroy, LaSalle; Don Perdew and Don Rice, Allegany; Bob Andrews and Jerry Landis, Fort Hill.

LINEMEN—Dale Hillegas, Kenny Poling and Jack Andrews, Fort Hill; Barry Sterner, Rodney Breedlove, Dick Johnson and Carl Brown, Allegany.

Deer Shut Out Archers Second Straight Day

Bow hunters yesterday were skunked by Allegany County deer for the second time in as many days since the special 12-day season got under way on Monday.

The checking stations at Shipway's Inn and LaVale barracks of the Maryland State Police reported "all quiet on the deer front."

One archer in the Green Ridge section remarked:

"I haven't seen a deer today. It's election day, maybe they were at the polls."

K-C Shufflers Win Over Redmen, 3-0

The Cumberland Knights of Columbus moved into a tie with Stadium Inn of Frostburg for fourth place in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League by sweeping three games from the Cumberland Redmen last night.

The Knights now own a 14-7 record, five games back of the front-running Fisher and Robinette team.

Paul A. Stitcher was high scorer for the K. of C. with 26 points while Burrall paced the Redmen with 10 tallies.

Hubs-Bulldogs Game Postponed To Nov. 17

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 2 — Rain and snow resulted in postponement of the football game between Hagerstown High School and Martinsburg High School tonight until Wednesday, November 17.

Coaches Mel Henry, Hagerstown, and John Coburn, Martinsburg, conferred at noon today and decided that the field would be unfit for play tonight.

It was the second time the game was postponed.

Battered Fordham Opposes WVU Next

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Fordham's battered football team, still nursing its bruises after last Friday's terrific 75-7 beating at the hands of the University of Miami, was forced indoors by heavy rains today.

The major portion of the Ram's workout centered on defense against West Virginia plays. Fordham meets the Mountaineers at Morgantown, W. Va., Saturday.

All are expected to be ready for action this weekend.

By C. V. BURNS

DIRECTORS of Little League baseball, meeting last week in New York, decreed that henceforth no boys under 12 years of age will be permitted to compete on tournament teams.

It was learned that boys attaining the age of 12 in competitive sports actually may have reached a physiological age of 14 or 15. At this age, it is felt, their skills and physiques may be developed well beyond the stage of childhood.

The measure is a step towards greater protection and safety. Twelve is the top age in Little League. Boys graduate from the activity upon reaching 13. Under the new ruling, therefore, only the older boys in the program will be accepted on the Little League tournament rosters.

This ruling will affect the Pen-Mar Little League which is affiliated with the national organization and participates in tournament play annually.

A SIMPLIFIED scoring system for boxing which would eliminate the New York method of awarding rounds has been proposed by Chairman Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

The new system is based entirely on points, ranging from zero to three.

He listed four categories: 0-0 for an even round, 1-0 for a good round or winning margin, 2-0 for an excellent round, 3-0 for a superior round.

Christenberry believes the point system is the only equitable way to score fights. He feels that the present system in New York is illogical since it scores both by rounds and by points. It was designated to eliminate draws. New York still has draws and Christenberry sees nothing wrong with them.

VALLEY High School's current championship team is the first in five years to go through the W.M.I. Soccer League campaign with a perfect record.

The 1954 Valley aggregation duplicated the feat performed by Coach John Meyers' 1949 Central High Tigers who reeled off eight consecutive victories.

Meyers tutored championship teams at Central in 1949 and 1950 and this year's winner was his second in a row at Valley High. His four title-winning elevens lost only one game out of 32 played.

Pitt Coach Scoffs At Betting Odds

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2 (AP)—Capt. Tom Hamilton, interim coach of the Pitt Panthers, scoffed today at betting odds of 13½ points against his team for Saturday's clash with Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio.

The Panthers, taking advantage of brisk, sunny weather concentrated their practice workout on offensive passing and pass defense. Trainer Howard Waite reports the squad is probably in the best condition of the entire season.

Allie Reynolds Suffers Injury

Finger On Right Hand Severely Cut In Fall

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2 (AP) — A slip in the shower last week may cost Allie Reynolds, the New York Yankee super chief, the remainder of his pitching career, it was being conjectured today.

The famous fireballer told the Daily Oklahoman the index finger of his right hand was severely cut in the accident last Thursday at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Reynolds had returned from deer hunting. While taking a shower the mat slipped, throwing him into the glass enclosure.

A specialist was summoned and soon after performed an 80-minute operation in a Colorado Springs hospital on the finger which suffered a bone-deep gash. Skin had to be grafted over the cut.

Results of the surgery will not be known until tomorrow, Reynolds informed the newspaper.

He said he will wait and see what happens before deciding about his career. Reynolds is 37.

U.S. Quint May Play Brazilians In Final

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 2 (AP)—The favored United States team has a chance to wrap up the world basketball title when it meets unbeaten Brazil here Friday night.

The 14-day round-robin tournament had an off day today before moving into the final stages of competition.

The Peoria Caterpillars, representing the United States, have a slight individual advantage over the Brazilians but it could be offset by the home court advantage and the partisan crowd.

The U. S. must meet Israel Thursday night prior to its important clash with Brazil. The Israel's team is not expected to cause much difficulty.

Pitt Coach Scoffs At Betting Odds

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2 (AP)—Capt. Tom Hamilton, interim coach of the Pitt Panthers, scoffed today at betting odds of 13½ points against his team for Saturday's clash with Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio.

The Panthers, taking advantage of brisk, sunny weather concentrated their practice workout on offensive passing and pass defense. Trainer Howard Waite reports the squad is probably in the best condition of the entire season.

Allie Reynolds Suffers Injury

Finger On Right Hand Severely Cut In Fall

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2 (AP) — A slip in the shower last week may cost Allie Reynolds, the New York Yankee super chief, the remainder of his pitching career, it was being conjectured today.

The famous fireballer told the Daily Oklahoman the index finger of his right hand was severely cut in the accident last Thursday at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Reynolds had returned from deer hunting. While taking a shower the mat slipped, throwing him into the glass enclosure.

A specialist was summoned and soon after performed an 80-minute operation in a Colorado Springs hospital on the finger which suffered a bone-deep gash. Skin had to be grafted over the cut.

Results of the surgery will not be known until tomorrow, Reynolds informed the newspaper.

He said he will wait and see what happens before deciding about his career. Reynolds is 37.

U.S. Quint May Play Brazilians In Final

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 2 (AP)—The favored United States team has a chance to wrap up the world basketball title when it meets unbeaten Brazil here Friday night.

The 14-day round-robin tournament had an off day today before moving into the final stages of competition.

The Peoria Caterpillars, representing the United States, have a slight individual advantage over the Brazilians but it could be offset by the home court advantage and the partisan crowd.

The U. S. must meet Israel Thursday night prior to its important clash with Brazil. The Israel's team is not expected to cause much difficulty.

Funny Movies

I suppose every parent has substantially the same experience I had with "Disneyland." "Disneyland," the hour-long Walt Disney program (ABC-TV 7:30 p. m. EST Wednesdays), had the kids ga ga for weeks before it arrived—what with a fanfare of publicity which blared forth from ABC every hour.

When the great day arrived, we were greeted with a tour of the vast Disney studios at Burbank, shown films in the works, notably a shot of James Mason spearing a giant squid, men at work on drawing boards and quite a lot of Walt Disney who is acting as his own host. The children stirred restively. "After this, all funny movies?" asked my son. I ought to explain that funny movies in our house are any sort of animated cartoon whether they're funny or not.

I said I didn't know what Mr. Disney, had in store for us. Disney, meanwhile, was explaining his Disneyland, the 160-acre amusement park he's now building near Anaheim, Calif. My daughter started playing with the puppy. "Tell me when the show starts," she said. Well, it had but not so far as they were concerned. Disney was talking about the Davy Crockett saga which will be part of the show in future editions. Then he explained how his crews shot his nature pictures with shorts of seals and turtles and penguins.

The children's interest flickered briefly at the pictures of the animals but they were still, fifteen minutes after the show went on the air, asking: "When does it start?"

Well, finally it did with one of Disney's old Uncle Remus shorts in which Br'er Rabbit outwitted Br'er Fox and Br'er Bear. From here on, Mr. Disney had the kids in the palm of his hands—and me, too. Appropriately, the first program was a salute to Mickey Mouse, the 26-year-old screen star, who, as Mr. Disney says, is "the little fellow who made everything else possible." As Babe Ruth built Yankee Stadium so Mickey built the whole Disney empire.

Disney showed us the very first Mickey Mouse short, a silent picture called "Plane Crazy" made in the middle of the hubbub created by Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic. This was to correct the impression that the first Mickey Mouse, an event of some historic importance, was "Steamboat Willie."

Then there was another one, "Lonesome Ghosts," with Mickey, Pluto and that great Disney star, Donald Duck, in which this redoubtable trio sets out to exercise the ghosts from a haunted house. And very funny, too. By that time my children were purring like kittens. Mr. Disney had won them.

The prime tidbit of the evening was another Mickey Mouse hit, a classic from "Fantasia," in which Mickey with the assistance of Leopold Stokowski conducts the Philadelphia Symphony through "The Sorcerers Apprentice." This is the Disney magic at its very, very best. The children, who have already seen it two or three times, sat entranced. If it is true that the children control the set in the house, Mr. Disney—and ABC—are likely to own 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. every Wednesday. That is, if he cuts out all the emceeing and gets on with the funny movies.

I'm not sure that he will. Mr. Disney has candidly confessed that this series, which actually costs him money, is intended primarily as a tremendous plug for his amusement park. By the time he gets the place finished, Disneyland ought to be as well known as Coney Island.

This Wednesday the entire hour of Disneyland will be devoted to the adventures of Alice in Wonderland. In short, a whole hour of funny movies. The kids will go out of their minds.

Daily Bridge Lesson

SAVE VITAL ENTRIES

TAKING out the defenders' trumps at the start, as a matter of habit, seems to be the policy of many careless players. Some of them will do that almost every time, except those occasions when they must ruff out a loser or so in the dummy. Even when no ruffing is contemplated, it is sometimes important to postpone some of the trump-drawing, as the dummy's high trumps can be used as vital entries which must be preserved.

	♠ J 10 9 8 ♥ K Q 2 ♦ 8 6 3 ♣ 10 8 3
♠ K 5 4 ♥ J 10 7 5 ♦ J 7 ♣ J 6 5 2	N W E S	♠ A Q 3 2 ♥ 8 ♦ A Q 10 4 2 ♣ K 9 7
	♠ 7 6 ♥ A 9 6 4 3 ♦ K 9 5 ♣ A Q 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	Pass	2 ♥	2 ♠
3 ♥	Dbl.

At most tables of a duplicate game, East played this deal at 3-Diamonds and made the contract, getting 60 for tricks plus 50 bonus for part-score, or a total of 110. Where the bidding at three tables was as given, South felt he was probably bidding for a fall with his 3-Hearts, expecting to be beaten a trick doubled, to give the opponents 100—which would be better than losing 110.

Two of those 3-Hearts declarers, however, were set two tricks, giving East-West 300 points. In each case the lead was the diamond J to the A, and the Q came back to the K. The careless Souths then began to draw trumps with the heart K and Q. When East's discard showed West as having a sure trump trick, they had to lose a total of two in spades, one in hearts, two in diamonds and one in clubs, six all told, to be down two.

The third declarer saw a chance to make good use of the dummy's trump honors as entries. He, upon getting in with the diamond K, led a spade to the J, which the Q won. The diamond 10 was scored and he won the club return with the finessed Q. A spade to the 10 lost to the A and the next club was won by the A. Only now did South lead a trump, to the K, so he could bring forth the spade 9 and ruff it. A second heart lead of the A, then the 4 to the Q, enabled him to lead the fourth spade and put on it the club 4. West ruffed that with the heart J, but South had the heart 9 left for the last trick.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K 5 ♥ J 10 9 4 ♦ A Q J 4 2 ♣ 9 5
♠ Q 10 8 7 3 2 ♥ K 2 ♦ K 9 5 ♣ 7 4	N W E S	♠ 9 4 ♥ A 8 7 6 ♦ 10 8 7 ♣ A J 8 2
	♠ A J 6 ♥ Q 5 3 ♦ 6 3 ♣ K Q 10 6 3

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If West so mistrusted South's opening club bid that he led the club 7 against the eventual 3-No Trumps, how should East read the lead? And what should he do?

Then he explained how his crews shot his nature pictures with shorts of seals and turtles and penguins.

The children's interest flickered briefly at the pictures of the animals but they were still, fifteen minutes after the show went on the air, asking: "When does it start?"

Well, finally it did with one of Disney's old Uncle Remus shorts in which Br'er Rabbit outwitted Br'er Fox and Br'er Bear. From here on, Mr. Disney had the kids in the palm of his hands—and me, too. Appropriately, the first program was a salute to Mickey Mouse, the 26-year-old screen star, who, as Mr. Disney says, is "the little fellow who made everything else possible." As Babe Ruth built Yankee Stadium so Mickey built the whole Disney empire.

Disney showed us the very first Mickey Mouse short, a silent picture called "Plane Crazy" made in the middle of the hubbub created by Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic. This was to correct the impression that the first Mickey Mouse, an event of some historic importance, was "Steamboat Willie."

Then there was another one, "Lonesome Ghosts," with Mickey, Pluto and that great Disney star, Donald Duck, in which this redoubtable trio sets out to exercise the ghosts from a haunted house. And very funny, too. By that time my children were purring like kittens, Mr. Disney had won them.

The prime tidbit of the evening was another Mickey Mouse hit, a classic from "Fantasia," in which Mickey with the assistance of Leopold Stokowski conducts the Philadelphia Symphony through 'The Sorcerers Apprentice." This is the Disney magic at its very, very best. The children, who have already seen it two or three times, sat entranced. If it is true that the children control the set in the house, Mr. Disney—and ABC—are likely to own 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. every Wednesday. That is, if he cuts out all the emceeing and gets on with the funny movies.

I'm not sure that he will. Mr. Disney has candidly confessed that this series, which actually costs him money, is intended primarily as a tremendous plug for his amusement park. By the time he gets the place finished, Disneyland ought to be as well known as Coney Island.

This Wednesday the entire hour of Disneyland will be devoted to the adventures of Alice in Wonderland. In short, a whole hour of funny movies. The kids will go out of their minds.

Daily Bridge Lesson

SAVE VITAL ENTRIES

TAKING out the defenders' trumps at the start, as a matter of habit, seems to be the policy of many careless players. Some of them will do that almost every time, except those occasions when they must ruff out a loser or so in the dummy. Even when no ruffing is contemplated, it is sometimes important to postpone some of the trump-drawing, as the dummy's high trumps can be used as vital entries which must be preserved.

	♠ J 10 9 8 ♥ K Q 2 ♦ 8 6 3 ♣ 10 8 3
♠ K 5 4 ♥ J 10 7 5 ♦ J 7 ♣ J 6 5 2	N W E S	♠ A Q 3 2 ♥ 8 ♦ A Q 10 4 2 ♣ K 9 7
	♠ 7 6 ♥ A 9 6 4 3 ♦ K 9 5 ♣ A Q 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	Pass	2 ♥	2 ♠
3 ♥	Dbl.

At most tables of a duplicate game, East played this deal at 3-Diamonds and made the contract, getting 60 for tricks plus 50 bonus for part-score, or a total of 110. Where the bidding at three tables was as given, South felt he was probably bidding for a fall with his 3-Hearts, expecting to be beaten a trick doubled, to give the opponents 100—which would be better than losing 110.

Two of those 3-Hearts declarers, however, were set two tricks, giving East-West 300 points. In each case the lead was the diamond J to the A, and the Q came back to the K. The careless Souths then began to draw trumps with the heart K and Q. When East's discard showed West as having a sure trump trick, they had to lose a total of two in spades, one in hearts, two in diamonds and one in clubs, six all told, to be down two.

The third declarer saw a chance to make good use of the dummy's trump honors as entries. He, upon getting in with the diamond K, led a spade to the J, which the Q won. The diamond 10 was scored and he won the club return with the finessed Q. A spade to the 10 lost to the A and the next club was won by the A. Only now did South lead a trump, to the K, so he could bring forth the spade 9 and ruff it. A second heart lead of the A, then the 4 to the Q, enabled him to lead the fourth spade and put on it the club 4. West ruffed that with the heart J, but South had the heart 9 left for the last trick.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K 5 ♥ J 10 9 4 ♦ A Q J 4 2 ♣ 9 5
♠ Q 10 8 7 3 2 ♥ K 2 ♦ K 9 5 ♣ 7 4	N W E S	♠ 9 4 ♥ A 8 7 6 ♦ 10 8 7 ♣ A J 8 2
	♠ A J 6 ♥ Q 5 3 ♦ 6 3 ♣ K Q 10 6 3

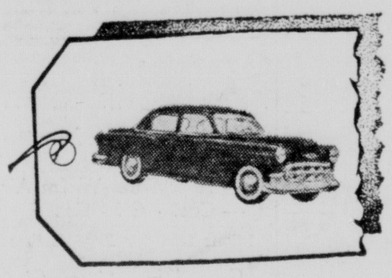

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If West so mistrusted South's opening club bid that he led the club 7 against the eventual 3-No Trumps, how should East read the lead? And what should he do?

Leading Teams Meet Tonight In Ladies' Shuffleboard Loop

The four top teams in the Allegany County Ladies' Shuffleboard League will shoot it out in two important matches here tonight.

Clingerman's first place team (11-4) will host the Woodmen of the World (9-6), now tied with Stadium Inn and the Hi Dee Club for the runner-up spot.

The Hi Dee Club and Stadium Inn will tangle at Frostburg.

Purple Heart Club will visit Cas Taylor's, Pocahontas will host the Frostburg Golden Nugget and the Cresaptown Firemen will engage Frostburg American Legion at Cresaptown in other matches on tap for tonight.

Wes Abrams, present Romney High coach, who was Bruce's running mate that year, finished in the runner-up position in the city scoring race with 90 points.

The "Touchdown Twins" accounted for 228 of the 339 points rolled up by the Campers who won nine and tied one.

ROSS MASTREAN'S "little" brother Sammy, the Pittsburgh welterweight, has landed the feature bout in the Omaha Centennial boxing show set for November 18. His opponent will be New York's Joe Miceli.

Sammy has been fighting professionally for eight years.

Ross tips the beam at 180, plays halfback on the football team and is catcher on the baseball team at Potomac State College.

RIDGELEY High School, LaSalle's opponent here Friday night, is enjoying its best season since Chet Payne took over the grid reins in 1952. The Blackhawks own a 4-2 record now. They were 0-9 in 1952 and 3-6 last year.

In fact, this is the first year that Ridgeley has been over the .500 mark since 1948 when Jesse Riggleman's club posted a 5-2-1 record.

TO FROSTBURG baseball fan: The Baltimore Orioles, managed by Jack Dunn, played in Frostburg Monday, September 19, 1921 and defeated the Frostburg Demons in an exhibition game by the score of 10-3.

Lefty Grove pitched the nine innings for the Orioles, yielded six hits, one a two-run triple by Johnny Byrnes, and fanned nine. The Orioles led 10-0 in the 8th when Byrnes teed off.

Irvin "Stub" Rase pitched seven innings for Frostburg while Harry Courtney, whom the Washington Senators loaned to the Demons, hurled the last two frames.

The Baltimore lineup included Fritz Maisel, Jack Bentley, Merwin Jacobson, Dick Porter and Lena Styles. "Reggie" Rawlings, Blue Ridge League star, played left field for Frostburg and Lee Diehl, who went from Ellerslie to the Blue Ridge loop, played centerfield. Other Frostburg players were Joe Brophy, Fay Anderson, who got two hits, Henry Pfister, Enoch Logsdon and Bobby Blair.

Lena Styles, Orioles' catcher, belted a homer over the left field fence and also rapped a triple and single.

That Baltimore team, incidentally, was the third of the seven consecutive International League pennant winners piloted by Dunn.

THE LAST TIME that an Allegany High football team dropped three games in a row was in 1946 when it lost to Hagerstown (38-0), Keyser (19-13) and Roosevelt-Wilson of Clarksburg (14-7).

LASALLE has figured in four games this year in which the point-after-touchdown was the deciding factor. The Explorers lost to St. Francis Prep, 13-12, and defeated Parsons 21-19, Keyser 7-6 and Allegany 7-6.

NEW DORP High School, of Staten Island, N. Y., coached by Sa Somma, Ridgeley native who starred at New York U., is grabbing headlines these days in the New York Times.

The Centrals have won four in a row and their latest victim is the Lafayette High Frenchies of Brooklyn. The score was 19-14.

Mickey's Knee Is OK

Hunters Should Get Sight Test

AP Newsfeatures

ALBANY, N. Y. — All hunters should have their vision checked before going into the woods, says Dr. Milton B. Matin, president of the New York State Optometric Assn.

Dr. Matin points out that bright red hunting hats and coats may not be any protection at all since many people are color blind.

To increase hunting safety Dr. Matin suggests:

A hunter should have his vision checked even before he buys a hunting license.

If you are near-sighted, the right glasses can correct this defect sufficiently for hunting.

If you are far-sighted, or have difficulty focusing on near objects, a telescopic sight may correct your vision defect.

If you have difficulty seeing the sides while looking straight ahead you have "tunnel vision" and should see an optometrist.

If you are color blind, be doubly careful in the woods.

If you normally wear glasses be sure to wear them hunting.

If your eyes are not perfect, hunt only on bright days.

And if you wear glasses on foggy or wet days a very light coating of soap or wax will keep the lenses clear.

Johnson Heights Posts Pair Of Touch Wins

Johnson Heights won two games, one via forfeit and the other in overtime, John Humbird lost two contests and Carver posted a victory in the Grade School Division of the City Rec Touch Football League yesterday at Penn Avenue Field.

Johnson Heights won by forfeit from Penn Avenue and then edged John Humbird in an overtime affair, 7-6, George Twigg and Bob Reed scored the touchdowns.

Dick Peck accounted for three scores as Carver took the measure of John Humbird, 24-0. The quarter scores:

JOHNSON HEIGHTS	6	0	0	0	1—7
JOHN HUMBIRD	0	0	6	0	0—6

Touchdowns: Johnson Heights—Reed. John Humbird—Twigg.

CARVER	6	6	6	6	24

Summer Tan III

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Summer Tan, winner of the $269,965 Garden State, the world's richest horse race, was taken suddenly and seriously ill in his stall at Belmont Park today.

Veterinarians diagnosed the ailment as an embolism in the arteries supplying the colt's intestines.

Summer Tan, owned by Mrs. Russell A. Firestone, took a place among the season's leading two-year-olds by Saturday's victory and had been expected to become a rival of Nashua in next year's three-year-old classics.

Orioles Sign Bosse

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have signed Louis T. Bosse, 3d, 19-year-old Baltimorean and City College graduate, for their Thetford Mines, Que., farm club.

Bosse is five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs 170 and bats and throws right handed.

He was a standout player in sandlot leagues in the past two years, homering 12 times and batting .350 last summer in 45 games for the U. S. Iron records of 23 touchdowns and 138 points, established in 1948, are safe for another grid season.

Wes Abrams, present Romney High coach, who was Bruce's running mate that year, finished in the runner-up position in the city scoring race with 90 points.

The "Touchdown Twins" accounted for 228 of the 339 points rolled up by the Campers who won nine and tied one.

ROSS MASTREAN'S "little" brother Sammy, the Pittsburgh welterweight, has landed the feature bout in the Omaha Centennial boxing show set for November 18. His opponent will be New York's Joe Miceli.

Sammy has been fighting professionally for eight years.

Ross tips the beam at 180, plays halfback on the football team and is catcher on the baseball team at Potomac State College.

RIDGELEY High School, LaSalle's opponent here Friday night, is enjoying its best season since Chet Payne took over the grid reins in 1952. The Blackhawks own a 4-2 record now. They were 0-9 in 1952 and 3-6 last year.

In fact, this is the first year that Ridgeley has been over the .500 mark since 1948 when Jesse Riggleman's club posted a 5-2-1 record.

TO FROSTBURG baseball fan: The Baltimore Orioles, managed by Jack Dunn, played in Frostburg Monday, September 19, 1921 and defeated the Frostburg Demons in an exhibition game by the score of 10-3.

Lefty Grove pitched the nine innings for the Orioles, yielded six hits, one a two-run triple by Johnny Byrnes, and fanned nine. The Orioles led 10-0 in the 8th when Byrnes teed off.

Irvin "Stub" Rase pitched seven innings for Frostburg while Harry Courtney, whom the Washington Senators loaned to the Demons, hurled the last two frames.

The Baltimore lineup included Fritz Maisel, Jack Bentley, Merwin Jacobson, Dick Porter and Lena Styles. "Reggie" Rawlings, Blue Ridge League star, played left field for Frostburg and Lee Diehl, who went from Ellerslie to the Blue Ridge loop, played centerfield. Other Frostburg players were Joe Brophy, Fay Anderson, who got two hits, Henry Pfister, Enoch Logsdon and Bobby Blair.

Lena Styles, Orioles' catcher, belted a homer over the left field fence and also rapped a triple and single.

That Baltimore team, incidentally, was the third of the seven consecutive International League pennant winners piloted by Dunn.

THE LAST TIME that an Allegany High football team dropped three games in a row was in 1946 when it lost to Hagerstown (38-0), Keyser (19-13) and Roosevelt-Wilson of Clarksburg (14-7).

LASALLE has figured in four games this year in which the point-after-touchdown was the deciding factor. The Explorers lost to St. Francis Prep, 13-12, and defeated Parsons 21-19, Keyser 7-6 and Allegany 7-6.

NEW DORP High School, of Staten Island, N. Y., coached by Sa Somma, Ridgeley native who starred at New York U., is grabbing headlines these days in the New York Times.

The Centrals have won four in a row and their latest victim is the Lafayette High Frenchies of Brooklyn. The score was 19-14.

Mickey's Knee Is OK

Summer Tan III

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Summer Tan, winner of the $269,965 Garden State, the world's richest horse race, was taken suddenly and seriously ill in his stall at Belmont Park today.

Veterinarians diagnosed the ailment as an embolism in the arteries supplying the colt's intestines.

Summer Tan, owned by Mrs. Russell A. Firestone, took a place among the season's leading two-year-olds by Saturday's victory and had been expected to become a rival of Nashua in next year's three-year-old classics.

Orioles Sign Bosse

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have signed Louis T. Bosse, 3d, 19-year-old Baltimorean and City College graduate, for their Thetford Mines, Que., farm club.

Bosse is five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs 170 and bats and throws right handed.

He was a standout player in sandlot leagues in the past two years, homering 12 times and batting .350 last summer in 45 games for the U. S. Iron and Steel team here.

GOP Delegation Seems Assured

Republican candidates, headed by State Senator Robert B. Kimble, were piling up satisfactory leads as the count in yesterday's election passed the one-third mark early this morning.

Turning out in miserable voting weather, voters from 38 of the county's 91 polling places gave Senator Kimble a total of 4,765 votes, with William L. Wilson, the Democratic candidate for State Senate trailing with 3,879 ballots.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir, at the 20 precinct point in the ballot count, appeared an easy victor over his Democratic opponent, Graydon S. Dunlap, with a count of 2,605 to 1,528.

Making a dramatic comeback, Charles N. Wilkinson was the top vote getter, leading two other Republican candidates for the posts of County Commissioner, and the early returns indicated he will serve with William H. Lemmert and James Orr.

An all-Republican delegation to the House of Delegates also seemed sure.

Leading in the race was veteran Charles M. See, with Lester B. Reed, Noel Speir Cook, Estel C. Kelley, Fred B. Driscoll, all incumbents, and George R. Hughes Jr., following in the winning column.

Grant County Stays GOP By Wide Majority

Neely Loses County By Huge 1,605 Margin

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — This normally Republican county with about 5400 registered voters ran true to form in yesterday's balloting and gave all GOP candidates whopping majorities. The count from the county's 16 polling places was completed in record time.

Tom Sweeney of Wheeling, W. Va., seeking election to the United States Senate, polled 2181 tallies to his opponent, incumbent Matthew M. Neely's 576.

In the Congressional contest, Grant County also favored Albert M. Morgan, of Morgantown, the Republican with 2103 votes to Harley O. Staggers 642. Staggers, from Keyser, is the Democrat incumbent

In the State Senatorial contest, Walter H. Wolfe, of Grafton, Democrat, polled 526, while the Republican candidates, Dayton R. Stemple of Philippi, polled 2134.

On the county ticket, the Democrats of Grant County failed to oppose any of the Republican office seekers.

D. E. Cuppett Jr., GOP candidate for prosecuting attorney, received a total of 2196 votes.

Larkin B. Ours of Dorcas received 2196 as the candidate for the House of Delegates.

In the district elections there was also no Democratic opposition. Milroy District elected Henry V. Sites as a member of the County Court with 1053 votes; and Elizabeth P. Boor as justice of the peace with 1026.

In Grant District, Myron H. McDonald of Maysville was elected to the County Court with 523 tallies.

In Union District, A. B. Cosner of Bismarck goes to County Court with 606 tallies.

The county-wide vote on the legislative amendment to raise the salaries of legislators from $500 to $1,500 per year, went against the amendment. The tally was for, 489 and against 683.

Recount Looms In Tucker Co. Ballot Contest

Two Votes Separate Commissioner Foes

PARSONS, W. Va.—A possible recount in Tucker County's election returns appears imminent, unless the official tally changes things considerably.

In the tabulation, completed from all of the county's 19 polling places well before midnight yesterday, only two votes separated the candidates for county commissioner.

The Republican, R. F. "Russ" Carr is given 1643 votes, while Wesley L. Cross, the Democrat, is the unofficial winner with 1645 votes.

Neither of these men, Cross a tannery worker and Carr, a barber, have held public office before.

The county which has a registered Democratic total of 3769 and Republican poll record of 2879, stayed in the Democratic column, but the GOP was issuing a heavy challenge all the way.

The unofficial tally follows:

U. S. SENATE

Neely, Democrat	1928
Sweeney, Republican	1406

CONGRESS

Staggers, Democrat	2005

The county voters were almost two to one against the amendment to raise the pay of legislators. The tally was For 692 and Against 1289.

Garrett County Points To GOP In Early Count

Amendments Backed By County's Voters

A very small percentage of the voters who went to the polls in Allegany County took cognizance of the fact there were nine amendments to the State Constitution on the ballot, following compilation of 22 of the 91 precincts.

Balloting for or against the nine proposed changes in the Constitution was very light compared to the heavier vote which was cast in the races for state, county and Congressional offices. Fewer than 25 per cent of the ballots cast had the amendments marked.

However, county voters did follow the trend in the state by approving all but one of the changes while the overall picture indicated approval of the entire slate in Maryland.

Closest battle in Allegany County on the basis of returns in 22 precincts was the proposed raise in salary for the governor which hiked his stipened from $4,500 annually to $15,000. Voters for the raise carried a slim margin of four ballots, 666 to 662. The raise appeared to be approved throughout the state also.

Chief among the proposals for change was the "home rule" amendment, No. 5 on the ballot. Here in Allegany County approval of the change which gave municipal corporations the right to amend their charters on matters relating to the corporations, organization and government of towns and cities was apparently on its way to victory with a 662 to 336 margin.

Statewide the amendment on home rule was winning by an 85,760 count to 19,769.

Alleganians were primarly interested, too, in the first amendment, which would assign a circuit judge to every county except on the Eastern Shore. Allegany County presently has two associate judges in the fourth judicial circuit. The new amendment would take one of those judgeships away from the county in the event one retires or dies, as he would not be replaced.

The Allegany County Bar Association went on record as opposing the amendment on that basis. Returns from the first 22 precincts indicated county voters also felt the same way as the legislative change was the only one to be trailing at that point. The county vote was 591 for and 688 against the amendment.

Statewide, the amendment was carrying 56,652 to 46,453 in 560 of 1,345 precincts. Under the new arrangement each county would elect its own judge.

Separate amendments which add resident judges to Baltimore and Montgomery counties were ahead in Allegany County as well as the remainder of the state, as was the amendment to extend absentee vot-

More Snow Is Forecast For District

Continued cold weather and more snow flurries were promised last night and today as Ol' Man Weather let loose with the first real taste of chilly temperatures.

Heavy flurries fell yesterday and sections of the main highways of the district were slippery due to the wet snow which fell.

East of here at Harpers Ferry, W. Va., on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad light snow was falling with the thermometer hovering around freezing. The mercury registered 30 degrees in the vicinity of Terra Alta and Blazer, with cloudy skies.

The mercury plunged farther along points of the Western Maryland Railway. Thomas had a temperature of 25 degrees about 9 p. m. yesterday and at Deal, Pa., some three inches had fallen in the current cold snap and the temperature there was 26 degrees with cloudy skies.

Elkins reported a temperature reading of 28 degrees and cloudy. Here in Cumberland the weather was not quite as cold last night and at 9 p. m. the unofficial reading was 40 degrees.

State Police at LaVale yesterday evening reported roads as being clear although some fog was noted east of here on Route 40. Monday night snow fell on the highway in the Grantsville area but were ashed by the State Roads Commission.

Yesterday evening snow had stopped falling in that section. Route 50 east and west of Romney, W. Va. was reported slippery in spots.

At Oakland, according to the Sheriff's Office, about an inch of snow had fallen but roads were clear.

The official high here yesterday was 36 degrees with a low of 30 degrees at 6 p. m. Some snow flurries fell, but were not measurable. Some .19 inches of rain fell here yesterday.

Democrats Lead In Early Returns From Hampshire

Neely, Staggers Both Gain Margins

ROMNEY, W. Va.—This predominately Democratic stronghold remained in the Democratic column in yesterday's balloting, but the comparative registered vote indicates that the Republican sentiment and party organization was fighting all the way.

The Democratic registration in Hampshire County is 5915 and the Republican voters by comparison number only 1973. Yet despite this David and Goliath situation, the Republican candidates made a better than excellent showing.

In a county where the Democrats could have piled up a majority of 4,000 votes for their candidates, they managed to stay in the Democratic column by scant hundreds.

The unofficial returns from 20 of 28 precincts show Matthew M. Neely, Democratic candidate for US Senate polling 1692 against his GOP opponent Tom Sweeney's 1024.

Harley O. Staggers, Democrat for Congress polled 1850, against Albert M. Morgan's 892.

Clarence E. Martin, Jr., candidate for State Senator on the Democratic ticket polled 1824. He was unopposed.

For the House of Delegates, 20 precincts gave John R. Blue, of Romney, a Democrat, polled 1591, while Earl W. Loy, Augusta Republican, polled 1118.

In the Justice of Peace column, William B. Rannells, Republican, was unopposed by the Democrats and both Frank C. Knight, Democrat and Edwin Curtis Republican were elected constables, unopposed. Two were elected and only these two filed.

In the amendment question to raise salaries of legislators, Hampshire County agreed with most of her neighbors and defeated the amendment 622 to 492.

Mineral Co. Voters Split Their Ticket

Gives Pay Hike Amendment Approval

KEYSER, W. Va. — Mineral County, with 31 precincts and approximately 12,500 registered voters, split its loyalty between the Democrats and Republicans in yesterday's cold-weather voting.

The county went for Staggers, a Democrat, and Sweeney, a Republican.

FOR U. S. SENATE

Matthew M. Neely, Democrat	3729
Tom Sweeney, Republican	3843

FOR CONGRESS

Harley O. Staggers, Democrat	4384
Albert M. Morgan, Republican	3260

Fred Hamill, Republican	3910
F. G. Davis, Democrat	3670

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

J. William Marker, Democrat	3799

Staggers Leads Ticket In Big Hardy Co. Vote

Bad Road Conditions Hamper Some Returns

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Counting of ballots here late last night after a cold blustering election day, was completed in something near record time, but due to bad roads and icy conditions, two precincts did not get their returns to headquarters.

In the county's 16 precincts there are some 5,700 registered voters and it is estimated that over 50 per cent went to the polls.

Harley O. Staggers, of Keyser, W. Va., Democratic incumbent candidate for Congress led the entire ticket with 1,790 votes against only 781 for his GOP opponent Albert M. Morgan, in the 14 precincts reporting.

U S Senator, Matthew M. Neely of Fairmont, seeking re-election to his Democratic seat, easily carried the county with 1,663 votes against 862 for Tom Sweeney, his GOP opponent from Wheeling. This also was only 14 of 16 precincts.

The Republicans failed to challenge the county Democrats and Clarence E. Martin Jr., of Martinsburg is elected to the State Senate.

Carl S. Welton of Moorefield was unopposed for County Commissioner and James M. Miley of Moorefield was also unopposed for the House of Delegates.

In the highly debated legislative amendment to raise the salaries of legislators, Hardy County opposed the amendment by a vote of 906 for to 706 against.

SRC Will Check Business Location On Dingle Hill

The Maryland State Roads Commission will send one of its location engineers here this week to check on the effect a business being planned on Dingle Hill will have upon the future plans of the commission.

The location check will concern land which would be occupied by Michael Beerman, local businessman, who received city sanction last week to establish an office storeroom for the sale of used and new auto parts and facilities for preparing used car parts for sale.

It has been poinetd out that the location on the west side of McMullen Highway just within the city limits, may interfere with SRC plans for widening Route 220 and for the dual highway.

The area also is the site of a dual highway being planned between Cumberland and the Six Mile House and of its interchange with McMullen Highway.

Ryan Takes Early Lead In Allegany

Rep. Hyde Leading In Sixth District

Edward J. Ryan, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, continued to show strength in his home county, a Republican stronghold, with a sizeable lead over Republican Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde, seeking re-election early today as tabulation of ballots continued.

While the Frostburg and Cumberland attorney was out in front in Allegany County, all of his Democratic running mates appeared to be losing.

With slightly more than half of the precincts counted, 56 out of 91, Ryan had pulled ahead in this county by 1,736 votes, with 6,967 votes to 5,231 for Hyde.

However on the basis of district-wide incomplete totals, with only a few precincts from both Frederick and Garrett counties, Hyde was slightly ahead, 50,369 to Ryan's 47,607.

McKeldin Gets Big Vote

Both Governor Theodore R. McKeldin and Attorney General Edward D. E. Rollins accumulated good leads as the early returns came in from scattered precincts among the county's 91 polling places.

Tabulation of the vote on nine amendments besides the totals for 32 candidates for state, district and county offices was a slow process.

Ryan showed surprising strength in the first scattered returns, carrying a number of Republican strongholds over the Bethesda attorney, who is seeking re-election to a second term in Congress. Out of the first 20 precincts to report, Ryan carried 15, many of them with Republican book majorities.

Several Write-Ins

A few voters took the liberty of writing in the names of opponents for a few of the unopposed candidates on the county level.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason got a write-in vote for State's Attorney in District 5, Precinct 5 on Bedford Street. James P. Creighton of Lonaconing got a courtesy vote in District 15, Precinct 2, Lonaconing, for judge of Orphans Court.

Lou Keyes received a write-in vote for state comptroller in District 9, A-J, in Barton. Albert Hutter got a vote for register of wills in District 4, Precinct 4 A-J, at Johnson Heights School.

There was one tie vote at the top of the ticket, in District 25 at Pekin, where both McKeldin and Byrd had 99 votes.

The totals, with 38 out of 91 precincts counted:

FOR GOVERNOR

Theodore R. McKeldin	4,611
Harry C. Byrd	4,149

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

Edward D. E. Rollins	4,419
C. Ferdinand Sybert	3,804

FOR CONGRESS

Edward J. Ryan	8,039
DeWitt S. Hyde	6,115

Farmers Ballot On ASC Leaders

About 100 of the 258 eligible farmers already have submitted t' ir ballots for the Allegany County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees in nine rural communities, according to Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, ASC clerk.

All ballots must be received by Miss Hoover by Friday morning at her office, 37 Washington Street. They will be counted that day.

Farmers in each of the nine communities are electing a community committee chairman, vice chairman, regular member, first and second alternates.

The nine community committee chairmen will meet at the ASC office Friday, November 12, to elect the county ASC committee.

Precinct Worker Seeks Out Voter In County Jail

An energetic precinct worker, hoping not to miss a single voter, telephoned the office of Sheriff Edward R. Muir seeking a man who had given his address as 57 Prospect Square when he registered.

Deputy William J. Chappell, who took the call, expressed his regrets that the man no longer was there. A homeless man who spends more time in the County Jail than anywhere else, the registrant had used Sheriff Muir's address as his own when he signed up to vote.

The man, sentenced in Trial Magistrate's Court as a habitual drunkard, has now "graduated" to the Maryland House of Correction.

Sharp Reduction In Forest Fires Noted In October

William H. Johnson, district forester, expressing pleasure that there were only two woodland fires during the past October as compared to 85 last year in the same month, said the outlook for combatting the dreaded forest menace is extremely good this year.

Fall, the season of the year when the leaves drop from the trees to cover the forest floor with a thick blanket, is the season of hazard for the timberlands.

Blazing forest fires, sparked by numerous causes, spread rapidly and violently if the woods are dry, leaving havoc in their wake.

In 1953 Allegany County experienced 29 fires which razed 23 acres of grass and woodland. Garrett County was the hardest hit last fall, suffering damage to 319 acres in 33 forest blazes.

Frederick and Washington counties, the remaining two counties in this district, had 11 and 12 fires respectively, bringing the total to 85 for the month of October when the woodlands went through one of the driest seasons on record. The fires burned over a total of 389 acres.

November of 1953 also was a bad month with 18 fires in the district, Johnson said. However, with heavy rains during the past month and added caution of hunters and campers in the woods, the forest fire total this fall fell off sharply, he added.

The only two fires reported this year in the four-county district were both located in Frederick County and combined burned less than an acre of ground.

Johnson said the leaf fall in the woods is late this season and that the forest floor is moist. Unless there is an extremely dry wind and lack of rainfall the remainder of this month, he continued, the possibilities of fires in the district are comparatively low.

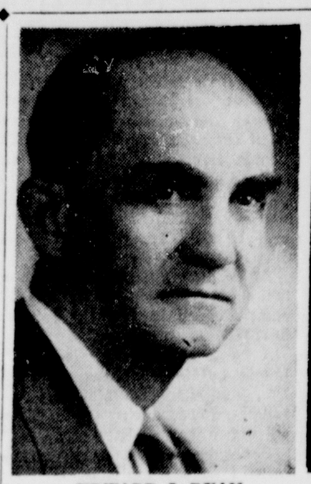

The district forester also pointed that the building of warming fires by hunters or others in the woodlands, except in emergencies, is probibited without the consent of the landowner. The building of fires in state forests is not allowed either, he said, without a permit from the superintendent of the forest.

Johnson then noted that three permits have been given to hunting groups to camp in Green Ridge State Forest during the current bow and arrow deer season. These permits allow fires only during certain periods of time and in specified places.

It helps forest rangers and observers in fire towers who locate smoke in the woodlands to know whether it might be an uncontrolled blaze or if it is a campfire permitted by license, Johnson stated.

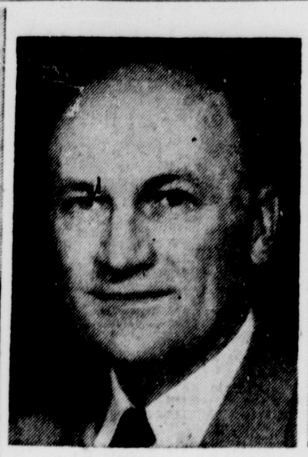

The forest commission is currently building toilet, washing and camping facilities for hunters and campers in Swallow Falls State Forest. The camp site is expected to be completed by spring.

Balloting for or against the nine proposed changes in the Constitution was very light compared to the heavier vote which was cast in the races for state, county and Congressional offices. Fewer than 25 per cent of the ballots cast had the amendments marked.

However, county voters did follow the trend in the state by approving all but one of the changes while the overall picture indicated approval of the entire slate in Maryland.

Closest battle in Allegany County on the basis of returns in 22 precincts was the proposed raise in salary for the governor which hiked his stipened from $4,500 annually to $15,000. Voters for the raise carried a slim margin of four ballots, 666 to 662. The raise appeared to be approved throughout the state also.

Chief among the proposals for change was the "home rule" amendment, No. 5 on the ballot. Here in Allegany County approval of the change which gave municipal corporations the right to amend their charters on matters relating to the corporations, organization and government of towns and cities was apparently on its way to victory with a 662 to 336 margin.

Statewide the amendment on home rule was winning by an 85,760 count to 19,769.

Alleganians were primarily interested, too, in the first amendment, which would assign a circuit judge to every county except on the Eastern Shore. Allegany County presently has two associate judges in the fourth judicial circuit. The new amendment would take one of those judgeships away from the county in the event one retires or dies, as he would not be replaced.

The Allegany County Bar Association went on record as opposing the amendment on that basis. Returns from the first 22 precincts indicated county voters also felt the same way as the legislative change was the only one to be trailing at that point. The county vote was 591 for and 688 against the amendment.

Statewide, the amendment was carrying 56,652 to 46,453 in 560 of 1,345 precincts. Under the new arrangement each county would elect its own judge.

Separate amendments which add resident judges to Baltimore and Montgomery counties were ahead in Allegany County as well as the remainder of the state, as was the amendment to extend absentee vot-

More Snow Is Forecast For District

Continued cold weather and more snow flurries were promised last night and today as Ol' Man Weather let loose with the first real taste of chilly temperatures.

Heavy flurries fell yesterday and sections of the main highways of the district were slippery due to the wet snow which fell.

East of here at Harpers Ferry, W. Va., on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad light snow was falling with the thermometer hovering around freezing. The mercury registered 30 degrees in the vicinity of Terra Alta and Blazer, with cloudy skies.

The mercury plunged farther along points of the Western Maryland Railway. Thomas had a temperature of 25 degrees about 9 p. m. yesterday and at Deal, Pa., some three inches had fallen in the current cold snap and the temperature there was 26 degrees with cloudy skies.

Elkins reported a temperature reading of 28 degrees and cloudy. Here in Cumberland the weather was not quite as cold last night and at 9 p. m. the unofficial reading was 40 degrees.

State Police at LaVale yesterday evening reported roads as being clear although some fog was noted east of here on Route 40. Monday night snow fell on the highway in the Grantsville area but were ashed by the State Roads Commission.

Yesterday evening snow had stopped falling in that section. Route 50 east and west of Romney, W. Va. was reported slippery in spots.

At Oakland, according to the Sheriff's Office, about an inch of snow had fallen but roads were clear.

The official high here yesterday was 36 degrees with a low of 30 degrees at 6 p. m. Some snow flurries fell, but were not measurable. Some .19 inches of rain fell here yesterday.

Democrats Lead In Early Returns From Hampshire

Neely, Staggers Both Gain Margins

ROMNEY, W. Va.—This predominately Democratic stronghold remained in the Democratic column in yesterday's balloting, but the comparative registered vote indicates that the Republican sentiment and party organization was fighting all the way.

The Democratic registration in Hampshire County is 5915 and the Republican voters by comparison number only 1973. Yet despite this David and Goliath situation, the Republican candidates made a better than excellent showing.

In a county where the Democrats could have piled up a majority of 4,000 votes for their candidates, they managed to stay in the Democratic column by scant hundreds.

The unofficial returns from 20 of 28 precincts show Matthew M. Neely, Democratic candidate for US Senate polling 1692 against his GOP opponent Tom Sweeney's 1024.

Harley O. Staggers, Democrat for Congress polled 1850, against Albert M. Morgan's 892.

Clarence E. Martin, Jr., candidate for State Senator on the Democratic ticket polled 1824. He was unopposed.

For the House of Delegates, 20 precincts gave John R. Blue, of Romney, a Democrat, polled 1591, while Earl W. Loy, Augusta Republican, polled 1118.

In the Justice of Peace column, William B. Rannells, Republican, was unopposed by the Democrats and both Frank C. Knight, Democrat and Edwin Curtis Republican were elected constables, unopposed. Two were elected and only these two filed.

In the amendment question to raise salaries of legislators, Hampshire County agreed with most of her neighbors and defeated the amendment 622 to 492.

Staggers Leads Ticket In Big Hardy Co. Vote

Bad Road Conditions Hamper Some Returns

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Counting of ballots here late last night after a cold blustering election day, was completed in something near record time, but due to bad roads and icy conditions, two precincts did not get their returns to headquarters.

In the county's 16 precincts there are some 5,700 registered voters and it is estimated that over 50 per cent went to the polls.

Harley O. Staggers, of Keyser, W. Va., Democratic incumbent candidate for Congress led the entire ticket with 1,790 votes against only 781 for his GOP opponent Albert M. Morgan, in the 14 precincts reporting.

U S Senator, Matthew M. Neely of Fairmont, seeking re-election to his Democratic seat, easily carried the county with 1,663 votes against 862 for Tom Sweeney, his GOP opponent from Wheeling. This also was only 14 of 16 precincts.

The Republicans failed to challenge the county Democrats and Clarence E. Martin Jr., of Martinsburg is elected to the State Senate.

Carl S. Welton of Moorefield was unopposed for County Commissioner and James M. Miley of Moorefield was also unopposed for the House of Delegates.

In the highly debated legislative amendment to raise the salaries of legislators, Hardy County opposed the amendment by a vote of 906 for to 706 against.

SRC Will Check Business Location On Dingle Hill

The Maryland State Roads Commission will send one of its location engineers here this week to check on the effect a business being planned on Dingle Hill will have upon the future plans of the commission.

The location check will concern land which would be occupied by Michael Beerman, local businessman, who received city sanction last week to establish an office storeroom for the sale of used and new auto parts and facilities for preparing used car parts for sale.

It has been poinetd out that the location on the west side of McMullen Highway just within the city limits, may interfere with SRC plans for widening Route 220 and for the dual highway.

The area also is the site of a dual highway being planned between Cumberland and the Six Mile House and of its interchange with McMullen Highway.

Sharp Reduction In Forest Fires Noted In October

William H. Johnson, district forester, expressing pleasure that there were only two woodland fires during the past October as compared to 85 last year in the same month, said the outlook for combatting the dreaded forest menace is extremely good this year.

Fall, the season of the year when the leaves drop from the trees to cover the forest floor with a thick blanket, is the season of hazard for the timberlands.

Blazing forest fires, sparked by numerous causes, spread rapidly and violently if the woods are dry, leaving havoc in their wake.

In 1953 Allegany County experienced 29 fires which razed 23 acres of grass and woodland. Garrett County was the hardest hit last fall, suffering damage to 319 acres in 33 forest blazes.

Frederick and Washington counties, the remaining two counties in this district, had 11 and 12 fires respectively, bringing the total to 85 for the month of October when the woodlands went through one of the driest seasons on record. The fires burned over a total of 389 acres.

November of 1953 also was a bad month with 18 fires in the district, Johnson said. However, with heavy rains during the past month and added caution of hunters and campers in the woods, the forest fire total this fall fell off sharply, he added.

The only two fires reported this year in the four-county district were both located in Frederick County and combined burned less than an acre of ground.

Johnson said the leaf fall in the woods is late this season and that the forest floor is moist. Unless there is an extremely dry wind and lack of rainfall the remainder of this month, he continued, the possibilities of fires in the district are comparatively low.

The district forester also pointed that the building of warming fires by hunters or others in the woodlands, except in emergencies, is prohibited without the consent of the landowner. The building of fires in state forests is not allowed either, he said, without a permit from the superintendent of the forest.

Johnson then noted that three permits have been given to hunting groups to camp in Green Ridge State Forest during the current bow and arrow deer season. These permits allow fires only during certain periods of time and in specified places.

It helps forest rangers and observers in fire towers who locate smoke in the woodlands to know whether it might be an uncontrolled blaze or if it is a campfire permitted by license, Johnson stated.

The forest commission is currently building toilet, washing and camping facilities for hunters and campers in Swallow Falls State Forest. The camp site is expected to be completed by spring.

Ryan Takes Early Lead In Allegany

Edward J. Ryan, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, continued to show strength in his home county, a Republican stronghold, with a sizeable lead over Republican Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde, seeking re-election early today as tabulation of ballots continued.

While the Frostburg and Cumberland attorney was out in front in Allegany County, all of his Democratic running mates appeared to be losing.

With slightly more than half of the precincts counted, 56 out of 91, Ryan had pulled ahead in this county by 1,736 votes, with 6,967 votes to 5,231 for Hyde.

However on the basis of district-wide incomplete totals, with only a few precincts from both Frederick and Garrett counties, Hyde was slightly ahead, 50,369 to Ryan's 47,607.

McKeldin Gets Big Vote

Both Governor Theodore R. McKeldin and Attorney General Edward D. E. Rollins accumulated good leads as the early returns came in from scattered precincts among the county's 91 polling places.

Tabulation of the vote on nine amendments besides the totals for 32 candidates for state, district and county offices was a slow process.

Ryan showed surprising strength in the first scattered returns, carrying a number of Republican strongholds over the Bethesda attorney, who is seeking re-election to a second term in Congress. Out of the first 20 precincts to report, Ryan carried 15, many of them with Republican book majorities.

Several Write-Ins

A few voters took the liberty of writing in the names of opponents for a few of the unopposed candidates on the county level.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason got a write-in vote for State's Attorney in District 5, Precinct 5 on Bedford Street. James P. Creighton of Lonaconing got a courtesy vote in District 15, Precinct 2, Lonaconing, for judge of Orphans Court.

Lou Keyes received a write-in vote for state comptroller in District 9, A-J, in Barton. Albert Hutter got a vote for register of wills in District 4, Precinct 4 A-J, at Johnson Heights School.

There was one tie vote at the top of the ticket, in District 25 at Pekin, where both McKeldin and Byrd had 99 votes.

The totals, with 38 out of 91 precincts counted:

FOR GOVERNOR

Theodore R. McKeldin	4,611
Harry C. Byrd	4,149

Edward D. E. Rollins	4,419
C. Ferdinand Sybert	3,804

FOR CONGRESS

Edward J. Ryan	8,039
DeWitt S. Hyde	6,115

FOR COMPTROLLER

J. Millard Tawes	4,734

The nine community committee chairmen will meet at the ASC office Friday, November 12, to elect the county ASC committee.

Precinct Worker Seeks Out Voter In County Jail

An energetic precinct worker, hoping not to miss a single voter, telephoned the office of Sheriff Edward R. Muir seeking a man who had given his address as 57 Prospect Square when he registered.

Deputy William J. Chappell, who took the call, expressed his regrets that the man no longer was there. A homeless man who spends more time in the County Jail than anywhere else, the registrant had used Sheriff Muir's address as his own when he signed up to vote.

The man, sentenced in Trial Magistrate's Court as a habitual drunkard, has now "graduated" to the Maryland House of Correction.
